SAILOR GREAT SWIMMER.

NEW YORK, July 12.—Among a host of strange tales related by officers of the steamship Shimosa, which arrived from Japan and China, was one reported having run over a sailor a few miles outside Sandy Hook. One to the effect that while the liner was speeding through the Lascar sailor was picked up by a fellow countryman. The heathen declared he had been swimming three days and nights, having fallen overboard from the liner bound for Antwerp. Capt. Champlin is certain that the man was at least thirty-six hours in the water before the Shimosa picked him up.

The terms of the agreement are identical with those recently concluded with Italy, France and Spain.

BRYAN SELLS OUT AT LAST.

His Desire to Handle Democratic Campaign Funds Has Led Him to Get Under Parker's "Soiled Banner" in Spite of "Wall Street" and "Gold."

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SCORNED THE GOLD DEMOCRATS.

"BRYAN descended to the most commonplace vituperation, and scolded like a fishmonger. He skewered every Democrat who failed to agree with him in his financial policy. He held up gold Democrats to infinite scorn, and said that it were a disgrace for loyal men to walk between the soiled banners of them. So raved the man on for many minutes, and it was then that the passionless observer found heart to pity him. In every fierce invective that fell from his lips, in every terrible outburst of denunciation, in every word that sprang from his inflamed soul, one could hear the moan of a tortured heart, the protest against fate, the black despair of an ambition unattained."—[John S. McGroarty in his special dispatch to The Times from the St. Louis convention, July 7.

"I SHALL VOTE FOR PARKER."

LINCOLN (Neb.) July 12.—William J. Bryan today gave out the following statement:

"I shall vote for Parker and Davis, the nominees of the Democratic National Convention, and shall do so for the following reasons:

HIS NEW "PARAMOUNT ISSUE."

"First—Because the Democratic ticket stands for opposition to imperialism, while the Republican ticket stands for an imperialistic policy. On this question, which was the paramount issue in 1900, and which must remain an important issue so long as an attempt is made to hold colonies under the American flag—on this issue the convention was unanimous, the platform emphatic, and I [illegible]

"Second—Mr. Roosevelt is injecting the race issue into American politics, and this issue, if it becomes national, will make it impossible to consider questions that demand solution. The election of the Democratic ticket will put a quietus on this subject.

"WINDY BILL" WANTS PEACE.

"Third—Mr. Roosevelt stands for the spirit of war. His friends present him as a man of blood and iron. He believes in strenuousness, and inculcates a love for warlike things. The Democratic ticket stands for peace, for reason and for arbitration, rather than for force, conquest and bluster.

DOWN WITH THE ARMY.

"Fourth—The Democratic platform declares in favor of the reduction of the standing army, and as this plank was unanimously adopted, there is reason to believe that a Democratic statement on this subject would bring some advantage to the people.

HE'LL WAIT ON WALL STREET.

"For these reasons I feel justified in supporting the ticket. A Democratic victory will mean very little, if any, progress on the economic questions so long as the party is under the control of the Wall street element.

THIS DOESN'T DETER BILLY.

"On this question, Mr. Parker is as thoroughly committed to the side of the financier as Mr. Roosevelt. If he does not go as far as the Republicans would in retiring silver dollars, in establishing branch banks, in enlarging the powers of the national banks and in the substitution of an asset currency for the present currency it will be because he will be restrained by the Democrats in the House and Senate. Nothing greater can be expected from him on the money question.

BILLY SWALLOWS THE TRUSTS.

"On the trust question, the Democratic platform is much better than the Republican platform, but the nomination of Judge Parker virtually nullifies the anti-trust plank. Unless, in his letter of acceptance, he commits himself to anti-trust legislation, we need not expect him to pursue a different course from that pursued by President Roosevelt.

TELLS LABOR TO WAIT.

"So far as the labor questions are concerned, we must await Judge Parker's letter before we shall know whether the laboring man has anything to expect from his election.

"The labor plank as prepared by Judge Parker's friends on the subcommittee was a straddling, meaningless plank.

"On the tariff question, some little progress may be hoped for, but the Parker men on the committee were nearly all in favor of a very conservative plank, and it remains to be seen whether Judge Parker will carry out the definite plank which was substituted by the full committee.

WALL STREET'S TRIUMPH.

"Judge Parker stands for enough things that are good to justify me in giving him my vote, but, as I have tried to point out for several months, the triumph of the Wall-street element of the party denies to the country any hope of relief on economic questions.

PARKER BUNCOED 'EM.

"I have nothing to take back. I have nothing to withdraw of things that I have said against the methods pursued to advance his candidacy. It was a plain and deliberate attempt to deceive the party. The New York platform was vague and meaningless, and purposely so, because the advocates of Judge Parker were trying to secure votes from among the people who would have opposed his views had they known them. If he had sent to the Albany convention the telegram that he sent to the St. Louis convention, he would have had very few instructed delegates from the South and no possible chance for the nomination. But he and his managers adroitly and purposely concealed his position until the delegates had been corraled. Then his friends attempted to secure a gold plank, which was overwhelmingly defeated in the committee.

"CROOKED AND INDEFENSIBLE."

"After the party had rejoiced over the harmony secured by the omission of the question, and after he had secured the nomination, he injected his views on the subject at a time when he could not be taken from the ticket without demoralization. The nomination was secured, therefore, by crooked and indefensible methods; but the Democrat who loves his country has to make his decisions upon conditions as he finds them, not upon conditions as he would like to have them.

ADMITS HE'S PLOTTING.

"After having stated that I shall support the ticket, and after having given my reason for so doing, I think it due to the Democrats of the nation to say that while the fight on the economic questions is postponed, it is not [illegible] [illegible] organize before the campaign of 1908, the object being to marshal the friends of popular government within the Democratic party to the support of a radical and progressive policy; to make the Democratic party an efficient means in the hands of the people for securing relief from the element that controls the Republican party and, for the time being, is in control of the Democratic party. This plan of organization will be elaborated soon."

OPINION IN NEBRASKA.

"BOLSTERING HIS FORTUNES."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OMAHA (Neb.) July 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A dispatch from Lincoln, Neb., says that William J. Bryan has declared his intention of supporting Parker. It is said in political circles here that he will take advantage of his opportunity to bolster up his fortunes in those silver States where his influence has waned.

Bryan will probably make a number of speeches throughout the country, but more especially in those States where he was formerly strongest, and while putting in a good word for the Democratic nominees, he will strengthen and repair his own fences as well.

WHAT IS SIZE OF THE SACK?

"PEERLESS NEBRASKA LEADER" A CHEAP-MONEY MAN.

Bryan's Flop to the Man Whom He Denounced as the "Creature of the Trusts" Brings Him the Scorn of Even the Trust Organs—He Hopes to See Parker Beaten.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] What must be the size of the Democratic campaign fund which is sufficient to blind the eyes of the "peerless Nebraska leader," who, less than a month ago, in the presence of the greatest political audience ever gathered in New York city, declared passionately against the assumption of the Gold Democrats that they would control the St. Louis convention, and who, in the next breath, bitterly denounced Parker as the candidate of the trusts, who dared not speak his views except on the signal from Dave Hill and August Belmont, the political emissaries of Wall street?

TRUST ORGANS SCORE HIM.

[illegible] comment not to be believed. It is now said that Bryan is only awaiting the signal from Hearst to make the pilgrimage, and personally declare his allegiance to the man whom he has bitterly denounced as the "creature of the trusts." Nothing has occurred to change the general opinion which coincides with Bryan's view of Judge Parker, August Belmont has been advised by both the World and Hearst's American and Journal to his himself to the background if he would deceive the public into believing that Parker was other than William Jennings Bryan declared him to be.

BELMONT'S BOODLE HUNT.

But Belmont, while apparently abandoning his original bold idea of presiding over the Democratic National Committee, is still at the helm, and it is his power and influence that is to draw millions from New York traction companies and the sordid interests for the overthrow of Roosevelt, if such thing be possible.

In the speech at Cooper Union, Bry-

ILLINOIS HOWLING FOR PARKER MONEY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, July 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Illinois Democrats are becoming alarmed that the National Democratic Committee may not set aside much money for campaign purposes in this State. For eight years the Illinois leaders have been "scrimping" along on barely enough funds to buy postage stamps.

"EASY MONEY" CANDIDATES.

The nomination of Judge Parker by influences supposed to control much wealth, and the subsequent selection of a candidate for Vice-President possessing millions in his own right, spoke eloquently of "easy money" in plenty.

Then came word that the main fight would be in the East, and these fond expectations began to dwindle. It is even said that Illinois is given up to the Republicans, and the State leaders are in the dumps. What they desire is a goodly portion of the barrel which is to be tapped for the Parker-Davis ticket, and the prospect is they will have to make a strong bid to get it.

BRYANITES AGAINST HOPKINS.

In order to attract attention to Illinois, alarming reports will be made to the National Committee that several strong Democratic districts down in the State are in danger. And this is true. Southern Illinois Democrats who were at the St. Louis convention made no bones of saying that the revolt against the Hopkins State convention is so deep-seated that the rank and file of the party will defeat the Congressional candidates, simply to manifest their disapproval of such methods.

The result is that Congressman Caldwell is likely to be defeated in the Springfield district, although it is 1700 Democratic, and Dr. Foster is likely to bite the dust in the Twenty-third District, where the Democratic majority runs close to five thousand. The Rainey district has 7300 Democratic majority. It is the home of M. F. Dunlap and Judge O. F. Thompson, the Hearst leaders, and they would like to see Rainey reelected, but above all they are keen to rebuke the Hopkins organization.

THE GREAT WAR.

THOUSANDS OF JAPS REPORTED BLOWN UP.

Mukden Correspondent Wires Gory Port Arthur Tale to St. Petersburg.

Land Mines Were Exploded Sunday and Total Casualties Given as Thirty Thousand—Fort No. Fourteen Captured—Togo Attacks Diana—Armies Drawn up, Ready for Death Grapple.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, July 12.—[By Atlantic Cable.] A dispatch from a Russian correspondent at Mukden, dated July 12, says:

"According to intelligence received here, the Japanese last night attacked positions near Port Arthur and were repulsed with enormous losses, caused by Russian mines. Not less than 30,000, it is said, were killed or wounded by our mines."

NO DISASTER MENTIONED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, July 13.—The Morning Post's Shanghai correspondent says, that the Japanese casualties by land mines at Port Arthur Sunday night are reported to have been 28,000, but none of the many special war dispatches mentions a Japanese disaster at Port Arthur.

GENERAL STAFF UNINFORMED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, July 13, 7:36 a. m.—The General Staff has received no information regarding the reported attack on positions near Port Arthur and the loss of 30,000 Japanese killed or wounded by Russian mines.

PORT NO. 14 CAPTURED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHEFOO, July 12, noon.—A Frenchman who arrived here on a junk from Port Arthur this morning reports that July 7 the Japanese captured Fort No. 14.

ATTACKED THE DIANA.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

TOKIO, July 12, noon.—Admiral Togo reports that at midnight July 11 torpedo boats approached the boom which blocks the entrance to Port Arthur harbor and attacked the guardship Diana with torpedoes. The result has not been ascertained. The Japanese boats returned undamaged.

TWO TERRIFIC EXPLOSIONS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHEFOO, July 12, 1 p.m.—It is reported that five Russian cruisers and several torpedo boats left Port Arthur at 8 o'clock Saturday morning last and shelled the enemy's positions on the east coast, returning undamaged at 6 o'clock in the evening. It is believed they encountered Admiral Togo's ships and were forced to return.

A junk which arrived here this morning reports hearing two terrific explosions at Port Arthur yesterday.

MUST EVACUATE NEWCHWANG.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, July 12, 1 p.m.—Col. Nevitsky of the General Staff, gave out an interview today and says:

"The result of the loss of Kaichou will probably be the evacuation of Newchwang.

"Gen. Kuropatkin's position is more difficult than that which confronted Lord Roberts in South Africa. It is as if Lord Roberts received his supplies by rail via Constantinople, Cairo and Central Africa. It will be a long time before Gen. Kouropatkin will have enough supplies and men to assume the offensive. In the meanwhile, he will have to fight rear guard actions, perhaps giving up important positions, like Newchwang."

READY FOR DEATH GRAPPLE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

HEADQUARTERS OF GENERAL COUNT KELLER, NIUT KIAY, ELEVEN MILES WEST OF LIAN DIAN SIAN, June 12.—The opposing armies are grimly facing Naiot Heights, across the Liank River, ready to engage in a death grapple.

The Liank crosses the main Liao Yang-Feng Wan Cheng road twenty-eight miles east of Liao Yang. The stream flows north into the Tai Tse River, which passes through Liao Yang and empties into the Liao River.

LONG LINES OF INFANTRY.

The correspondent of the Associated Press, who arrived here after a thirty-five-mile ride from Siao Lindji, saw long lines of infantry and transport trains winding up the rouge mountains. At the Lian Dian Sian, a lookout, stationed in a treetop, pointed out the way to Gen. Keller's headquarters, near Niut Kiay. There the Russian eastern army was found, hidden in the hills.

In a plain tent the correspondent saw Gen. Keller, living like a simple soldier, his staff being quartered in a native hut near by. The general looked cheerful and was bronzed by exposure. He talked of the engagement at Hoiyan.

Around the general's tent were many officers of the guard, the pride of St Petersburg. To see them as weatherbeaten as the Cossack officers one could scarcely believe them to be the dashing guardsmen of the Russian capital. They have become hardened fighters, for hardly a day passes without collisions between the advance posts of the Eastern army and the Japanese.

WHO WILL CROSS FIRST?

The whole army is anxious to fight Gen. Kuroki, whose army is at Vandipudze, and whose men are intrenched on the other side of the river. The burning question is, who will be the first to cross the broad valley of the Liank River?

SHROUDED IN MYSTERY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, July 13, 3:14 a. m.—The Japanese advance to Ta Tche Kiao is shrouded in mystery. No telegrams have been received by the General Staff or the Admiralty since Lieut.-Gen. Sakharoff's dispatch of July 10, with the exception of a report from Gen. Kouropatkin covering the events detailed by Gen. Sakharoff, which was delayed because it had followed the Emperor on his journey to the Volga region.

The lack of news from Ta Tche Kiao is not causing anxiety.

SERIES OF SMALL BATTLES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

TOKIO, July 12, 8 p.m.—The Japanese Takushan army is moving northwest from Siu Yen. It fought a series of small battles with the Russians on July 9 and 10. The army is divided into two columns, which advanced against the Russians. When the first column approached Chie Kuan Ching the Russians retreated southwest through the valley, but at five o'clock in the evening they took up a position on the heights west of Chou Chia Chang.

The Russians were dislodged at dusk, when the second Japanese column advanced along the road toward Tong Chia, repulsing small bodies of the enemy en route. They attacked the advance line of the Russians near Siu Yang Laku. The Russians were reinforced and compelled the Japanese to withdraw.

DISLODGED THE RUSSIANS.

At dawn July 10 both columns attacked and dislodged the Russians from the heights west of Sin Chia Ku. The Japanese pursued them and again attacked a strong position held by the Russians at Siutehikou. After a desperate fight the Japanese occupied the position. After occupying Kaichou, Gen. Oku's army on Sunday moved northward.

The Russians have strong defences at Tapingshan, Nieusenihan, Nangmatal, Chinghishan and camps near Kuo Chiapso. Gen. Oku probably will attack these positions as soon as his troops are restored.

In the fights of July 8 and 9 the Japanese lost about 150 men. The Russian losses are believed to have been heavier.

WHEN JAPS ENTER YINKOW.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, July 12.—As soon as the Japanese troops enter Yinkow and succeed in removing the mines from the mouth of the Liao River, the Japanese gunboats lying along the coast will come up, but it is not believed that the Japanese will venture to land a force or send war materials so long as the Port Arthur squadron is able to go out.

There is some anxiety here regarding a report that the cruiser Askold has been damaged, and it is noticed that she was not mentioned in the list of warships constituting the squadron on its last appearance.

RUSSIANS BUILDING FORT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SEOUL (Korea) July 12, 4 p.m.—Japanese scouts, who have arrived at Gensan, report that the Russians are constructing a permanent fort near Kyong-Heung, situated in northeastern Korea near the mouth of the Tuman River.

The Russian garrison at Hun-Chun has been reduced to one battalion, the remainder of the garrison having been concentrated at Possiet Bay. The Japanese scouts report that they found the Tuman River closely guarded. A number of Japanese who took refuge at Gensan some months ago intend coming, it is reported, to Seoul as the recent visit of the Russian Vladivostok squadron has impressed them with the belief that Gensan is an unsafe location.

CAPTURE TA TCHE KIAO FIRST.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, July 12.—It has been intimated to the Associated Press correspondent by the General Staff that it is probable that the Japanese will not attempt to take Yinkow before they capture Ta Tche Kiao, as otherwise they would be liable to an unexpected attack from the Ta Tche Kiao force, which is within easy striking distance, thanks to the railroad. The Japanese advance north will perhaps be delayed for some days until the southeastern columns, converging at Sian Dian, compel Maj.-Gen. Mistchenko to draw off, leaving the Siuyen road clear to Tanchie and Ta Tche Kiao.

THANKFUL FOR SMALL THINGS.

The evening editions of the St. Petersburg newspapers prominently published the telegram from Tokio reporting another appearance of the Port Arthur squadron on the morning of July 9, and this gladdened the hearts of the holiday crowd. The Japanese account of the fighting at Kia Chou is offset by the admission that they are being greatly worried by Gen. Rennenkampff's Cossacks.

NITER FOR JAPANESE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

HONOLULU, July 12.—The British steamer St. Hubert, which left here on July 1, put back into port on the following day owing to a difficulty with her crew. The vessel is from Iquiqui, with a cargo of niter, consigned to the Japanese government at Yokohama, and the crew were of the opinion that it was for the manufacture of powder and was therefore contraband of war. They declared that if they were to be employed in carrying contraband of war, they were entitled to the customary bonus. The matter was submitted to the British consul here. It was shown that the niter was for fertilizing purposes and the men returned to work.

HOLIDAY AT ST. PETERSBURG.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, July 12, 1:05 p. m.—This is the festival of St. Peter and St. Paul, one of the greatest holidays of the year. All business is suspended, and the government departments are closed.

The papers here are again exploiting the prospects of an Anglo-Russian understanding, the Novosti, declaring that the idea is no longer Utopian, but holds out advantages to both countries, which are recognized more and more every day, a remarkable feature being that the war, which one would think would have driven them apart, is really drawing them together.

WITTE'S LATEST LOAN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BERLIN, July 12.—All the speculation in the domestic and foreign press regarding the assumed plans of M. Witte, president of the Council of Ministers, to negotiate a Russian loan during his present visit to Berlin, has been shown to be incorrect by the announcement here today that the loan was arranged prior to M. Witte's departure from St. Petersburg. It appears that representatives of two Berlin banks which hitherto have acted as Russia's agents went to St. Petersburg three weeks ago and signed a contract for a loan, which the Berlin Neuste Nachrichten says amounts to $62,500,000, bearing 5 per cent. interest. How soon the subscription will occur is not yet known.

DIPLOMATIC RUMOR NAILED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ROME, July 12.—At the Japanese legation it was learned today that there is no truth in report published in the United States that Japan had protested to Italy against the transferring of Signor Melegari, the Italian Minister at Tokio, to St. Petersburg, owing to his pro-Russian attitude. On the contrary, the Italian government consulted on the subject with the government at Tokio, which replied that it had no objection to the transfer of Signor Melegari to Russia. The Japanese legation officials here answered that there was no truth in the further report that the Japanese Minister at Rome would be withdrawn.

BOARD BRITISH STEAMERS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PERIN (Straits of Bab El Mandeba) July 12.—The British steamer Menlas, from the Clyde for Shanghai, which arrived here tonight, reports that she and the British steamer Crewe Hall, from the Clyde for Kurrachee, was stopped June 11 in the Red Sea south of Jedda by the Russian volunteer fleet steamer St. Petersburg, which carried eight guns and a large crew. Both steamers were boarded and all their papers and manifests overhauled. The vessels were detained four hours, after which the St. Petersburg steamed off to the northward.

ELKINS WON'T VOTE FOR HIS PA-IN-LAW.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WHEELING (W. Va.) July 12.—United States Senator Stephen B. Elkins, in his speech as temporary chairman of the Republican State Convention, which met here today, said:

"The Democratic party, in its desire to capture the State, has nominated for Vice-President one of our most distinguished citizens and the foremost Democrat in this State, but in this, as in most everything else, the Democrats made a mistake. Senator Davis, to whom I am so nearly related and for whom I cherish feelings of the highest regard, admiration and affection, is a man of affairs and an experienced statesman, having served his State creditably in the Senate for twelve years. With these qualifications and this fitness, he should have been named for the first place, instead of the man without a record and without business or political experience.

"West Virginia cannot be beguiled into giving up 'Protection' and 'Sound money' to make Judge Parker President, even if so doing they make Senator Davis Vice-President. I have not the slightest doubt of victory next November. There is no good reason why a Republican should change his vote on State and national politics, and no party and weight reasons why he should not.

CIVIL-WAR ISSUE.

"The Democracy of West Virginia advocates the astonishing proposition, should it come into power in the State, to disfranchise 15,000 loyal colored Republicans and rob them of the rights of citizenship guaranteed by the Constitution and for which many of them and their fathers fought in the war of the Union. Republicans must and will resist this proposition because it is not only wrong in itself, but unfair and unjust to a large body of law-abiding, worthy and industrious citizens.

"President Roosevelt has given the people a wise and pure administration, that commends itself to all our people. The President has so commended himself to the people that he has been renominated without opposition, and with him for Vice-President Charles Warren Fairbanks, one of our purest, ablest, most experienced and conservative statesmen. Under the leadership of these men, with the flag of Protection floating high over it, the Republican party will triumph. President Roosevelt already stands as one of the remarkable figures in our history. He walks hand in hand with Destiny, and at times seemingly compels it to do his bidding. The American people will not turn away from him to risk or follow one untried man on an ambiguous, evasive and un-American platform. The Democratic platform says: 'We denounce Protection as robbery of the many to enrich the few.'

"On the gold standard and sound money it is silent as the grave. Bryan prevailed, and sound money and the gold standard were crucified on a cross of silver."

DAWSON FOR GOVERNOR.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WHEELING (W. Va.) July 12.—At the close of the first day of the most turbulent political convention in the history of the State, following the bitterest fight the party has ever experienced, William Mercer Owens Dawson is the Republican nominee for Governor of West Virginia.

Claims of accessions from the ranks of the Dawson followers were made by the management of Charles Teter's candidacy, and determined the Dawson leaders to make a test of strength early in the day. It came when a motion to dispense with the Committee on Credentials, resisted stubbornly by the Teterites, was carried by more than one hundred majority. The Dawson people followed up their advantage and, despite scenes of the wildest disorder, during which Senator Elkins threatened to withdraw from his position of chairman, they forced a nomination before the platform was prepared. The Resolutions Committee will not meet until tomorrow morning, but the candidate is named. The remainder of the ticket will be chosen Wednesday, but the big fight is over.

The convention was called to order at 12:30 o'clock in the Wheeling Casino, four miles east of the city.

SOMETHING NEW IN SMUGGLING.

LABEL PASTED ON TRUNK PASSES IN WITHOUT QUESTION.

Two Employees of one of the Largest Trans-Atlantic Liners Arrested for Evading Paying Duty on Tobacco, and One of Them Gives the Scheme Away.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, July 12.—Behind the arrest of the wireless telegraph operator and a hospital steward employed on one of the largest trans-Atlantic liners, charged with smuggling Sumatra tobacco, the customs officials claim to have unearthed new and ingenious methods of smuggling diamonds, silks, tobacco and other merchandise paying a high duty.

Frauds on the government of enormous proportions are believed to have been perpetrated by this method. Its successful conduct required a combination of expressmen, steamship employés and possibly government officials. Its beneficiaries and possibly its promoters are believed to be merchants of this city, some of them men of wealth and prominence.

Smuggling in trunks, carried as passengers' baggage, upon which labels indicating that they had been properly examined and passed by the inspectors, were surreptitiously pasted, is the method. In addition to the persons mentioned, two others have been arrested and a large force of special Treasury agents is at work seeking other persons accused of participation in the frauds.

Trunks containing the merchandise which the conspirators arranged to smuggle into the United States are, under the scheme, said to have been in use marked with a private mark and placed with the hundreds of other trunks owned by passengers. On arrival at this port, the confederates of the smugglers on board the ship were in a position to reach the baggage and upon the trunks of the smugglers they pasted the special label, indicating that an inspector had examined the contents of the trunk and found nothing dutiable therein. When the customs officials came across a trunk with such a label on it they passed on. The trunk was then carried to the pier and passed into the hands of its owners.

THE LABEL THE SCHEME.

To get these labels was the first requisite in the successful prosecution of the new method. They may have been printed and placed in the hands of men who could affix them to the trunks or they may have been washed off trunks properly passed by expressmen who are employed to transport them from the piers.

In a single trunk passed by the duplicate label system a smuggler might bring into America enough diamonds to make him wealthy. How far the ramifications and the extent of this scheme has gone has not yet been determined.

The exposure was premature and was practically forced upon the customs men, who were working on and waiting for bigger game. They were compelled to take action through the wrong address placed upon a trunk, found later to contain leaf tobacco intended for a manufacturer of cigars in Brooklyn. The duty on the leaf, of which there was sixty-five pounds, is $4 per pound. Two other trunks which came by the same steamer were found to contain 187 pounds of Sumatra leaf. One of the prisoners is said to have revealed the secrets of the band.

WANTED RESIGNATIONS.

French Bishops Advised by Premier Combes to Pay no Attention to Demands of Cardinal.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PARIS, July 12.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Matin today says that eight days after the recall of M. Nisard, former French Ambassador at the Vatican, a number of French bishops received an order from Cardinal Vannutelli, acting for the Vatican, to tender their resignations by return mail. The bishops, it is added, consulted the Minister of Public Worship and Premier Combes, who directed them not to tender their resignations, on the ground that the Concordat required the assent of the State before removals were enforced.

Thereupon the Papal Secretary of State, Cardinal Merry Del Val, threatened the bishops with the termination of their episcopal powers unless they came to Rome within fifteen days. This also was submitted to M. Combes, who forbade the bishops leaving their posts. Bishop Laval of Dijon, two other bishops and three archbishops having republican sympathies were the ones designated.

The Matin further asserts that the dismissal of the bishops without consulting the government's wishes will be considered as formal renunciation of the relations between church and State.

CHARTREUSE INVESTIGATION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PARIS, July 12.—The Chamber of Deputies today held a tumultuous session over the report of the committee which has been investigating the Chartreuse congress. The report says that the charges of attempted bribery were not sustained and expressed regret that Premier Combes had made such charges. This declaration aroused violent opposition upon the part of the friends of the Premier, who brought forth a counter proposition declaring that the Premier and government was above all suspicion and denouncing the irregular calumniators.

Eventually, the chamber adopted by a large majority a resolution declaring that the Premier and government were above suspicion and unanimously adopted a clause of the resolution denouncing the calumniators. The effect of the votes is the rejection of the report of the Investigation Committee.

During the disorderly debate, M. de Baudry D'Ausson, Conservative, sought to place a mock crown of laurel upon M. Combes as the latter was withdrawing from the chamber.

The large Combes majority terminates the rumors that the investigation might lead to his retirement from the Premiership.

LIVES LOST IN CLOUDBURST.

Swept Away in Oregon Flood and Drowned.

Wall of Water Twenty Feet High Does Damage.

Supposed Derelict a Whale. Stocking Gems.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PORTLAND (Or.) July 12.—A special dispatch to the Telegram from Fossil in Wheeler county gives meager particulars of a cloudburst, accompanied by loss of life and great damage to property, which occurred near Fossil in Wheeler county, last night. Two lives were lost, Mrs. Bethune, a woman aged 30 years, and Martin Bethune, aged 31 years, being swept away in the flood and drowned. They were too old to assist themselves to places of safety. In all, twenty-three houses in Mitchell were destroyed and in addition several large barns, one containing thirty horses, were swept away.

From the brief dispatch received at Fossil over the telephone from Mitchell it is learned that a terrible rainstorm occurred in the mountains back of Mitchell yesterday evening, causing Bridge and Mill creeks to become full and overflowing the lowlands above Mitchell and the convergence of the rushing waters created a wall of water twenty feet high which came down toward the town in a mad career, destroying everything before it. Before its way through the residence portion of the town, it swept more than a score of houses from its path and passed on to the lowlands beyond, where, so far as known, all but two of the occupants escaped, but the future will show the loss of several lives. Fortunately, swept down on but one at a time when many of the people were in the business section, otherwise the loss of life would have been much greater. The property loss will be heavy.

Wheeler county is the center of a large cattle-range country. Mitchell has a population of about 250.

TERRIFIC RAINSTORM.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PORTLAND (Or.) July 12.—A big electrical storm accompanied by a terrific rainfall occurred last night. A great volume of rain commenced a little after 8 o'clock, and continued for an hour. People living on the flats of the city were moved to higher ground when at 9 o'clock a rush of water with a terrific roar came down the Willamette Cañon and in the darkness many people were alarmed, in some cases flood.

The actual damage was small in comparison, however, but there was considerable damage in the country, by the washing out of fields and the washing away of bridges, including the Willow Creek bridge.

EPPINGER TRIAL DELAYED.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—Jacob Eppinger is still in a serious condition and another adjournment of his trial for a day, or until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, was ordered today by Judge Lawlor, of the Supreme Court. Eppinger yesterday afternoon suffered another spasm of the heart, similar to that which caused his collapse in court yesterday.

By tomorrow the physicians think Eppinger will be in condition to resume his place at the trial, while his defense is being presented to the judge—a task they say will not take longer than two or three days.

GEMS IN HER STOCKINGS.
DIAMONDS WORTH $5000.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

STOCKTON, July 12.—Diamonds worth $5000 have been found upon the person of Martha Ellyson Sabin, arrested here yesterday with Henry J. Kendall, for a Chicago diamond robbery. The woman objected strenuously to being searched, but finally permitted the wife of Jailer Benjamin to search her.

Mrs. Benjamin found the gems in her stockings and corsage. There are four rings with diamond settings. One is worth $300, two are worth $200 each, and there is a small one valued at $100. There are also numerous brooches, pins and other jewelry with magnificent diamonds set in them. Experts pronounce them worth nearly $5000.

The jewels answered the description of some of those stolen in Chicago. Kendall is still in jail, being unable to secure $5000 bail, but the woman is out on $2500 cash bail. The two were held on a fugitive warrant. Today, however, Chief of Police Walker received a telegraphic warrant, and an officer is now on the way from Chicago.

TEMPORARY INSANITY.
WILL BE GOLDMAN'S DEFENSE.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—Temporary insanity will be the defense of Adolph Goldman, who shot ex-Mayor Snow of Oakland in the Clarendon Hotel in this city on the night of June 12.

Attorney Frank J. Murphy, counsel for the defendant, made this statement at the preliminary hearing in Judge Morgan's court today. He said that they would show that prior to the shooting Snow had obtained large sums of money from Goldman, and that failure to make restitution had so preyed upon the mind of the latter that he was not responsible for his actions at the time that he shot Snow.

EXODUS OF MORMONS.
TO SETTLE IN NEVADA.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RENO (Nev.) July 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Fifty Mormons, traveling overland by mule team and carrying all their earthly possessions, are now in Eureka county, headed from Utah to Churchill county to take up farms on the land now in course of reclamation by the government in that section of Nevada. They claim they are but the forerunners of others and that when they, the pioneers, become partially settled, hundreds of other families will follow them to the new country.

A month ago or more, the Mormons sent a representative to Fallon to investigate the conditions, and it is on his report that the exodus from Utah is now taking place.

TO INVESTIGATE WHEAT.
GROWING AND MARKETING.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—The State Board of Trade today decided to appoint a committee of five to confer with the manufacturers of flour and with the farmers of this State and with the Agricultural College of the University of California to investigate the growing and marketing of wheat in California.

It is stated by millers that it is now necessary to import wheat from South Dakota and from Kansas into California in large quantities to supply the necessary blend that is required to give the California milled flour sufficient gluten. The California wheat now runs too much to starch and too little to gluten for flour making.

WILL BE MUSTERED OUT.
GRASS VALLEY MILITIA.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

GRASS VALLEY, July 12.—A majority of the members of Co. I of this city declare they will not go to the annual encampment of the National Guard and two-thirds have voted to disband. As a result, the company will be mustered out. The sentiment here against the maintenance of a militia company has been accentuated by the recent operations of the military against the miners in Colorado, this city being a great mining center.

TROOPS SWAMP RAILROAD.
ENCAMPMENT DIFFICULTY.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—Adjt.-Gen. J. B. Lauck of the State National Guard was in conference today with Passenger Traffic Manager Fee, General Passenger Agent Goodman, Assistant General Passenger Agent Judah and Master of Transportation Richardson of the Southern Pacific Company regarding the handling of the State troops on the occasion of the coming maneuvers at Camp Atascadero.

It has suddenly developed that the railroad company will be unable to move the State troops about 2500 in all—at the time wanted, and, as a result, the adjutant-general of the State is confronted with the perplexing question as to how he will get his forces into camp on the date prescribed in the order issued by Gen. MacArthur.

After two hours' talk it was agreed to hold another conference tomorrow at army headquarters at which representatives of the regular army, the National Guard and the railroad company will be present. Gen. MacArthur has been advised by wire of the troubles here, and it is possible that he may, changing his orders, find a way out of the difficulty.

YOUNG LADIES' INSTITUTE.
SECOND DAY'S SESSION.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

VALLEJO, July 12.—The Grand Council of the Young Ladies' Institute began its second day's proceedings by the reading of telegrams of congratulation and good wishes, received from Laura J. Frakes, grand secretary of the Native Daughters of the Golden West; Eliza Keith, past grand president of the same order, and the Young Ladies' Institute of Alameda. It developed today that Miss May Stein, grand president, will not be a candidate for that office at this session.

The afternoon was largely devoted to the ritualistic work of the order; one of the most important questions to be considered is the proposed establishment of an eastern jurisdiction. At present the membership of the Y.L.I. is restricted to two States, Nevada and California. It is intended now to endeavor to make the institute a national organization.

Harvesting is being pushed on the uplands. It will commence in the lowlands within a few days. The wheat on the lowlands is very badly damaged by the flood, while that on the uplands is in fair shape. Unfavorable reports are received as to the condition of the corn crop.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

KANSAS CITY, July 12.—This year's recurrence of disastrous floods in the Kaw Valley has brought the two cities, Kansas City, Mo., and Kansas City, Kan., face to face with the vital importance of providing a practical plan for the betterment of the situation here.

The City Council of Kansas City, Mo., has passed a resolution providing that a joint conference of the officials of the two cities and the two States be held at once, with a view of providing laws which will protect those districts from the ravages of floods.

It is the sense of the resolution that the proposed laws should be broad enough to cover the issue and sale of bonds, if necessary, to secure the needed protection.

AGRICULTURE'S IMPORTANCE.

OVER THIRTY-NINE PER CENT. OF PEOPLE ENGAGE IN IT.

Striking Figures from the Census Bureau—Manufacturing and Mechanical Pursuits Rank Second and Trade and Transportation Third.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, July 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A statistical table issued by the Census Bureau today shows the distribution of the great army of American employés under many captains of industry producing those things which form so great a portion of American exports for foreign markets.

These figures prove that over 39 per cent. of the people of the United States employed in gainful occupations are following agricultural pursuits. More than one-half of the males in this class are farmers, planters and overseers, and about two-fifths are agricultural laborers. Agriculture takes the lead in five groups of occupations in every geographical district, with the exception of the North Atlantic, where two-fifths of the total male workers are engaged in manufacturing and mechanical pursuits.

The figures include only that portion of the United States located between Canada and Mexico, Alaska being excluded. In this territory, the total number of persons above the age of 10 years found employed in gainful occupations aggregated a fraction more than 29,000,000, which was 50.2 per cent. of the total population over 10 years of age, and nearly two-fifths of the entire population. In exact figures, the males and females thus employed are: Males, 23,753,83-; females, 5,319,397.

The percentage employed, divided according to five general groups is: Agriculture, 39.6 per cent.; manufacturing and mechanical pursuits, 24.3 per cent.; trade and transportation, 17.9 per cent.; domestic and personal service, 14.7 per cent.; professional service, 3.5 per cent.

Males engaged in mechanical and manufacturing pursuits are widely distributed in a number of occupation groups, of which miners and quarrymen and carpenters and joiners constitute one-fifth of the total.

Among the females the percentage engaged in professional service is greater than among men, the figures being, 5.1 per cent. This is due to the great number engaged in school teaching. A trifle less than 40 per cent. are engaged in domestic and personal service, and almost 25 per cent. in manufacturing and mechanical pursuits. More than one-fourth of those engaged in manufacturing occupations are dressmakers and one-fifth are textile operatives.

The President bases his claim on the allegation that the company gave material aid to the late revolutionary movement, and especially to Gen. Matos, whereby the Castro government was put to the necessity of expending the sum of money named to suppress the rebellion.

Since then no further appointments have been made, and the whole matter in consequence is being held in abeyance.

Two cruisers are in readiness to proceed to Morocco, if tribal disturbances near Tangier threaten to interfere with the execution of these plans. ANGLESEY'S TREASURES.

Castle of Extravagant Marquis Slowly Giving up its Secrets of Jewels and Art.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, July 12.—Anglesey Castle is slowly giving up its secrets, says a Herald dispatch from London. The catalogue of its contents when published will form one of the most remarkable documents ever issued from the printing press.

Fictitious stories arising out of local gossip which fixed the value of the jewels and other treasures found in the castle at a million pounds sterling may be dismissed, but the facts are in themselves sufficiently extraordinary. The living rooms in Anglesey Castle are furnished in a manner that is magnificently extravagant.

According to the latest computations, the jewels discovered are expected to realize at auction from $100,000 to $150,000. The original cost was probably double, but owing to the fantastic settings, their value is considerably reduced.

The approximate value of the furniture and other articles, apart from the jewels, real and imitation, that are now being catalogued, will probably be something like $500,000. In the house and grounds every fancy of the Marquis had apparently been gratified in the most luxurious manner.

A meeting of the committee of inspection has been held, which lasted six hours. The result of the conference is that there is now every prospect that the affairs of the Marquis will not come before the bankruptcy court. The liabilities at present ascertained are $1,380,000, and it is believed that under the proposed deed of assignment, the creditors will receive their money in full, plus 4 per cent. interest, within about nine years, providing the Marquis lives this long.

The deed of assignment has been agreed to by a large number of creditors, including three continental jewelers, who have claims for about $2,400,000, and certain English money lenders.

POLITICAL.

as quoted a number of Parker's decisions to show that the Chief Justice in his judicial rulings had ever leaned towards the gigantic corporations, as against the people. He was defied by the advocates of Parker in the great audience to prove what he had charged, and silenced them by drawing the documents from his pockets and referring them to case after case of the New York law reports.

BRYAN'S SOARING HOPES.

A leading Democrat, editor of a weekly Democratic paper of this city, representing the greatest Democratic organization in the United States, says that Bryan's object is to maintain his strict party regularity this time at whatever cost. Bryan believes honestly that Parker is going to be beaten overwhelmingly. He sees Democracy turning to him as its Moses four years hence. In the meantime, the tremendous fund to be squandered by Belmont will serve to bolster up the Democratic machine in the West, as well as in Eastern States, but without affecting the rank and file of American voters.

HEARST'S SUPPORT "DEADLY."

Bryan knows that Hearst's "support" of Parker will be deadly in its character, and that the great mass of the intelligent labor vote is bound to go to Roosevelt. Granting that Parker might carry New York, Bryan knows that Roosevelt is the idol of the plateau States, which cast votes for Bryan in 1896 and 1900. Without these States, Parker cannot win, even though he carries every one of the so-called doubtful Eastern States, New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Delaware, West Virginia, Maryland and Indiana.

MANUFACTURERS STAND PAT.

Three of these, Conecticut, New Jersey and Delaware, are distinctly manufacturing States, which will take no chances with tariff-tinkering politics, such as brought the dark days between 1892 and 1897.

BRYAN WANTS PARKER BEATEN.

To sum it all up, Bryan is going to bolster up his own cause with trust syndicates' money, trusting to the good sense of American voters not to be deceived by hypocritical pretensions on the part of Hill, Belmont, et al. In a great popular vote for Roosevelt this time Bryan sees his hope of Democracy turning to himself for a third time and one more chance, at least, of fulfilling the ambition of his life. His efforts in all probability will be confined to Eastern States, where they cannot fail to have the same effect on gold Democrats that a red flag does on a bull, just the effect that Bryan desires.

EXPOSED THE BUNCO GAME.

The Press's St. Louis special said, after the convention:

"August Belmont is on his way to Kentucky to look over his blooded stock before he returns to New York to take supreme command of the Parker forces in the national campaign. His lieutenants, William F. Sheehan and David B. Hill, are journeying eastward to give Judge Parker a faithful account of how the Belmont syndicate buncoed the convention. William J. Bryan is confined to his bed with a cold that gives his physicians anxiety. Nearly all Parker menhave departed, and the remnant now in St. Louis is made up largely of silverites and middle-of-the-road men.

SCHEMING FOR MONEY.

"These Bryan men are shrewd and resourceful. They recognize that the Parker campaign will give them a plentiful supply of money in the respective States, and they are agreed that there is nothing in the platform which will be offensive to the voters that they rely upon. They are not bothering about the gold Democrats. There are not many of these in the States represented by Bryan's most intimate friends, but in any event, the Belmont-Hill-Guffy combine is expected to look after its own and the Tillman-Stone-Bryan combination will look after those who 'followed the flag' in 1896 and 1900.

COLDLY CALCULATED.

"With the atmosphere cleared now, those who were inclined to say yesterday there was sincerity in the convention are willing to concede that every step was coldly calculated and planned to bring about the very results achieved. The uninitiated believed, on Saturday evening, that the Belmont syndicate actually was in trouble, and that its grip was lost on the delegates from the South and Southwest because of the letter telegraphed to the convention by Judge Parker. There was never a greater mistake made by convention on-lookers that Saturday evening, in thinking for a moment that the delegates corraled for Parker would get away from the Belmont syndicate on any proposition.

"It was only sham pretense at anger that Culberson of Texas, Tillman of South Carolina and Vardaman of Mississippi exhibited for the benefit of a few uninitiated delegates and the army of newspaper men. These three acute-minded politicians pretended to be awfully torn up by the telegram of Judge Parker, and they were joined in their affected indignation for a few minutes by John Sharp Williams and Howell of Georgia. But every one of these men had for weeks been under contract to deliver the votes of their delegation to Belmont, and from the result Saturday night it is clear that the Wall-street financier had them, when he wanted them, for any contract and on every proposition.

"If Belmont had so willed, he could have inserted the gold plank with the same vote he kept it out. He could have nominated Bryan instead of Parker, but he and Hill and Guffey always had in mind that they must get the votes of the silver States and the votes of Bryan men in Indiana, Missouri, Wisconsin, Illinois and West Virginia.

SLAP AT THE NAVY.

"It was their very desire for votes that caused the slap at the navy. There was a plank submitted by Williams of Mississippi, declaring that the United States should have a navy sufficient at all times to enforce the Monroe doctrine the world over. Tillman of South Carolina, more than any other man, killed this plank. He said it was an indirect approval of the Republican policy in the Philippines. He stated, with absolute frankness, that if the plank went in he would withdraw his State's delegation from the support of the Belmont candidate.

"Vardaman of Mississippi told John Sharp Williams to his teeth that Mississippi could not be held for any candidate on a plank that meant the exploitation of the navy for the purpose of protecting any possession farther away than Porto Rico. As Belmont was willing to surrender on gold, he was willing to surrender on the navy.

"More significant, however, than his surrender and the silence of the platform, on the navy is the position of Democrats who were able to control the platform, and who will represent the majority of Democrats in Congress. This means that these men are to be against naval appropriations. That they are to be steadily for the abandonment of the Philippines, and that they expect their candidate for President to be in sympathy with them on this issue."

"LIBERTY OF ACTION."

The New York Globe Shows Wherein Bryanites, Anarchists and Socialists can Operate Under the Guise of Democracy.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Globe, which, before the St. Louis convention, strenuously advocated Cleveland's nomination, says this evening:

"Conceding that the effect of Judge Parker's telegram is to amend the platform in one respect, and that, if elected President, he is at liberty to oppose attempts to subvert the gold standard, is there anything in that telegram, which, directly or indirectly, rebukes or disavows other phases of Populism?

"Is the reference to the Colorado labor troubles excised? or the running amuck trust plank? or any of the phrases whose plain object is to excite the poor against the rich?

"Is there anything in the platform which will prevent Mr. Bryan and those he has gathered about him carrying on their agitation in the name of a Democracy?

BRYAN RULES THE ROOST.

"It is perfectly plain that the continuance of the Bryanistic propaganda is not only permitted, but invited and encouraged. The effort to kick Mr. Bryan out of the party ignobly failed. If anything, his position in the party is strengthened, and more than ever, he is the strongest individual force that the party contains today. Who can say that the party has been regenerated, in the presence of the fact that Mr. Bryan ungagged and unrebuked, still finds himself very much at home with it?

"LIBERTY OF ACTION."

"It is to be borne in mind that, even as on money question, on which Judge Parker reserves liberty of action, liberty of action is also reserved to every cheap-money Democrat. The latter may renew his menace whenever opportunity presents. Support of Judge Parker argues no recantation on his part. Moreover, the proceedings at St. Louis, both as to the things done and the things not done, leave little doubt what is the majority sentiment of the party.

"The dispute between Mr. Bryan and the Southern leaders was as to matters of expediency, not of principle. They made no pretense that they had abandoned the ideas that they have advocated for eight years. On the contrary, it was clearly shown that, on fundamental matters, they are Bryanites as before, although deeming it not wise to mention the money question this year. The conservative voter who is anxious to do his duty to his country can hardly shut his eyes to the fact that Bryanism still permeates the party which is behind Judge Parker."

TIGER GRITS TEETH.

Tammany Will Support Parker for the Sake of "Regularity," Which Spells Defeat to an Unsatisfactory Candidate--Bryan's Friends.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The last of the Tammany guard, with the exception of Chief Sachem Murphy, reached New York from St. Louis today, politically sick, sore, disgusted and bitter toward Hill and Pat McCarren. Among those who returned was Walter Scott, editor of the Tammany Times, a paper which has bitterly opposed Parker from the beginning. Scott announces that Tammany will support the ticket, but the way he said it could not but chill Hill, Belmont and the Sage of Esopus had they heard it.

Scott, while believing the silver issue is dead, still retains love for Bryan, to whom he is closer than probably any other Democrat in the United States. He believes Bryan is the biggest man in his party, and that the time will come when Democracy will turn to the Nebraskan once more as a leader. In the meantime, what is Tammany going to do?

"Regularity" has ever been the foundation argument of this greatest of Democratic organizations. Outwardly, they will give lukewarm support to the national ticket, but there will be none of the hurrah that characterizes a campaign when the heart of Tammany is encouraged with the hope of the tremendous spoils that accompany a Tammany victory in a State or national election.

Last winter, Leader Murphy proved himself as great a leader as Tammany has ever known by defying organization sentiment, taking Grout and Fornes away from the Fusionists and piling up a majority of over sixty thousand for McClellan in the face of the best city government that New York had ever had. Murphy, by his tactics, made both Grout and Senator Pat McCarren politically. McCarren demanded that the Borough of Brooklyn be allowed to run "wide open," but Murphy, be it said to his credit, stood manfully by McClellan, removed the police commissioner of the borough, whose policy was to let the red lights burn and gambling go on unchecked.

To the astonishment of the general public, Murphy stood for decency in city government. He naturally expected recognition from the up-State Democracy in this attitude, for hitherto the up-State Democracy has been supposed to represent the morality and general decency of the New York Democracy. Instead, Murphy is turned aside by Belmont and Hill, who formed a coalition with Pat McCarren, the representative of the gambling and race-track evils, and from the beginning of the Parker candidacy they utterly ignored the Democratic leader of Greater New York who rolled up the majority of 125,000 for Coler for Governor in 1902 and of over sixty thousand for McClellan in 1903.

GROUT FOR GOVERNOR.

Murphy has expected that McClellan would be the Democratic nominee for overnor this year, but following the contemptuous manner in which Tammany was treated in the State convention at which delegates were chosen to St. Louis and the way in which they were belittled by Hill and Belmont at St. Louis, it is announced today that if Grout is not nominated for Governor, an up-State man will be chosen. Since the last outbreak Grout has chosen to cast his lot with McCarren, his bait being the promise of the Hill machine of the Governorship.

"HARMONY" TALK IS "ROT."

In view of all this, all talk of harmony between Hill and Belmont on one hand and Tammany on the other is buncombe. A victory for either Parker or the Democratic State ticket dictated by Hill contains no promise of reward to Tammany, which holds that better by far is defeat this year and the everlasting elimination of David Bennett Hill as a political factor than the perpetuation of Hill as State and national Democratic boss and its accompaniment of woe for Tammany Hall. Knives are drawn, and the chances are that both Bryan and Hearst know the situation thoroughly. Hearst, Murphy and Bryan are in a position to set up a mighty chorus after the Roosevelt landslide in November of "I told you so."

BLAST FROM PHILADELPHIA.

The Philadelphia Record (Dem.) says: "Both Hill and Littleton are in the position of men who tried to spring a gold candidate upon silver delegates without their knowledge and to get western and southern support for an Eastern man by pretending they did not know his opinions, or that he would assume any set of opinions that the convention should propose. If Hill carried any reputation for political courage and honor to St. Louis, he left it there."

bitterly assailed the nominees and the platform.

In an open letter to the recent county chairman, Frank Feeley, refusing to serve as chairman of the county delegation to the State convention, he refers to the St. Louis nominees as "traitors, who, in 1896 and 1900, worked to defeat the nominee of the party."

The platform, he declares, "is entirely out of harmony with Democratic principles and doctrines."

He says the fight in the coming campaign will be between Democrats rather than between parties. He concludes: "I hope by the time election comes Parker and Davis will not be able to muster a corporal's guard to their support."

EUROPE NOT TALKING "JINGO."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHILADELPHIA, July 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] John Wanamaker, who returned from Europe Sunday, is of the opinion that President Roosevelt will receive a tremendous vote of confidence from the people.

"Even in Europe," said Wanamaker, "where, as a rule, there is amusing ignorance of American affairs, men in public life and in commerce are extremely well posted as to President Roosevelt. The steady prosperity of this country has riveted the attention of foreign citizens and statesmen upon our affairs generally, but the popularity of President Roosevelt can be observed everywhere, as well as in the newspapers, which quote him widely.

"I believe the same condition in respect of the President prevails in this country, and I can see nothing in the coming election, but his success. It looks to me as if his victory would be decisive. I am, of course, out of public affairs now, but I cannot see what chance the Democratic party has, even with Judge Parker, as against the policies of the Republican party, with a man like Roosevelt for President."

JACOB H. SCHIFF DUBIOUS.

HE'S AFRAID OF "OVERFLOW."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Concerning Judge Parker's telegram to the Democratic National Committee, Banker Jacob H. Schiff says:

"As it stood Friday, with the convention purposely ignoring the money question and having, at the dictation of Mr. Bryan, dropped the gold plank, it would have been 1896 and 1900 over again, with all the ills which this would have meant to business and other substantial interests of the country.

"Judge Parker's courageous action has removed this danger, but a river only exceptionally can rise higher than its source, and when this does happen, it generally brings overflow and destruction. The Democratic party self-confessedly has not changed, and whether, with this knowledge, the country, notwithstanding the high character and attitude of its Presidential candidate, will be willing to intrust it with the government, the next four months will have to decide. I do not believe it."

PARKER AT HOME.

WILL CAMPAIGN THERE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ESOPUS (N. Y.) July 12.—The return here of W. F. Sheehan from the St. Louis convention yesterday marks the opening of the national Democratic campaign, which will be largely conducted from Esopus Actual plans for the campaign have not been completed, but it is probable that Judge Parker will remain at Rosemont most of the summer and fall. His friends say that Judge Parker will advise on all questions of importance which may come up during the campaign.

Judge and Mrs. Parker will dine with Mr. and Mrs. Sheehan this evening, unless the Ulster county delegation, which returned from St. Louis today, decides to come to Esopus from Kingston and serenade the judge. Sheehan expects to entertain many political visitors at his summer home at Twood.

Judge Parker will answer personally all congratulatory messages. He spent several hours at this work today. This afternoon he expects to entertain Supreme Court Justice McLean and Mrs. McLean of New York City.

Judge Parker was routed out of bed at 1 o'clock this morning by one of his coach horses getting loose from the barn and galloping around the barn yard. He and Secretary McCausland dressed and went to the barn. They were unable to find a lantern and McCausland finally brought a candle from the house. This dim light made it difficult to locate the horse, which continued moving around the barn yard. After ten minutes the horse was secured.

No details have been fixed for the meeting of the National Committee on Notification, but it will be in about two weeks. In view of suggestions made that Sheehan be selected for national chairman, it was said today that he is not anxious for that position, believing that he can be of more value to Judge Parker in other ways. As chairman of the national committee he would find himself hampered by much routine business, which would interfere with the work he would otherwise do. Sheehan and his friends, it is understood, hope that the matter will be amicably settled.

CONVENTION REPLY MISSING.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ESOPUS, July 12.—It is beginning to be a source of some wonder as to what has become of the telegram to Judge Parker which was formally adopted by the St. Louis convention Saturday night. It has not reached Esopus and Judge Parker knows its tenor only from the Associated Press bulletin which was telephoned him that night, and from the newspapers of the next day. It may have gone astray, as did the Hearst telegram, which reached Judge Parker only after it had been duplicated twenty-four hours after it was filed in Chicago.

Judge Parker sent to former President Cleveland this afternoon a letter in reply to the latter's telegram of congratulation. The letter is of considerable length, but its contents have not been made public.

DAVIS'S DIG AT GROVER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ELKINS (W. Va.) July 12.—Many congratulatory telegrams have been received by Henry Davis since his nomination for Vice-President on the Democratic ticket. The expression of weariness which the convention left on Davis's features has disappeared.

"I feel twenty years younger," he exclaimed, when he came back from a horseback ride, flushed from the vigorous exercise. "I'd rather ride a horse than go to the opera any time. Yes, I'd rather ride than go fishing, even," he added with a laugh.

The Vice-Presidential candidate refuses to talk on the money question. He has made no campaign plans, but has arranged to meet Senator Hill in two weeks for that purpose.

HIS PLANS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ELKINS, July 12.—Henry G. Davis, the Democratic candidate for Vice-President, still refuses to give any interviews. Thursday, eighty members of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association of Pittsburgh, now touring West Virginia, will be entertained at Graceland, the Davis country seat, and Saturday the Senator will leave for Bedford Springs, Pa., where he has been every summer for fifty years.

Chairman Cortelyou will stop in New York for several days to make preliminary arrangements for the work of the campaign.

BUNCO GAME'S HISTORY.

Parker Waited Until His Nomination Was Assured Before He Sent His Telegram—He Wanted to Bag All the "Game."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Under the heading, "The Simple Chronological Record of the Parker Heroism," the Press this morning says:

"The frantic efforts of the Belmont-Parker organs and managers to make it appear that Esopus Hill is in Darkest Africa, and that therefore Judge Parker, the candidate with his legs in a hole, had no intimation of the situation in St. Louis till he sent his telegram to blue-eyed Billy Sheehan, will never be swallowed by the American people who can distinguish black from white and know wrong from right. What are the facts? The simple chronological record of events reveals a deliberate game of bunco.

DAMNING EDITORIALS.

"For two days before Judge Parker sent his telegram, every newspaper in the East was flyleaf with sensational accounts of the final abandonment of the gold standard by the Belmont-Parker managers. Gold Democrat newspapers were denouncing the 'cowardice' and 'treachery' as they have denounced nothing else since 1896. The World declared their poltroonery 'gave Roosevelt a walkover.' The Evening Post said that 'Firebrands would burn up the Belmont-Parker managers and party, too.' Even the craven Times whimpered over such faint-heartedness by the Belmont-Parker party. They printed those editorials one day and repeated them the next. All these papers were going to Judge Parker within a few hours of their issue. On the ground were the correspondents of all these papers, informing him what was taking place, asking him what he had to say about these startling, these astounding events. And always he would say nothing.

PARKER COMPOUNDS "CRIME."

"Judge Parker would not move his tongue; he would not open his lips; he would not lift a hand in protest against the crime of his own personal managers until after the crime was complete—until many hours, even days after; until his own nomination was made and delivered.

"The Belmont-Parker organs are pretending to be in delirious transports of ecstacy over the heroism of Judge Parker. Well, heroes are not made of such stuff.

WANTED TO BAG 'EM.

"When the gold standard was knocked in the head, a plain man would have declared, without waiting for the signing, stealing and delivering of his own nomination: 'You must give me an honest platform, or I will not stand on it.' It remained for the Esopus hero, the Belmont syndicate's demigod, to manifest superhuman qualities by bagging all the game, in disguise and under false colors, and then after he had got it all, to announce that, though he was on a Bryanized platform, he regarded himself as a gold-standard man now (though having voted twice for free silver,) as if that was satisfactory to his own Belmont-syndicate managers.

THE REAL QUESTION.

"The gold standard is not the question, concerning the Belmont-Parker candidacy. The question is: 'What can American voters expect on any issue from a party which has done the work performed at St. Louis and a candidate who has compounded a shockingly immoral deed?'

WORST BUNCO EVER.

"In voting for or against Judge Parker, the citizens of the United States will not be called upon to determine the fate of the gold standard. They will vote—they cannot escape from voting—on the issue of bunco, syndicated bunco, managed under the crafty direction of the Belmont-Parker combination in a way to surpass for boldness and unscrupulousness anything that has been done at any time by the shipbuilding promotion, or any other swindle ever perpetrated against the people of this country."

GOT IT WHERE HE WANTS IT.

HILL PLEASED WITH PARTY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ALBANY (N. Y.) July 12.—David B. Hill tonight gave out the following interview on Judge Parker's declaration for the gold standard:

"I am gratified that the convention so enthusiastically indorsed the brave and manly stand of Judge Parker, and that the whole country has so favorably received it. The party is in the position in which I wished it to be, having indorsed the present gold standard. The financial question is now entirely out of the question, and the Republicans are powerless to drag it in. The road to a successful campaign has been cleared."

UNION ISN'T STRENGTH.

Mine Workers Likely Will Bite A Big Chunk Out of Davis's Boom.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.) July 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The United Mine Workers of America, with headquarters in this city, have many grievances against Henry G. Davis, the Democratic Vice-Presidential nominee.

It is charged that the veteran ex-Senator will not permit a union man to work in his mines, if he knows it; that he has caused the dismissal of hundreds of men because they joined the Miners' Union, and that he was the inspiring cause of a number of Federal injunctions issued against miners before United States Judge Jackson of West Virginia.

It is specifically alleged, proof of which is said to be at headquarters here, that when the United Mine Workers undertook, a year ago, to organize the independent coal operators along his line of railroad, those who joined the union were discharged, and that an investigation showed that many of the independent operators were entirely willing that their men should organize, but were induced to take radical action in opposition thereto because they were notified that, unless they did so, railroad facilities for the shipment of their coal would be denied to them.

The United Mine Workers' organization is the most powerful labor union in the country. Its members probably will take a vigorous part in the campaign.

LABOR.

THOUSANDS LEAVE WORK.

Packing-house Employees Go Out at Many Points.

Trouble Held in Check by Large Police Force.

Chicago Unionite Arrested for Mine-murder.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OMAHA (Neb.) July 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The strike today of the butchers, meat cutters and butcher workmen employed in the packing-houses at South Omaha, involving in all about five thousand men, temporarily ties up the plants of Swift & Company, Armour & Co., the Cudahy Packing Company and the Omaha Packing Company, and practically paralyzes the packing business throughout the city.

The packers were not wholly unprepared for the walkout. They declare that they will have their plants in operation again within a very short time. To this end they have inserted advertisements in various newspapers in Nebraska and Iowa for 5000 men, former employes preferred, to take the places of the strikers. They not only promise men good wages but promise immunity from molestation by the strikers.

The men walked out quietly at noon today and there has been no disturbance has occurred since the walkout. Many of them shook hands with their former superintendents and others under whom they have worked and expressed regret that they had been obliged to strike. Great numbers of them do not know what is the cause of the strike and say so frankly. The wages and prices of all kinds of meat have been here from 3 to 5 cents lower and further advances are expected tomorrow.

REPORTS IN CHICAGO.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, July 12.—As the result of a labor disagreement, chiefly over the unskilled labor, one of the most extensive strikes in the history of the meat-packing industry of the country began today in Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha, St. Joseph and other points where large packing plants are located. If prolonged, the strike is expected to cause widespread suffering, possibly equalling the recent famine of two years ago.

The enormity of the strike was comprehended when it is known that 45,000 employés are involved. In Chicago alone 10,000 are on strike.

The effect of the strike on the food supply of the country and the price of meat is being earnestly discussed, following the announcement today by packing-houses, contrary to expectations, will continue without any close-down whatever help may be obtained. Not much alleviation in the matter is looked for to the public this evening. It is a matter of wide knowledge that the packers depend upon a class of men who could and would have been ready at their places have been at work.

Preparations started by the packing departments at the packing-houses. The killing gangs, the workers in which as fast as the butcher-workmen could be relieved of their part of the work, threw off their aprons and, without consideration was ordered to quit, the labor officials because it was not desired to cause the employers any loss as a result of the strike that was on hand already.

PRECAUTION OF THE POLICE.

Heavy details of police, the reserves, were called out of the packing-house district, many of them carrying overalls, rubber boots, cleavers and steels. The strikers were greeted by crowds of sympathizers, many of whom were former workmen on the packing-house floors. There was absolutely no disorder.

The first scene was presented when the big packing factories and canning establishments were left by their forces. There are 10,000 employed in these two branches of the meat industry. Clad in the white garb of factory girls, hundreds of the strikers tripped down the main thoroughfare to their homes and were roundly cheered as they emerged through the gates. Others distributed themselves in the crowds of men who had awaited their coming.

Michael Donnelly of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen of North America, leader of the strike, said in a conversation today that he believed the strikers would have little difficulty in withstanding a siege of more than a year because of the strike funds the unions have on hand. In Chicago, thirty-five local unions are involved in the strike.

Mr. Donnelly and the presidents of the various locals assembled at headquarters this morning, thinking they might receive a notice of surrender from the packers, but no word came. The packers took the position they had replied decisively to the strikers' demand, and had nothing to say except to emphasize a reduction in the wage scale asked.

PACKERS' STATEMENTS.

Edward Morris of Armour & Co. said today: "We consider the demand of the men for an advance in wages of 10 per cent unwarranted by the conditions of labor entirely unjustified. We could not concede it. We refused to submit the question to arbitration, which the union declined to do, and called a strike today at all of our plants. Every department is affected, however. We have had applications from hundreds of unemployed men for positions at less wages than they have been paying, and every effort is to increase our output. We regret extremely the hardships and suffering that will be imposed on the thousands of men who are thrown out of work, directly and indirectly, by the strike, and the temporary loss that it will cause the public at large. We consider the fault rests entirely with the union, who not only demanded what they were not entitled to, but refused to submit the question to arbitration."

Michael Donnelly, the strike leader, was quick to make it clear that we are not fighting for an increase of wages against the decrease. Our demand was for a minimum of 20 cents an hour for laborers. This demand was amended after our second conference with the packers in June, and we agreed to a scale of 18½ cents per hour in Omaha and Sioux City, the scale is 19 cents. The packers, on the other hand, refused to grant 17½ cents an hour, and refused to sign any agreements, at all, with a small portion of the increase of wages to skilled men was not discussed. To unskilled workmen the average wage was 18½ cents but when we asked that this be made the minimum wage they cut it to 17½ cents and 15 cents. Men could live on 15 cents, if they got steady work, but in some plants men have been able to make only thirteen hours a week at this wage scale. They could not live on it. No one could."

HOTELS NEED NOT FEAR.

Wholesale markets that supply meats to the hotels in Chicago say they have enough carcasses on hand to keep the guests of all the large hostelries for several weeks. The managers of the hotels, therefore, are not worrying much over an impending famine.

A feature of the strike that is apt to be overlooked is the fact that the strikers' organizations do not include the electricians, steam fitters, firemen, engineers, car workers and teamsters. These make in Chicago alone a total of 10,000 additional men who may or may not be made idle wholly or in part, voluntarily or otherwise, according to the developments in the struggle between the direct contestants—the packing-house proprietors on the one side, and the butchers and helpers on the other.

The employés of the Union Stock Yards are not affected by the strike of the packing-house employés, and while in view of the fact that notices were sent by committee to customers, speculation may fall off to some extent, it is expected that cattle, hogs and sheep will still continue to arrive from the West and South. This expectation grows out of the fact that under the recent decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission, rates shall be equal to large and small shippers and that no rebates are permissible.

If the strike continues long, it is quite probable that many small slaughterers will resume business again in the large cities throughout the country, and that the large part of the cattle, hogs and sheep received at the Union Stock Yards here will be bought and shipped E st. It is not likely that the strikers will interfere with the small slaughterers throughout the country, inasmuch as the more work they do the more they will injure the business of the big packers, upon whom alone the strikers have made demands.

The Union Stock Yards people are taking a calm view of the situation, and while business at the yards will undoubtedly show a falling off, it is believed that receipts and shipments will by no means come to a standstill at the yards, and the supply will be sufficient to take care of the local and eastern demand.

EIGHT THOUSAND QUIT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

KANSAS CITY, July 12.—Eight thousand meat cutters, butchers and others affiliated with the Amalgamated Meat Cutters' and Butchers' Workmens' Union, constituting the entire forces in these departments in the six big packing plants here, struck today. As a result, all the plants are shut down and 12,500, employés in the various departments are affected.

Those out or affected by the strike of the meat cutters and butchers are distributed as follows: Armour, 3500; Swift, 2800; Cudahy, 2500; Schwarzschild & Sulzberger, 2000; Fowler, 1200; Ruddy Bros., 800.

Many of the men went out during the morning, the others following at noon, the hour set by President Donnelly. The men, following the president's order, secured their tools, and, in most instances, quietly left for their homes. At one or two places they remained about the plants, but no signs of trouble were apparent.

The packers in this city were in unusually good condition, having but a small quantity of stock on hand to work up, and all this was cleaned up by noon, the men working until this work had been accomplished. It is believed the plants will remain practically idle for a few days, the managers making no especial effort to fill the places of the strikers.

None of the packing-houses bought stock at the yards today. There are about 2000 hogs on hand at the yards and these probably will be returned to the country. Livestock men at the yards were anxious about the situation and the first heavy receipts since the flood arrived today. Both sides are firm, and await developments from the conference between the union leaders and the heads of the principal packing-houses at Chicago.

ALL THE MEN OUT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

KANSAS CITY, July 12.—"All of our men are out," said Louis Reinhardt, who has charge of the strike in Kansas City. "All the men of our unions who were at work came out and there are more again who were not at the plants today that will not go to work until the strike is settled. The men have been instructed to stay away from the plants and avoid any violence. We do not expect the strike to last long, but we can stand it all summer if necessary."

Many of the men here are opposed to going out. Some lived in the district affected by the recent floods and did not feel like losing time and wages. It is partly on this account that the packers feel reasonably sure that the strikers in Kansas City will not continue the fight long. Up to the last moment, the strikers hoped and many were confident that an agreement would be reached with the packers which would prevent the strike.

The strikers received nothing official from the employers until 11 o'clock, when the men went quietly to the foremen and told them that they would not return in the afternoon.

The strike has tied up business at the stockyards and that industry will be idle until the packing plants resume operations. The yards had only opened yesterday after being closed since last Thursday on account of the Kaw overflow.

A continuation of the strike for any length of time would result in high prices and a shortage of meat. The high water last week tied up most of the packing houses for several days. They shipped out or sold for local consumption about as much meat as they usually do each day. The result was that when work was resumed the usual reserve supply of fresh meat had been sold. Today's killing was below the day's consumption and fresh beef is likely to be scarce before Sunday.

DID NOT WANT TO STRIKE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. JOSEPH (Mo.) July 12.—The managers of the four packing plants in South St. Joseph—Swift's, Hammond's, Nelson Morris and the St. Joseph—said tonight that efforts would be made to operate the plants with non-union laborers should they be unsuccessful in securing experienced help.

The packers say the men did not want to quit and that many employés have said they would return to work should the strike contiue longer than what might be considered a reasonable time for a settlement of the differences with the laborers. The packers say there will be no advance in the price of fresh meat for several days, as they have a large supply on hand.

EXODUS AT OMAHA.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

OMAHA (Neb.) July 12.—At noon today 4000 employés of the four packing-houses at South Omaha laid down their tools and went out on strike. The packing plants affected are those of Armour, Swift, Cudahy and the Omaha Packing Company. The strike is the result of an order received from Second Vice-President Vail of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen's Union, and affects practically every man employed in the packing-houses, skilled and unskilled.

The demands of the strikers are for higher wages for the skilled and closed shop for the unskilled. The packers say they will make no effort to operate their plants for the present. To this end they gave notice to the commission men that there would be no market for livestock today and that they would not purchase until further notice. The notice was given today and as a consequence few cars of stock came in today.

A statement of the position of the local packers shows that they are unanimous in their refusal to accede to the demands of the men. They claim that conditions do not warrant an increase in wages.

None of the employés in mercantile departments of the South Omaha plants struck, and the employés of the union stock yards remained at work.

Ten unions are affected by the strike, most of them being affiliated with the butchering craft. It is anticipated that no action will be taken locally, all the negotiations being made in Chicago.

NON-UNION WATCHMAN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

OMAHA, July 12.—A dispatch from Nebraska City states that the employés, several hundred in number, of the Morton Gregson Packing Company went on strike today. The plant is idle as a consequence. The strike there is said to have resulted from the employment by the company of a non-union watchman.

There was no demonstration in the packing-house district, the strikers generally going to their homes and remaining quiet. The packing-house owners placed a number of additional watchmen about their plants, but even this precaution seemed unnecessary.

For the packers, it was unauthoritatively stated that no effort would be made to reopen the plants. Both sides apparently think that the struggle will be a lengthy one, and are settling down to this conviction. Already higher prices for fresh meat are mentioned. There is a considerable supply in the large packing-house refrigerators, but with all the slaughtering departments closed, it is not believed it will last for any great length of time.

The packing-house employés locally appear to know little of the situation beyond the fact that all orders come from union headquarters at Chicago. Tonight a large mass meeting was held, at which the situation was discussed by local leaders.

WOULDN'T RENEW CONTRACT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SYRACUSE (N. Y.) July 12.—Homer D. Call of this city, secretary and treasurer of the International Meat Cutters' Union, said: "Our contract with the packers, which was for a year, expired in June. We then met the representatives of the 'big six' in conference and offered to renew the old contract with its scale of wages in the sixty-eight different departments of the packing business. This the packers refused to do.

"They wanted to cut down the wages of the common laborer, as they called it. This virtually meant that they would reduce the wages of 85 per cent. of their employés. The union refused to accept these terms, and the matter was placed before the locals for a referendum vote. It resulted unanimously against accepting the terms of the packers.

"The statements that have been made that we are fighting for a closed shop and an increase in wages are untrue. We are asking for neither. The standard would mean an increase in wages in some parts, but it would also mean a corresponding decrease in wages in other departments of the packing-houses."

AT ST. JOSEPH, MO.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. JOSEPH, July 12.—More than 5000 employés of Swift & Co., Nelson, Morris and Co., and The Hammond Packing Company in South St. Joseph went out on strike at noon today, and the plants have closed down. The strikers are orderly, and there has been no excitement or demonstration of any kind. Many of the strikers congregated about the plants and discussed the situation among themselves. About 700 men employed in the yards of the packing-houses and many employed by the stockyards company are thrown out by the strike.

Representatives of the packing companies say that at present no attempt will be made to resume killing. They were prepared for the walk-out, they say, and have not been advised as to the future course of their companies.

The workmen cleaned up the premises and finished all work on hand before walking out.

FEAR FAMINE AT ST. PAUL.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PAUL, July 12.—Unless notified from Chicago that an agreement has been reached, the butchers and meat cutters, including the girls employed by Swift & Co., numbering nearly 1000 persons, will go on strike at noon today. Swift & Co. is the only packing concern in this district that will be affected by the strike order, as the smaller concerns have made satisfactory settlements with their employés.

The strike will mean a suspension of all the live stock business in the Northwest. The situation, if continued, it is said, will reduce the supply of meat in this city to the famishing point and run the prices up to the top figures.

QUIT WORK QUIETLY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

EAST ST. LOUIS (Ill.) July 12.—At noon today more than 5000 butchers and cutters employed by the packing-houses here stopped work. Officials of East St. Louis packing-houses declare that they are willing to discuss the demands made by the butchers and cutters. The men quit work very quietly and there were no disturbances when they left the stockyards.

While the authorities did not anticipate any trouble, precautions were taken. Several additional patrolmen were stationed on the beat nearest the stockyards.

SIOUX CITY SHUT DOWN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SIOUX CITY, July 12.—About 1000 men in the Cudahy packing plant here obeyed the order to strike. The plant was forced to shut down. Business at the stockyards is at a standstill as a result.

"SIMPLY OBEYING ORDERS."

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

FORT WORTH (Tex.) July 12.—Between 400 and 500 men, including meat cutters, butchers and cellar men employed at the packing plants of Armour and Swift struck today. The men say they know little of the controversy between the union and the packers. They are simply obeying the orders of the unions.

ARRESTED FOR MURDER.

SEQUEL TO KILLING OF COLLINS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

DENVER, July 12.—News was received at Thiel's Detective Agency today of the arrest of Jesse K. Shields, member of the Cooks' and Waiters' Union at Silverton, Colo., on the charge of having murdered Arthur Collins, the English manager of the Tomboy mine at Telluride, who was shot from ambush about a year ago. Shields is also accused of killing W. J. Barney, a deputy employed at the Smuggler-Union mine, near Telluride, who disappeared three years ago. Shields was taken to Telluride today.

DEPORTATIONS CONTINUE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CRIPPLE CREEK (Colo.) July 12.—Deportations continue to be made by the military authorities. Eleven Italians and Austrians were arrested soon after their arrival at Victor and were sent away on the next train. State Boiler Inspector Taylor was arrested when coming into the district over the Short Line railway, but was released after he was brought to the Mine Owners' Association and had explained his business.

COL. FRYE'S OFFER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

DENVER, July 12.—Gov. Peabody today received a telegram from Col. Frye of Ouray, a veteran of the Civil War, saying: "As Gen. Bell admits that he is powerless to defend peaceable citizens from the thugs and highwaymen in Cripple Creek, I will, if you will give me the authority, enlist two companies of war veterans, and if you will supply us with arms and ammunition, we will contract to make Cripple Creek one of the safest places in the State for any peaceable citizen."

The Governor has not yet announced his decision in regard to the proposition.

NO PERSONAL INTERVIEW.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

OYSTER BAY (L. I.) July 12.—A committee representing the central labor unions in Lackawanna and Luzerne counties, with a membership of 225,000 men, principally miners or allied workmen, came here today to personally present to the President resolutions adopted by the several central labor bodies they represent, urging him to investigate the Colorado labor situation.

The members of the committee were informed by Secretary Loeb that a personal interview with the President could not be arranged. He suggested that they call on National Chairman Cortelyou, in New York, with the resolutions, but they declined to accept the suggestion. They left immediately for home to report to a convention which now is in session at Pittston, Pa.

BOILERMAKERS MAY STRIKE.

SYMPATHY ON THE SANTA FE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

TOPEKA (Kan.) July 12.—It is stated here today, apparently on the best of foundation, that the boilermakers on the entire Santa Fé system are to be called out on a sympathetic strike July 15. None of the high officials of the boilermakers' union live in this territory and confirmation cannot be obtained. The headquarters of the striking machinists in this city were closed today and the officials in charge left for Kansas City.

W. S. Stark, who has charge locally of the Santa Fé machinists' strike says the conditions of the strike are perfectly satisfactory to the men.

"The Santa Fé is having much more trouble with its engines than it will confess," he said, "our bulletins from over the road show the condition of things just as they are."

The report here to the effect that the Santa Fé boilermakers will be called out on July 15, is not confirmed by local officials, but there is a disposition among the strikers to believe it.

ADVANCE PRICE OF MEAT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, July 12.—As soon as the retail butchers in this city learned today that strikes had been ordered in the packing plants in many of the large cities, they at once began to advance the price of meat from 2 to 3 cents a pound. J. L. Eichelberger, general organizer of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters' and Butchers' Workmen Union of America, predicted that within three days there would be a meat famine in this city.

"RECALL" FRAUDS GO BEFORE JUDGE YORK.

Scathing Arraignment of Crooked Work of Agitators in Sixth Ward Election Case—Court Will Consider an Injunction Next Friday.

JUDGE YORK yesterday afternoon issued an order directing the members of the City Council, together with the City Clerk, City Treasurer and City Auditor, to appear in Department Three of the Superior Court next Friday afternoon and show cause why a preliminary injunction should not be issued restraining them from taking steps toward holding a special election for Councilman in the Sixth Ward.

This order was issued on the showing of a complaint filed by Attorney J. S. Chapman, "it appearing to the satisfaction of the court from the complaint that good cause exists therefor."

Charges of fraud, forgery and perjury on the part of the circulators of the petition, which have been made in the columns of The Times, are among the chief grounds on which this order of the court is based.

Thus will the duplicity and the animus of the small coterie of men who have tried to illegally deprive J. P. Davenport of his seat in the City Council because he could neither be bulldozed nor bribed, be thoroughly aired in the courts.

A strong point made by the plaintiff's attorneys is that "Stripped of all vituperative epithets and adjectives, no ground is stated for such removal except that said plaintiff did not vote in accordance with the wishes of such of the persons whose names are appended to said petition."

Briefly stated, the causes for action which will be set forth by Councilman Davenport's attorneys on Friday afternoon will be as follows:

(1.) That the provision of the charter under which the ordinance was passed and the election called is in violation of the Constitution of the United States.

(2.) That the provisions of the charter have no application to a member of the Council.

(3.) That the ordinance will not go into effect for thirty days, and is no authority for any notice of said election until it does go into effect, and, consequently, no election can be held under said provision of the charter, the time being too short.

(4.) That no sufficient petition was ever presented.

(5.) That the Council never had jurisdiction to pass an ordinance calling for the election.

(6.) That the provisions of the charter relating to the recall are contrary to the statutes of the State of California.

(7.) That no cause for the removal of the plaintiff herein is stated in the petition.

(9.) That no petition was ever presented the Council, duly verified.

(10.) That no duly verified petition was ever presented the City Clerk.

(11.) That said provision of the city charter provides for the removal of officers from their offices without any notice and without any opportunity to be heard.

(12.) That the provision denies to the said elective officer of the city of Los Angeles equal protection of the laws, in violation of the provisions of the Constitution of the United States.

DAVENPORT'S REQUEST.

Councilman Davenport in his complaint asked that an order be issued by this court directing the defendants to show cause before this court at a time named therein why a preliminary injunction should not issue in this cause restraining said defendants from publishing the ordinance or offering the same to the Times-Mirror Company for publication, and restraining the Times-Mirror Company from making said publication pending said action.

That on hearing of said motion a preliminary injunction be issued in this cause.

That at the final hearing of this cause such injunction be made perpetual.

COURT'S ORDER.

On listening to a brief argument made by Judge Chapman, Judge York issued the following order:

"The plaintiff in the above entitled action, having filed his verified complaint in this cause, and asking that an order be issued directing the defendants to show cause why an injunction should not be issued pending this action as prayed for in the said complaint, and it appearing to the satisfaction of the court from the said complaint that good cause exists, therefor;

"Now, therefore, it is ordered that the defendants and each of them appear before this court on Friday, the fifteenth day of July, 1904, at 3 o'clock p.m. of said day, in Department Three, then and there to show why a preliminary injunction should not be issued as in the said complaint prayed, and restraining the defendants and each of them from publishing the said ordinance mentioned and referred to in the complaint, or causing the same to be published, and particularly the Times-Mirror Company, one of the defendants herein, be restrained from publishing the said ordinance, and restraining the Auditor of said city from issuing an order of any kind for the payment of any expenses incurred or to be incurred for or on account of the said election, and restraining the defendant, the City Treasurer, from paying any expenses incurred under said ordinance, and in the event that such an election should be held, restraining the City Council from canvassing the votes thereof or declaring the result of any such election, and restraining the said defendants and each and every of them from taking any other proceedings or any proceedings under the ordinance aforesaid, or looking to the calling or holding of any such election, or canvassing the said returns or declaring the results of any such election in the event that any such election should be held, pending this action.

[Signed] "WALDO M. YORK."

SWORN CHARGES.

Sweeping in its charges of fraudulent circulation and mutilation of petitions, the complaint sets forth clearly the insufficiency of the so-called recall petition.

Here are a few of the sworn charges relating to the petition on which the ordinance calling the election was passed:

That many different papers containing the said petition were left with various persons and at various places in said ward; that when the amended petition came to be made up and died, that the names appended to several of the petitions were cut off or severed from the said petition and pasted onto the signatures of other of the said papers and as additional to the names which had been originally signed to such papers, and that the verification thereof was made by one of the persons whose names appeared on said petition as thus prepared, and that each of said papers was not verified by one of the signers of such papers either in the manner prescribed in section 1936 or otherwise, or at all.

That neither the original petition nor the amended petition ever was subscribed by one-fourth of the qualified electors of said ward. That many of the names were not subscribed by the persons themselves, nor by their authority, but on the contrary were placed there by other persons.

That seventeen pages containing the names of purported subscribers to said petition have been cut off from other papers, the purport of which is unknown to the plaintiff, and pasted onto and in addition to the page containing the signatures to the said petition originally subscribed thereto, the said seventeen pages containing over 700 names.

That the first of the amended petitions containing 409 names was verified by one Louis Albert Cardwell, whose name appears last of the purported subscribers to the said petition so verified by him; but that plaintiff is informed and on such information and belief alleges that the said Louis Cardwell did not sign the petition to which said names were attached, but that said Louis Cardwell was one of the signers of a paper detached from another petition and pasted onto the last preceding page of the subscribers to the petition.

That petition No. 1 was never verified at all.

That petition No. 4 was never verified at all.

That petition No. 13 was never verified at all.

That petition No. 20 was never verified at all.

That petition No. 8, containing 387 names, was made up by taking various papers containing signatures and pasting them onto petition No. 8, as though said signature had been subscribed to the said petition, and that many of the persons whose names were subscribed or written upon said paper never saw the said petition. (This is the petition which was circulated by the Record. It is most fraudulent of the many illegal petitions presented.)

That more than one-half of the names in the several petitions have been attached to the said petitions and were never subscribed to the said or any other petition presented to or filed with the Council of the said city of Los Angeles.

That the said ordinance so passed by said Council and approved by the Mayor of the city is void, and that any proceeding taken thereunder and any election held in pursuance of said ordinances will be void and of no effect.

COUNCILMEN'S AFFIDAVITS.

Among the documents filed with the complaint were affidavits made by Councilmen Bowen, Farish, Skilling, Nofziger and Davenport, denouncing as false the statements of the recall petition which states that Davenport connived at the perversion of the city's funds either by voting in the affirmative on the letting of the contract or by any other action on his part.

Each affidavit sets forth that the charter of the city delegates to the Council the making of contracts and that the affiant voted for letting the contract to the Los Angeles Times because, in his opinion, the best interests of the city required it.

FRAUD ON FACE OF IT.

An affidavit is also appended from A. B. Fox, an East Ninth-street grocer, to the effect that two petitions asking for the recall of Councilman Davenport were left at his store; that he refused to sign either of them; that names were placed on them when no one was present to witness what was doing, and that the man who brought the petitions and took them away again met none of the signers.

CLUB MEMBER MAKES FAST RUN FROM THE NORTH.

Automobile Parties to San Francisco Fashionable This Summer. Fine Speedway to Playa del Rey Being Graded and One Hundred Teams Working to Complete It.

The fine automobile highway between Los Angeles and Playa del Rey, planned by the Automobile Club of Southern California, is being pushed steadily to completion over the portion of the route where right-of-way has been entirely secured. Already one mile, beginning at the beach end, has been graded, and the necessary fills made, and the contractors arranged to put 100 teams to work Monday on the remaining two and a half miles of right-of-way. At this rate the grading will be completed very shortly. The club's legal department is making progress in securing ground over the remaining distance, to where the speedway will join the western extension of Adams street, and the road will be finished up without delay as soon as the right-of-way is complete.

Local amateur automobilists are making a feature of tours to San Francisco this summer, the trip with a congenial party in a well-equipped car, over the mountains and through the coast valleys, offering many delights to the lover of the outdoors. George B. Ellis is the latest of the well-known auto-recreationists to return from this long run, which he took with his family. He arrived in town yesterday, making the trip from the north, via Santa Barbara, in thirty-five hours, in his Knox touring car.

Dr. Milbank Johnson, president of the automobile club, is touring Europe at present in an auto, gathering pointers on old-world roads and machines, whereby the local organization may profit when he returns. The first week in August will probably see him back.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT AT RIVERSIDE RAILWAY CROSSING.

Buggy Containing Entire Family Struck by Santa Fe Train—One Child Killed and Other Victims Probably Fatally Injured—Important Testimony in Corona Water Suit.

RIVERSIDE, July 12.—A moment's indecision in crossing in front of a fast train may cost the lives of a Mexican family of four people.

Frank Mazzola with his wife, son and daughter, attempted to cross the Santa Fé track a short distance below Arlington station in front of the San Diego express at 7:20 o'clock this evening. The engine struck the buggy squarely and threw the occupants in all directions along the track.

The son, 10 years of age, was instantly killed, the body being thrown seventy feet from the crossing. Mrs. Mazzoni's leg was broken, while the little girl's thigh was crushed, one eye being gouged out and she being otherwise badly bruised. Mazzoni suffered a broken leg, and internal injuries.

All the injured were taken to the Santa Fé's emergency hospital in San Bernardino, where surgeons are unable to state the extent of the injuries of any of the three, as to whether recovery is possible.

The circumstances of the accident are impossible to explain. It happened where there is a stretch of open country for a mile, and the train could be seen most of the way. The crossing itself is situated on a curve, but does not obstruct the view of approaching trains.

Passengers and trainmen seem to agree that Mazzoni drove up to the track, and after stopping, made an effort to cross in advance of the swiftly-moving train. The latest word from the hospital is to the effect that the injuries of Mrs. Mazzoni and her daughter are likely to be fatal.

FIGHTING FOR WATER.

Important testimony was offered today in the suit of William Newport et. al. vs. the Temescal Water Company. The witnesses for the prosecution, R. H. Hoffman and H. M. Harford, testified that their wells had either been dried up entirely or had been lessened materially in flow by the pumping of the Chase wells, the water from which has been taken to Corona since the summer of 1901. Mr. Hoffman testified that his extensive alfalfa fields had reverted back to a thin pasturage because the water level had been so lowered that the alfalfa roots could not reach the water. He admitted, however, that he could still get water in his wells by lowering them, though necessarily the cost of raising the water would be materially increased. Mr. Harford gave the results of a successive series of measurements in a well on his property which indicated that whenever the Chase wells were pumped his well was lowered. He also gave some interesting figures on the profits of alfalfa growing, showing that the gross returns from one cutting of a four and one-half-acre patch were $69.55, and expenses $27.85, leaving a net profit of $41.50.

It is understood that the defendant corporation will move for non-suit at the close of the prosecution's case, on the grounds that the water has been pumped and used in Corona for more than five years, and that the corporation has thus acquired title to it.

FREEHOLDERS' ELECTION.

The City Trustees have decided to consolidate voting precincts for the freeholders' election on July 28. There will be but three precincts—at the Police Station, High School Building and Senior's barn on Brockton avenue. A meeting will be held at the city courtroom on Wednesday evening to consider the proposed charter.

MUNICIPAL MATTERS.

Frank A. Miller and secretary Winterbotham of the Chamber of Commerce appeared before the City Trustees at their meeting this morning and urged that the city do something in the way of advertising for the St. Louis Exposition. He was advised that the board would vote $500 for the purpose.

P. T. Evans and George Frost appeared before the board to urge that no undue haste be made in the matter of adopting a special charter. A meeting of the trustees, Charter Committee and interested citizens was called for Wednesday evening, to meet in the city courtroom.

Residents of Arlington Heights appeared to ask for the improvement of Victoria avenue by grading and oiling and for better lighting facilities.

The board decided to purchase a fire engine of the American La France type, second size, for $5537, delivery to be in four months.

DISCUSSING PUBLICITY.

At a meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce last night, the publicity proposition was discussed to some length. A letter was received from the California Promotion Committee urging that a committee from the Chamber of Commerce cooperate with the San Francisco organization. The secretary was instructed to inquire if any financial obligation would be incurred by this cooperation. The matter of literature for the World's Fair was taken up, and Frank A. Miller, C. W. Barton, E. P. Clarke and Secretary Winterbotham were added to the committee having the advertising in charge.

REBEKAH INSTALLATION.

HUSBAND'S NOTE DISQUIETING.

DISAPPEARS LEAVING SORT OF WILL ON TABLE.

Brother-in-law Thaxter Thinks It May Be Case of Suicide—Detectives Trying to Find Out Why Huntington Left Home—Westlake Park Mystery Perhaps.

J. H. Thaxter of No. 742 East Seventeenth street is worried over the disappearance of his brother-inlaw, Charles S. Huntington, who left his home at Baird station on the Pasadena short line yesterday morning and has not since been heard from.

In order to deepen the mystery of his disappearance, Huntington left a note on the dining-room table which vaguely hints at suicide. The note reads as follows:

"To whom it may concern: Be it known that I give all my property, real and personal, to my wife, Florence Huntington, to dispose of in any way she may choose."

Huntington was last seen Monday morning by his sister, Mrs. Thaxter. About 9 o'clock he visited the Thaxter home on a wheel, but did not remain long.

Thaxter reported the case to the detectives and an effort was made to connect the disappearance of Huntington with the note found in Westlake Park Monday, wherein the writer said that he or she intended to commit suicide by drowning. The note bore the appearance of having been written by a woman, and the chirography is said to slightly resemble that of Huntington.

SANTA BARBARA.

FILIPINOS HARD AT STUDY.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

SANTA BARBARA, July 12.—The Filipino summer school now in session in Santa Barbara began its second week yesterday. The first week's work ended Saturday night, no holiday being given on that day as the school did not open until Tuesday.

The young students are delighted with their work and their surroundings and are making the best of the opportunity offered to review their studies before leaving for the eastern institutions to which they have been assigned. They are an industrious lot of boys and when not in school are usually sitting with a book preparing the next day's lessons. They do not neglect regular exercises by any means, and have taken kindly to all the American games, tennis and baseball being the favorites.

The young fellows have taken up the latter game with keen interest and have made considerable progress with the national sport. Equipment has been ordered for two nines and within the next week or so an exhibition game will be played between picked teams made up from the students.

All the boys are naturally musical and have already formed guitar and mandolin clubs. A debating society has also been formed and a day or so ago twenty-four of the boys engaged in their first debate. Next Friday there will be another debate to which the public will be invited.

SANTA BARBARA JOTS.

H. T. Kendall of Pasadena, who has been spending the last few days at the Potter, left today in a touring car for a short trip to the oil fields in the northern part of Santa Barbara county. He was accompanied by his son, Charles, and A. H. McKay of this city.

Active work on the new Southern Pacific cut-off through this city has been commenced. A force of surveyors consisting of J. L. Wittemeyer, H. B. Graves, A. D. Bassett and L. Bowman commenced the work of surveying the new line. The work is being directed by L. H. Long, assistant engineer of the Southern Pacific.

G. W. Leland, who was charged with having overdriven a horse on an expedition recently made by several county officials, was acquitted by a jury yesterday.

OXNARD "GETTING ACQUAINTED."

[Ventura Free Press:] Henry T. Oxnard is preparing to swing around the glad hand circle of the State and of the county of Ventura in particular. In an interview in the East he admits that he is not very well acquainted in California because he has been a business man and has not had opportunity to meet people. It strikes one that it is the business man who does meet and get acquainted with people. The real trouble has been that Mr. Oxnard has not been in the State long enough to know many people, and his aloofness on his occasional visits has not brought him in contact with many people. Like most business men with interests and residences in many States, he has met the people of particular communities through his salaried managers. If Mr. Oxnard expects to uproot Senator Bard in this county it behooves him to hasten hither and get acquainted. It is doubtful if Mr. Oxnard is on speaking terms with one in a hundred Ventura county voters.

Fortunes in Thimbles.

The costliest thimble in the world is undoubtedly one possessed by the Queen of Siam. It was presented to her by her husband, the King, who had it made at a cost of rather more than $75,000. This thimble is quite an exquisite work of art. It is made of pure gold, in the fashion or shape of a half-opened lotus flower, the floral emblem of the royal house of Siam.

It is thickly studded with the most beautiful diamonds and other precious stones, which are so arranged as to form the name of the Queen, together with the date of her marriage. She regards the thimble, as one of her most precious possessions.

Not long ago a Paris jeweler made a most elaborate thimble to the order of a certain well-known American millionaire. It was somewhat larger than the ordinary size of thimbles and the agreed price was $35,000. The gold setting was scarcely visible, so completely was it set with diamonds, rubies and pearls in artistic designs, the rubies showing the initials of the recipient.

Five or six years ago a jeweler in the west end of London was paid a sum of nearly $15,000 for a thimble which the pampered wife of a South African Croesus insisted on having made for her. This was one mass of precious gems—diamonds and rubies—which as thimble ornaments seem almost to monopolize feminine taste.

The late Shah of Persia presented a thimble to a lady whose guest he was for a few hours. In the words of the delighted recipient, it looked like a cluster of glittering gems, which in reality it was, save for the gold in which they were set. An expert in precious stones valued this thimble at $7500.[London Answers.

A CAMPAIGN WISH.

WAR BULLETINS FROM MANY POINTS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

TIAO YANG, July 12.—A box full of Japanese proclamations offering endorsements to Russian soldiers who surrender has been brought here from Ta Tche Klao. Many of them were scattered among Gen. Mistchenko's men.

The heat is frightful, thermometers registering 94 in the shade.

HEAT INCREASE AFTER RAINS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, July 12.—[By Atlantic Cable.] An official statement of the number of sick and wounded belonging to the Manchurian army shows a great increase in sickness after a few days of rain, and also a large proportion of sick and wounded officers compared with men. The figures are according to the listed strength of the army.

Before the rains, to June 26, the total was: Officers, 71; and men, 39 per thousand, of whom wounded officers numbered 10 and men 6 per thousand; suffering from contagious diseases, 2 per thousand, of whom one-half were suffering from dysentery and one-tenth from typhus. There was one case of cholera and not a single case of smallpox.

After the rains, July 9, the figures were: Officers, 94 per thousand; men, 29 per thousand, of whom the wounded officers numbered 29 per thousand, and the men 9 per thousand. Contagious cases had risen to 9 per thousand, affecting in equal proportions dysentery and typhus, and introducing scurvy and smallpox, of which there were 3 cases, and bringing up the plague to 7 cases. Twenty-two cases of horse and cattle plague were also reported.

TAKAHIRA IN TEXAS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, June 12.—A dispatch to the Tribune from New Orleans, La., says: Creole ponies from the prairies of Southwest Louisiana and bronchos from the plains of Texas may be fighting the battles of Japan within two months. It is learned that a Texas firm has been approached by Minister Takahira of Japan with a view of securing 100,000 head of horses of the type now used in the Japanese cavalry.

The Creole ponies and Texas bronchos, with wonderful staying qualities, easily fed and kept, are considered ideal mounts for the Japanese saber men, and it is understood that negotiations have been opened with the traffic department of the Southern Pacific Railroad for a large amount of stock cars, so that everything may be in readiness to rush the ponies to San Francisco, thence by ship direct to Korea.

PAUL MORTON'S SUCCESSOR.

CHICAGO, July 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A report current in railroad circles today was that J. M. Hannaford, second vice-president and general manager of the Northern Pacific, had been offered the position of second vice-president of the Santa Fé, made vacant by the resignation of Paul Morton. It is stated no effort will be made to fill the vacancy permanently for some time—probably not until after the election.

The result of the election, it is stated, will determine the road's action, as it is understood that in case of President Roosevelt's defeat Mr. Morton will again take the place and in case of his election a successor will be chosen with as little delay as possible.

WHAT IS CATARRH?

Hyomei Only Guaranteed Cure for This Common and Disagreeable Disease.

Hyomei cures catarrh by the simple method of breathing it into the air passages and lungs. It kills the germs of catarrhal poison, heals and soothes the irritated mucous membrane and effectually drives this disease from the system.

If you have any of the following symptoms, catarrhal germs are at work somewhere in the mucous membrane of the throat, bronchial tubes or tissues of the lungs.

offensive breath
dryness of the nose pain across the eyes pain in back of the head pain in front of the head tendency to take cold burning pain in the throat hawking to clear the throat pain in the chest a cough stitch in side loosing of flesh variable appetite
low spirited at times raising of frothy matter difficulty in breathing frequent sneezing hoarseness of voice discharge from the nose stoppage of the nose at night aching of the body droppings in the throat mouth open while sleeping tickling back of the palate formation of crusts in the nose dryness of the throat in the morning loss of strength spasms of coughing cough short and hacking cough worse nights and mornings loss of vital force
a feeling of tightness across the upper part of the chest

Hyomei will destroy activity of all catarrhal germs in the respiratory organs and in a few weeks the cure will be complete.

This is a strong statement, but The Sun Drug Co. emphasizes it by agreeing to refund your money if Hyomei does not cure.

THE CITY IN BRIEF.

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Store Burglarized.

Taylor Bros., jewelers and bicycle dealers, at No. 345 North Main street, reported to the police yesterday that their store was burglarized early yesterday morning. The thieves entered by prying open a rear window and secured several articles of jewelry and some revolvers.

Walk-over Concert.

The concert in Central Park last night by Moore's Fidelia Concert Band, given at the instance of the Walk-Over Shoe Company, was a popular success. Crowds were attracted by the good music dispensed by twenty-five musicians, and the enjoyment was widespread.

Members' Banquet.

The membership contest between the Reds and the Blues at the Y.M.C.A., which recently closed, resulted in adding 118 new members to the association. A banquet will be given Thursady evening to these and to all who succeeded in bringing in one or more. About 150 are entitled to a seat, and many have already sent in their acceptance. The Blues were winners and so will be served by the Reds.

Young Debaters.

The Y.M.C.A. Congress heard a lively debate between four of its young members last night on the subject, "Resolved, that California Should be Divided into Two States." The debaters were Rolla McClary and Earnest Findley for the affirmative and Walter E. Switzer and Fred Johnson for the negative. The vote of the judges was unanimously in favor of the negative side, and Switzer was declared the best speaker. Adjournment to Christopher's followed.

Burglars Captured.

"Fatty" Adams, an ex-convict and "dope-head," and Sarah Levy, a character of the tenderloin were arrested in Santa Barbara yesterday afternoon, charged with having burglarized the house of L. Michewerson at No. 445 Ducommun street Monday morning. The crooks were caught by Detectives Talamantes, who followed their trail closely, and when captured a portion of the $80, the two diamond rings and other articles stolen from Nickerson were found on them. They will be brought back today.

Enforcing Poolroom Law.

The police are making daily arrests of violators of the new poolroom ordinance, and Capt. Auble says that he intends to break up every dive in Los Angeles permitting the presence of minors. Yesterday a poolroom at the corner of Third and Alameda street was raided, and Proprietor Allen, together with two youthful patrons, was arrested. Other boys were arrested in a North Main-street place. The new law makes it a misdemeanor for boys under 21 years of age to enter poolrooms, or for proprietors to allow minors in such places.

Tamales and the Camino.

A social gathering of members of the Los Angeles branch of the State Camino Real Association was held in the assembly hall of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon, preceding a meeting of the Executive Committee. Col. J. B. Lankershim presided at the informal session, and made brief remarks on the subject of the ancient highway, as did Mrs. A. S. C. Forbes, Mr. Forbes, Mrs. R. C. Olney and Mrs. R. B. Ashley. Mrs. Forbes advocated the construction of a memorial chapel on the site of the historic Cahuenga chapel established by the Mission San Fernando, as the mounds marking its fall is still visible beside the course of the Camino Real, and its name is connected with the signing of the treaty of peace between Gen. Fremont and Gov. Pico. Col. Lankershim told of the chapel as he remembered it, years ago, when he owned the site on which it stands. Spanish songs were a feature of the afternoon, and tamales and lemonade were served by the ladies.

PATTON.

CHOOSE HEAD OF ASYLUM.

PATTON, July 12.—Dr. A. B. Williamson of Minneapolis, Minn., is the new medical superintendent elect of the Southern California State Hospital. He was unanimously appointed tonight at a meeting of the full board of directors of that institution. He succeeds Dr. M. B. Campbell, whose resignation was accepted to take effect September 1.

Dr. Willaimson was for ten years assistant superintendent of the Middletown (N. Y.) State Hospital, and during another period was assistant physician of the Wharf Island (N. Y.) State Hospital. Later he was superintendent of the Fergus Falls (Minn.) State Hospital. Subsequently he engaged in private practice at Minneapolis, and was president of the medical college there. He is 50 years of age.

Secretary Melick of the State Board of Examiners, while in the East a few months ago became acquainted with Dr. Williamson, and the acquaintance led to the action taken in appointing him tonight.

The board tonight adopted a resolution, calling the attention of the State Comptroller to the shortage in the accounts of the late secretary, A. C. Clarke, and recommended that he proceed to recover in whatever manner may be possible.

IN HONOR OF MRS. BURDETTE.

The Daughters' of the Temple, a society consisting of the young ladies of the Temple Baptist Church, gave a reception Tuesday night at the home of Miss Elizabeth Gregory, No. 1087 West Thirty-sixth street, in honor of Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, who has recently returned from an eastern trip. She has been of great help to the organization: her response to the speech of welcome made by the president, Miss Gregory, was an inspiration for further efforts. Rev. Burdette's talk was greatly appreciated.

Miss Butterworth and Miss Julia Wernlund furnished music during the evening.

The secretary, Miss Natalie Talbert, gave a talk on the work of the club. Light refreshments were served.

NEED SUCH MEN.

[Upland News:] Thomas R. Bard clubs are being organized around the country side, as well as in the city, and indications are that he will continue to serve this State in the United States Senate for some years to come. Senator Bard has been classed as one of the type of Americans represented by Theodore Roosevelt, and the advantage of having a man of such exalted standing as our Senator cannot be overlooked.

SENATOR BARD.

[Santa Paula Chronicle:] Senator Bard is by far the most conspicuous personal and business figure in Ventura county. He has lived here for some thirty-five years, and his activities have been so great that there is scarcely a business enterprise of considerable importance in this county with which he is not in some beneficial manner identified. He is liberal in all his dealings with men and strikingly popular with his neighbors and business associates.

An Ancient Warship.

More interesting discoveries have been made on the ancient frigate which has been found during dredging operations off Havre jetty.

The old ship is in a wonderful state of preservation, owing to having been protected from the action of the sea by the sand and shingle, in which it is buried to a depth of eighteen feet.

The divers have had to exercise great care in exploring the interior of the vessel, as the tangled mass of woodwork was likely to cut their air tubes or make them taut.

Two old bombards, or cannons with wide mouths, have been brought to the surface. One is still loaded, and the cannon balls can be seen a few inches within the barrel. In the other cannon a huge conger eel has taken up its residence.

Two flint-lock muskets tightly cemented together were also found, and both of them were loaded.

A search among local records shows that during the bombardment of Havre by the Anglo-Dutch fleet in 1759 a small Englis's vessel armed with two bombards was sunk by the fire from the French forts.

Speculation is rife as to whether the sunken vessel is the English ship of war that was sunk during that engagement, or whether it was a vessel belonging to the French fleet.—[London Express.

RAILROADS WILL WIN.

Franchise Assessments Will Be Reduced.

Probable Result of Tax Rate Controversy.

Wilted Collars at Session of Supervisors.

The County Board of Equalization and a quartette of attorneys representing the Huntington railroad interests played battledore and shuttlecock with County Assessor Ward yesterday afternoon at the Courthouse. Flushed brows, dramatic gestures and wilted collars heightened the interest of a packed room of onlookers as they listened to a wordy war over the assessment valuation of the rolling stock, equipment and franchises of the three companies forming the Huntington steel web.

The manifold petitions were dealt with separately and collectively, and it was the final and unanimous decision of the Board of Supervisors to take the matter under advisement.

It was the general opinion in Courthouse circles at the conclusion of the controversy that the railroad would get the best of it on the matter of suburban franchises, but be held up on the city properties.

The method of assessment adopted by Ward in making a uniform valuation of $15,000 per mile over the majority of the systems was objected to both by the representatives of the railroad and by the board, and it is probable that graduated franchise valuations will be drawn up.

The enormous reduction of $3,000,000 on the total assessment is asked by the attorneys on the grounds that unreasonable valuations have been placed on various items that the systems are still in their infancy and need fostering at the hands of the county and that H. E. Huntington pays one-thirtieth of all the taxes.

All members of the board except A. J. Graham were present and the representatives of the railroad drifted in by twos and threes.

Attorney Walter J. Trask took the initiative, expressing "the sincere regrets of Mr. Huntington that he should feel called upon to question the assessment valuations placed on the railroads by the County Assessor, but we fought it all out last year and we are here for that purpose again. Reasons for the requested reductions will be placed before you by Mr. Wood, the tax agent of the Huntington interests."

The first question taken under consideration was that of rolling stock, three passenger and two express cars on the Alhambra branch being the basis of the contention. Exception was taken at all times to the questions of Assessor Ward and when he wanted to know how much the cars were worth without the motors. Attorney Trask jumped to his feet and shouted, "If you are assessing a cart you don't ask for the valuation of all the nuts, bolts, filiers and spokes, do you? Talk sense."

But Ward contended that the car and its electrical equipment were bought by the company separately and that in making his assessment he had so handled them. "Eddie" Wood said on his oath that the cars in question were fitted up with two 100-horse power motors and that the total cost of each car was $5000. Ward said that they were fitted with four motors of 50-horse power each and cost $9000. The discussion was dropped with the cost of the cars still as far apart as the difference between nine and five.

Motors held the floor for the next half hour and generated wide differences of opinion. The Assessor had adjudged them at a uniform value of $15 a horse power. "The road would have been broken long ago at that figure," snapped Trask.

"It costs almost as much to repair a motor as to buy a new one and the eighty motors assessed at Seventh and Alameda streets are not worth 25 per cent. of their original cost," said Wood.

"But I had a man working on these facts for more than twelve months, and his opinion is that of an expert"—from Ward.

Trask: Bring on the expert.
Wood: Produce the man.
Crutcher: Let him be sworn.
Chorus: Let him be sworn.

With the perspiration streaming off his florid face, Deputy Assessor Best stumbled through the crowd and was sworn.

"I have been working on this matter for over a year and a half; I have corresponded with eastern experts and electrical engineers and merchants in Los Angeles, and——" he began.

"But the motors," thundered Trask. "What do you know about them?"

"Why, only what I have heard you gentlemen saying," he stammered.

Trask: Enough.
Wood: Away with him.
Crutcher: Go sit down.
Chorus: Call the next witness.

Trask: This isn't the Assessor's office, where everything goes. The man doesn't know what he's talking about.

"Everything don't go in the Assessor's office," shouted Ward, jumping to his feet. "I take exception to your remark." "Granted," said Trask, and the crowd laughed.

Machinery was introduced, with "scrap iron" thrown in on all sides.

"No man has called on one company for anything," explained "Eddie" Wood. "That County Assessor has just hired a lot of clerks to skulk around and size up our lumber pile, tie stack, etc., and they have turned in any old kind of report, and drawn their $75 a month. We are ready to do business with a fair man."

Ward was on his feet in an instant, pounding the table with his fist. Said he: "I do not understand that this meeting is for the arraignment of the County Assessor. I have done my best for the people whom I represent, and I have treated the railroads with the same fairness that I have any other interests. Your insinuations that I have it in for Huntington are false and vilifying. I appreciate what he has done for Southern California, and that he pays one-thirtieth of the taxes, but if he had built a fence around the whole county and owned every square foot the assessments which I have made would stand just as they stand today. Not a dollar less."

"Does it cost $12,000 or $30,000 a mile to build a railroad," was a matter of difference between Ward and the attorneys which failed to enlighten the members of the board, and as one of them put it after the meeting: "We don't know any more now about how much it costs to build a railroad than we did before."

"I will pay my next month's salary to any man who can explain to me the correct method of arriving at franchise valuations," said George Alexander, "I have been trying to find out for two years and know less about it now than before."

Trask tried to tell him and so did Ward, and the result was that neither went away with Alexander's monthly salary.

Trask stated most emphatically that the Whittier, San Pedro and Alhambra lines are none of them paying expenses, while Crutcher said he could prove that the gross receipts of the Mt. Lowe Railroad would not pay the taxes which had been assessed by Ward on that railroad.

"Oh, I know that you are not making money now, and I am trying to be lenient on that account," said Ward.

"God pity us when we do!" answered Trask.

It was finally admitted that there had been a double assessment in the case of the Mt. Lowe incline, and an item of $11,000 was rejected by the board, with instructions to make a charge of $3500.

The whole matter was then taken under advisement, and the session was adjourned.

CRUEL NEGRO DRIVER.

Arrested on Broadway Yesterday While Forcing Four Old Horses to Pull a Heavy Load.

Exciting scenes and big crowds accompanied the arrest of B. Attamway, an old colored man, on Broadway, yesterday afternoon for cruelty to animals.

He was driving four shadows of horses to a wagon loaded with brick, and the awful condition of the animals attracted the attention of everybody on the street. Finally, a humane officer appeared and compelled the old fellow to drive up to the curb.

A little bay horse in the lead was ready to drop to the street, and an old gray next the wheel was practically dead on his feet. He was simply a stack of bones, and his eyes rolled up in his head like the eyes of a dead horse. The remaining two were somewhat better, but that is not saying very much.

Dr. Edmonds at once condemned the old gray to be killed, and took it from the wagon, while the bay was unhitched and tied behind the wagon. Attamway has been in the eye of the officers for a long time, and has been warned that he would be arrested if he did not cease driving horses in that condition. Sympathy saved him from arrest prior to yesterday.

ATTACHMENT IS ON LOWE.

Suit Against Independent Gas Corporation.

Bank Account is Found to Be Overdrawn.

Local Manufacturers Seek Pay for Supplies.

The filing of an attachment suit against the Los Angeles Independent Gas Company by the Lacey Manufacturing Company, for $980 for goods delivered and unpaid for, has excited much comment on the embarrassed finances of the Lowe concern, and it is said that other suits are to follow.

The attachment leaked out at the County Courthouse, although facts in the case are being closely guarded. The attorneys for the manufacturing company served garnishment on the bank where the Lowe company is supposed to do business, and it was found that the account had been overdrawn. The indebtedness for which payment is sought is one of long standing, and it is known that other obligations are not being met by the company.

The Los Angeles Independent Gas Company has no works of its own, but obtains its gas from the Los Angeles Suburban Gas Company, all the stock of which, except a nominal amount, is controlled by Prof. Lowe, and which operates a $30,000 plant in the Arroyo Seco, near South Pasadena. This company is bonded for $300,000, of which $150,000 is said to have been issued and of this Mrs. C. W. Dobbins of Pasadena is said to hold $60,000. The other $90,000 is said to have been issued by T. S. C. Lowe, but it is not known what disposition he made of the bonds. The Los Angeles Independent Gas Company owns its distributing system, which, it is thought, cost about $50,000. It has no bonded indebtedness, but owes unsecured amounts, and its creditors are on the anxious seat.

The gas plant on St. John street, near the Los Angeles River, is under the ban of the City Fathers, and is tied up in litigation.

Prof. Lowe is now in the East, looking after interests which he claims to have in Pittsburgh and at Rockaway, L. I., and which he claims will bring him in $500,000 in a short time.

THE TOTS MAKE BEDS AND SEW.

SOUTH PASADENA CHILDREN'S HOME RECEPTION.

Little Nightingals of "Four Going on Five" Charms the Visitors—Notable Achievements of the Youngsters at Sweeping, Mopping and Other Items of Housekeeping.

There is a little nightingale out at the Home of the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society of South Pasadena, where open house was held to the public yesterday afternoon.

The nightingale's name is Myrtle, and she, according to her own account is "four, going on five," which being interpreted, means she is between 4 and 5 years old. Myrtle has not only a voice that enthralls, but a pair of great dark eyes and a round dimpled body so finely moulded that it would rival a sculptor's best efforts.

She sang for the visitors who made her acquaintance yesterday with a cheerful and ready acquiescence, and though the baby twist had not left her tongue, her tones were clear and true, and she followed the melody with a marvelous accuracy.

"Now, what do you want me to sing?" said this fascinating mite to an inquiring reporter, "would you like 'Yankee Doodle?'"

Whereupon verse after verse of that classic air was trilled forth and then the inevitable encore was a song that she had sung "all alone at a church," "Dear Savior I am Thy Little Child."

An admiring knot of small girls was clustered around in the sewing room of the home, and it was proposed that they all should contribute to the impromptu entertainment.

"My Country, 'Tis of Thee" suggested one, but as no one was brave enough to start it and the nightingale only knew down to "let freedom ring," it was given up as a failure.

The nightingale is a type of many pathetic cases at the home. Her brother who is "three going on four," and to whom she gives a motherly oversight, have both parents living, and even little Myrtle can remember a home and better things, but the father deserted them in an evil hour, and the mother has become the breadwinner for her cherished little ones.

But there are other little girls and boys crowding around. Here is Rosebud, aged 9, who proudly tells you that she has a brother there, too, and she can darn stockings, and she has even learned to set some patches in her brother's clothes, and sometimes, (for the children are learning practical things in the home,) she is even allowed to iron things down in the laundry. Rosebud is fortunate. Her mother is dead, but she has a father who comes to see her.

Not so with "little Willie," the baby of the home, who is a little over 1 years, but can sit up at the "baby table" in the dining-room.

It is not weighing on Willie's mind at present, but his father left him there last November with George, who is 12, and Eva, who is 10, but they have never heard from him since, and there is only a vague address of "Washington" whether city or State, nobody knows, by which to trace him.

Here are three little light-haired sisters who have been there "years and years," and the father who brought them there is now only a myth, though the eldest girl is sure she remembers a stepmother.

And so it is with many others in this home, which shelters seventy children, who know no dearer one.

They do not seem to be depressed by the fact, however, but are a jolly little set in general, though a shy caress will reveal some little soul hungry for the love they are denied.

The little girls will show you with pride their dormitory with its rows of iron beds and a little red chair beside each one, but what they wish to tell you is not what they make up these beds themselves, even down to the tiny girls of 4, and the proudest of all the little toasters was the "Nightingale." The older girls are taught to sew and mop the floors, and to perform all household work, all attending a near-by school in the winter.

The girls occupy the old building and the handsome new building which has been in use a little over a week, is set apart for the boys, a bridge connecting the two.

The dining-room of the home is on the lower floor, and here the seventy children march three times a day to the music of a triangle. There is a golden text on the wall, and the attendant escort of small girls recited it to show how well they had learned it, but this place with bowls and mugs and knives and forks, and tables and chairs of graded sizes, such as Goldilocks found when she visited the bear's house, are all in charge of the boys. They wash and dry the dishes and mop the floors and keep all this domain in order.

A handsome assembly hall is on the next floor, with sliding doors which separate play rooms for the large and small boys, and another room which it is hoped will develop in time into a library. A bright American flag draped one of the doors in this hall, and pretty decorations in honor of this first reception were all about, and four young girls served delicious fruitade to the thirsty guests who had turned out to attend.

The only drawback to this fine new building was the absence of any furnishings except in the dormitories and dining-room. Upstairs were the dormitories for the large boys and the small boys, airy and bright and with carefully made beds, which these boys made up even unto the square corners, which are necessary to a good effect.

There are bath-rooms near by, and special provision for that last necessary bed-time ceremony of foot washing, while beyond is a room with little lockers for every little lad's clothes and possessions, an orderly but motley assortment being contained therein, from overalls to best waists, and a few firecrackers too precious to be sacrificed even on the Fourth of July.

Outside is the play ground, but when work is done there is not much in the way of entertainment and now that school is out the managers of the home are desirous of finding some light employment for the older boys, in the neighborhood.

The home cannot shelter the children after they are 14 years old, but homes have to be found for them.

Strange to say, the girls are in demand, but it seems a more difficult matter to find homes for homeless young boys.

Mrs. Cutler, the head of the home, and the six other ladies engaged in the work, received the friends yesterday. They were assisted by Mrs. E. A. Salisbury, vice-president of the board of directors, and by Mrs. Hellman and Mrs. Burns.

DANIEL'S PROPHECIES.

Evangelistic Meetings at Seventh and Spring Streets Attended by Large Crowds.

Evangelist Simpson resumed his examination of the prophecies of Daniel last evening at the gospel pavilion, at Seventh and Spring streets. Additional seats were provided, and the attendance was so great that it is probable the tent will be extended to accommodate the crowds. The wonderful beasts described in the seventh chapter of Daniel as seen in vision, were explained. The lion with eagle's wings being the symbol of Babylon, the bear typical of Media-Persia, the leopard with four heads and four wings the symbol of Greece, the great and terrible beast with ten horns the symbol of Rome, afterward divided into the ten nations, and the same animal, with the little horn, in which appeared eyes like the eyes of a man and a mouth speaking great things, representative of the papacy. The accuracy of the prophecy was demonstrated, the development of empire having brought the dominion down to the final point of human direction, as outlined in the prophecy. This evening Mr. Simpson will speak of the great signs, the darkening of the sun and moon, and the falling of the stars, all predicted to occur just before the second coming of Christ, which actually occurred in recent times and which constitute phenomena inexplicable to scientists. Several clergymen are assisting in the services.

VENTURA COUNTY FOR BARD.

[Ventura Free Press:] The Bard strength is on the increase throughout the county, as it is all over the State. Of course the push politician is doing all he can to discredit the Bard candidacy and to minimize the Senator's strength, but the people are rapidly rallying under the Bard banner and so far as Ventura county is concerned it may be safely stated that Bard has already carried it. There will be no opposition to Col. Perkins for the Assembly in many parts of the county, and so quiet is the Oxnard camp that the impression has gone out that before the date of the primaries Mr. Perkins will be the only Republican candidate for the Assembly.

A FATHER'S AWFUL GRIEF.

Only Endearing Terms for His Wayward "Baby."

Ada Grace Willmons Destroys Her Own Life.

Father's Decription of Her Last Moments.

"Somebody is responsible for this and somebody must suffer for it, either through me or through the law."

These were the words last night of the heart-broken father of Ada Grace Willmons, who lay dead in the morgue, having with her own hand administered the dose that took her life.

Mr. Willmons is a refined gentleman both in appearance and language, and his agony was something terrible to see as he refused to discuss the suicide of his daughter, but constantly praised her with endearing terms. He did not disguise the fact that all things in her life were not to his liking; but not a syllable did he drop that would mar the memory of the "sweet baby," as he once knew her and as he will ever think of her.

Ada Grace Willmons came to this city three years ago, leaving her father and three brothers in Maine and Massachusetts. A year later her father came "to see how she was getting along out here," to quote the words he used in his pathetic talk last night. They have been living in rooms at No. 717 Maple avenue, where late yesterday afternoon the girl killed herself with a dose of strychnine and was taken to the morgue of Pierce Bros., where an inquest will be held today.

"There was nothing premeditated about it," said her father last night, "but she just killed herself on the impulse."

Quickly catching himself as though he feared he had said something that would sound unkind of his "sweet baby," as he continually called her, he said:

"I said 'killed herself,' but there is no evidence that she did, only in what she said to me. She lay right here"—and with the tears streaming down his face he got up from the bed upon which he reclined, and tenderly indicated just where she had lain.

"She laid right here—how can I bear it? and she said: 'Papa I took strychnine,' but it could not have been strychnine, for there was no rigidity accompanying it. My God, this is awful! I am will; tonight; there is nothing more to live for and I wish I could go to sleep and never wake," and with a moan he threw himself on the bed.

"It is more than twenty years since her mother died and left me with four children and Ada was the youngest. I determined to keep my family together and God knows what I have suffered these years in trying to do it. The others have grown to manhood and live in Maine and Massachusetts, and three years ago when Ada came to the Pacific Coast, she was the sweetest little girl in the world. Oh my sweet baby! After a year I thought I would come out and see how she was getting along. She was a lovely girl, but Ada was not the sweet baby she used to be. There was something wrong, but I have nothing to say about that now."

Again the distracted man rolled upon the bed and wept like a child and held his head in his hands as if to keep it from bursting.

"I thought my cup was full," he sobbed, "but this is the worst of all to think of my baby killing herself. Just a little while ago she lay right here," and then he sobbed afresh.

The anguish of the man was enough to break an onlooker's heart. The only time the fountain of his tears dammed up, and the lines of his face hardened was when he said:

"Something is wrong about it all and the only thing I have to live for is to find out who is to blame. Ada did not do it all her own; somebody is responsible for this and somebody must suffer for it, either through me or through the law. I will devote the rest of my life to finding out who is at the bottom of it."

Mr. Willmons is 57 years of age, but his white hair and white moustache make him look older. He looked haggard and worn, but it is apparent that all his sufferings have not been in connection with this culminating sorrow that has so suddenly enveloped him.

His daughter lived only about five minutes after she called him to give her last farewell and tell him she had taken the fatal dose. In his distress he ran out and sent for Dr. D. J. Bartlett, whose office is at Seventh and Wall street, only a block distant, but the girl was dead when the physician arrived.

It is apparently the old, old story of the girl who finally came to the point where she could not face her loving and affectionate father in her disgrace, and rather than cause him more suffering than she had already done in her waywardness, she decided to pass forever out of his life.

TOOK STRYCHNINE.

Woman Whose Property was Set for the Street Attempted to Take Her Own Life.

Mrs. A. Hudson of No. 650 South Grand avenue was taken to the Receiving Hospital about noon yesterday suffering from a dose of strychnia, and the officers believe, a partial feigning of unconsciousness.

Mrs. Hudson had been notified to vacate the cottage, being unable to keep her rent paid, and as she had failed to get out the Sheriff's deputies were sent to dispossess her. When the police officers arrived, having been summoned by a telephone report that she had attempted suicide, all the furniture had been removed from the house except the bed upon which Mrs. Hudson lay. Two doctors were with her, and it was found that she had taken some strychnia tablets, but her condition was not serious. She was taken to the Receiving Hospital, where the poison when Mrs. Hudson was removed, and she soon was all right.

A representative of the Associated Charities was present at the house when Mrs. Hudson was removed, and said the latter had been aided by the association. She authorized Sergt. Williams to call upon her for anything necessary to the well-being of Mrs. Hudson. Sergt. Williams was not inclined to take the attempted suicide at altogether a genuine effort.

PUBLIC SERVICE—OFFICIAL DOINGS.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

In his annual report, filed yesterday with the Police Commission, Chief Hammel recommended that fifty additional patrolmen be added to the present force, and that sub-stations be established in the residence districts.

There is to be more contention over a gas ordinance, and the difficulty is going to be to draft one that will stand fire in the Supreme Court.

Probate was yesterday asked on the will of the late Mrs. Stimson, whose estate will range nearly a million dollars.

AT THE CITY HALL.

TO INCREASE POLICE FORCE.

COMMISSION ASKS FOR FIFTY ADDITIONAL MEN.

Chief Hammel Says It is Impossible to Properly Patrol City with Present Force — New Substations for Residence Districts—More Buzz Wagons.

Fifty additional patrolmen, six new substations to be situated in the residence districts, and two new combination automobile patrol and ambulance machines were among the recommendations in the annual report of Chief of Police W. A. Hammel, which was yesterday morning filed with the Police Commission.

Chief Hammel estimated that the aggregate expense of the things necessary to more effectively police the city would amount to $49,150.

Indorsing every recommendation in the report, the Commission directed that it be forwarded to the City Council.

Chief Hammel's recommendations were as follows:

Fifty more policemen:

(1.) That a lot be purchased and a substation built in the Vernon district, the total expense of which is estimated to be $3500.

(2.) The purchase of a lot and the building of a substation at or near the corner of Washington and Main streets, at an estimated expense of $000.

(3.) Lot and substation at or near the corner of Jefferson street and Wesley avenue, at an estimated expense of $3500.

(4.) Lot and substation in Pico Heights at a point to be determined by the Honorable Council and the expense of which would depend somewhat on the location, but is estimated to be about $4000.

(5.) Lot and substation at or near the corner of Belmont avenue and Temple street, at an estimated expense of $3500.

(6.) Lot and substation on Boyle Heights, at a point to be selected by the Honorable City Council, at an expense estimated at $3500.

Add to this about $7000 for equipments and we have an estimated expense of $25,000 for the building and equipping of all of the substations.

And I further recommend that one lieutenant and one sergeant be appointed to take charge of each substation, who will be given such details of patrolmen as the work of their respective stations may require from time to time.

I further respectfully recommend that the work of remodeling the office portion of the central police station, which had heretofore been considered and for which, I am informed, plans have already been drawn, be at once proceeded with, as the additional rooms that would be provided by the contemplated alterations are very badly needed. This work can be done at an estimated cost of $10,000.

I further recommend that six or eight new steel cells be placed in the large vacant space in the center of the second story of the jail, thereby giving us greatly-increased facilities for isolating and properly controlling criminals charged with felonies. Also that additional cells and rooms, which can be cut from the space above referred to and the room adjoining the same on the south, be added to the woman's department, a part of the same to be properly equipped for and used as a temporary hospital for sick female prisoners. The said new cells and alterations on the second floor of the jail could be made for an estimated expense of $5000.

I further recommend that six new patrol wagons, at an estimated expense of $4000. Also the purchase of two-horse, jump-seat Concord wagons, at an estimated expense of $150, which would save our very considerable livery bills for horses and conveyances that members of the department—the detectives particularly—are obliged to have from time to time.

I also respectfully recommend that the salary of the assistant matron be made the same as that of the matron, as she has precisely the same hours of duty and the same work to perform as the matron.

Boxing Ordinance.

Under consideration by the Council Committee on Legislation is an ordinance providing for the establishment of a preferred district outside of which boxing matches shall be prohibited. Application for the establishment of such a district was filed with the Council more than a month ago. It was then referred to the Legislative Committee. This body is now debating the executive sessions the advisability of an attempt to restrict pugilistic encounters to the business district.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

TO SHUT OFF OFFENSIVE GAS.

ANOTHER ORDINANCE COMING AGAINST INDEPENDENT CO.

Petition has Been Filed and Effort Will have to Be Made to Dodge the Ruling of the Supreme Court. Hearing Set for the Twenty-Fifth Inst.

When the Supervisors passed an ordinance (No. 60, new series,) prohibiting the erection of gas works within the limits of the Garvanza district, Attorney Bacon saw to it that the document was prepared on a rush order, and it became effective late one Saturday afternoon. Ordinarily Saturday is an off day with the Supervisors so far as work in the Courthouse is concerned, but extraordinary conditions require extraordinary remedies and the slap at the Independent Gas Company was given in this way.

In due course of time this ordinance came before the Supreme Court, and in the first round it was ruled out as unconstitutional. But during all of this time the Independent Gas Company has been offensively manufacturing gas and selling it to customers. Now the old-timers who were to the front in having the first ordinance passed have filed another petition with the Board of Supervisors inviting that body to run a tilt with the Supreme Court. The petition has been set for hearing on the 25th inst., and at that time the opposing gas corporations will be much in evidence, though they will appear under the nom de guerre of the forty-one men who have appended their names to the petition, in the forefront of which is Attorney Bacon.

The effort is to close down the Independent Gas Company's plant, and it is believed that an ordinance can be drawn that will stand the fire of the Supreme Court under ordinary circumstances and conditions. The last ordinance was held to be unconstitutional because the district comprised, as it was alleged almost entirely waste lands, and also because the corporation complained of was manufacturing gas by an improved process that did not permit the escape of smoke, gas or noxious vapors. To such allegations being allowed to be introduced Chief Deputy District Attorney James, for the county, and Attorney La Compte Davis, for the Los Angeles Lighting Company, objected. They contended that if such allegations were permitted it developed upon them to enter a denial, and then it would become incumbent upon the Supreme Court to take testimony, a condition of things manifestly improper. Both of the counsel appearing in defense of the ordinance took their stand on general rule of the Supreme Court that in determining the constitutionality of ordinances the court does not go beyond what is shown on the face of the ordinance itself.

But because the alleged facts regarding waste land, etc., were not denied the Supreme Court gave the quietus to the ordinance, and the Independent Gas Company became more independent than ever. Now it is up to the Supervisors to pass an ordinance that will stand this criticism of the Supreme Court, and it is not understood that there will be any particular difficulty about it.

SHE "GOT SAVED." THEN RAISED CAIN.

Mrs. Annie Fisher got a divorce from her husband, John I. W. Fisher, yesterday in Judge York's court, but it is doubtful if her decree would have been handed down had not Mrs. Ida Miles "got saved."

The parties all belong in Monrovia and are colored people. Mrs. Fisher charged her husband with having told stories about her, but that was merely a kind of make-weight to her divorce complaint, for her strong suit was having carried on "ridiculous scandalus" with Mrs. Miles, who was named as the co-respondent.

Mrs. Miles was present as a witness for the wife. She said that Fisher came philandering around her place and offered her a loan of $10. After such kindness she said she had not been able to resist the blandishments of her admirer. But she said she never got the $10 loan, and never saw more than $4 of it. Shortly after that, she said, she "got saved" and the "Lawd tol her she could'n have no res, till she jest up and tol Mrs. Fisher all about hit."

Acting on this supposed revelation Mrs. Miles went over to the Fisher place and very speedily, the fat was in the fire. Things were doing when Fisher came home, and his wife called quits on him yesterday.

MRS. STIMSON'S WILL. MILLION DOLLAR ESTATE.

A petition for probate of the will of the late Mrs. Achsah J. Stimson, who died on July 1, was filed in the Probate Court yesterday by Willard H. and Ezra T. Stimson and Fred C. Devendorf, executors under the will. The value of the estate for which probate is asked is set out at $600,000, but is stated to be actually in excess of that amount. The instrument bears date of January 23, 1904, and was witnessed by Margaret Chisope and John D. Pope.

With the exception of one bequest to the Stimson-Lafayette Industrial Association, all of the estate of the deceased is left to members of her family. It is first provided that the residence at No. 2421 South Figueroa street, valued at $100,000, and the south half of lot 18, block 16, Ord's survey, valued at $70,000, be sold and the proceeds, with all moneys, stocks and bonds and mortgages, be divided equally between the five children: Willard H., Olive J. Fay, Charles D. Ezra T. and Fred Stimson.

The Stimson Block, corner of Third and Spring streets, valued at $400,000 and yielding an income of $22,000, is to be managed by the executors in trust, until Frederick Fanning Stimson, a grandchild, son of Fred Stimson, now 1 year old, shall have arrived at the age of 21. From the net income $2000 is to be paid to the child's guardian every three months until he arrives at his majority, and then the Stimson Block is to be sold. The proceeds are to be equally divided among the children of deceased and the descendants of any child who may have died in the meantime, but the grandchild, Fred Fanning Stimson, is to be regarded as one of the children of deceased and receive equal share with them.

To her brother, John C. M. Spencer, Mrs. Stimson left, during his life, the income of certain property in the Damen & Millard tract, and at his decease it is to become the separate estate of Mary M. Spencer. To James E. Spencer is bequeathed $10,000; to a sister, Mary E. Spencer, $20,000; to a niece, Mary M. Spencer, a place on Twenty-eighth street, after the termination of the life estate of her father and mother, and to Fred C. Devendorf is left $6000 and a marble bust of the late husband of deceased.

To Mrs. Margaret Donato is left $2500, and to J. F. Connell, the engineer in charge at the Stimson and Douglas blocks, $2000.

To Alva Spencer, a brother, to a niece, Mary M. Spencer, and to Julia, wife of John C. M. Spencer, is left $1500 each.

Mrs. Stimson also provided that $50 a month be paid toward defraying the expenses of Elsie Noble, stepdaughter of her deceased son, Jay Stimson, and this sum is to be continued until the girl has completed her course of study at the Hopkins Art Institute at San Francisco. During the same period of time, too, $25 a month is to be paid to the mother of Elsie Noble, Mrs. Jeane Stimson. But if the girl should marry before her studies are completed then the stipend will stop.

To the Stimson-Lafayette Industrial Association is bequeathed the sum of $20,000 as a permanent endowment, on the condition that there shall be perpetually carried on in Los Angeles an industrial school in accord with the purposes of the association as set out in the articles of the association.

A final provision of the will is to the effect that if any child or grandchild seeks to contest it then any bequest made to such relative shall be vacated and set aside, and $5 shall be the sum total of such an one's inheritance.

SOUTHARD ESTATE. SPECIAL LETTERS GRANTED.

The estate of Susan S. Southard, who died on July 1, at the County Hospital, and which has been running itself since that time is to be administered upon in the usual way.

The publication of the fact that the woman was dead and that no one having authority was looking after the estate brought the matter to a head.

Yesterday Fred Wheeler, through his attorney, Bernard Potter, filed his petition for letters of administration. He set forth that the estate consists of $544 in cash, and an equity in the rooming-house, "The Southard" on South Main street, and also a chattel mortgage on the furniture of a rooming house in San Francisco. Altogether the estate was alleged to be worth only $1500. Petitioner represented that he is the nominee of the mother of the deceased, Mrs. Jane Richardson, an old lady of 80, who resides at Renfrew, Ontario, Canada.

Inasmuch as a non-resident can nominate anyone to administer an estate here the public administrator at once filed his application for special letters. The matter came to a hearing yesterday and Judge Wilbur took it under consideration. Later in the day he ordered that special letters issue as prayed for by Mr. McGarvin. An inventory will now be at once made of all the property at "The Southard" to see just what this rather mysterious estate does consist of.

WINGS TOOK FLIGHT. FLUTTERED OUT OF COURT.

The Wing family lined up before Judge Wilbur yesterday in two detachments. There was Mr. Frank H. Wing, elderly looking and wearing the air of a staid business man making an uphill fight against fortune. He settled himself at the attorney's table and proceeded to bring all kinds of cute little memorandas out of a bulky pocket book.

Mrs. Wing also is elderly. She was supported by two ladies and a dot of a child all of whom were smilingly sympathetic. The two Wing boys occupied neutral territory between their parents.

The wife had preferred an insanity complaint against her husband. She charged him with having made threats against her, having taken her children away from her, and also said that he saw strange things. The things he saw were angels—cherubs with wings springing out of their ears and flapping their way through space. When called upon to tell all about her charges, Mrs. Wing proceeded to open the closet door and let the family skeleton dance.

"Oh, he's been awful," said Mrs. Wing, "he's threatened me and told me that he'd take my children from me where I could never see them again. He appears to have imbibed a hatred for me and has threatened me bodily harm. We've separated twice, and when he took the children away last time I only found them again last June."

Mrs. Wing took a short rest and then she petered along again.

"He says that I'm untrue to him, that I try to poison him, and that I'm a traitor. He tells the children that I'm not a good woman and calls me names."

"Has he delusions?" inquired Judge Wilbur.

"Delusions!" exclaimed Mrs. Wing in a tone of expostulating innocence, "why they are all delusions. Sometimes he even assumes that I've confessed to what he says against me."

Then Mrs. Wing went on to say that the last six weeks her husband had been much better, but just for that reason she anticipated an outbreak. He always was nice and kind just before making some fancy crack. For twenty-six years they had been married, but looking back she said that she could see now that in the very earliest days her husband had an off-color streak.

After this series of charges and allegation the court cheerfully asked Mr. Wing what he had to say. The alleged insane patient sat up quite briskly and knowingly for an insane person.

"I don't know just what you want me to say," he remarked, "but I can say this; that I deny all of her charges. I've been an affectionate husband and father, and can prove it."

Then Mr. Wing pulled the string and the skeleton began to dance again to the same old obligato.

"She deserted me three times—that for a starter," and Mr. Wing pulled his data around as he got the required memoranda and called off the dates when his wife left him and then experienced a change of heart and returned again. Then he proceeded to say that his wife had a mania to separate him from the love and affection of his children.

"She took my 8-year-old Frankie," he said, "and under pretence of buying her shoes took her away and left her with a married daughter. I was then keeping house with my two boys, and cooked and cared for them besides attending to my business. My wife came around and persuaded one child to pack it's things and throw them out of the window where she might pick them up, and in that way they might go off together."

Mr. Wing was going into a multitude of details when Judge Wilbur called time.

"She charges you with having accused her of unfaithfulness?" said the court.

"I don't see it in the complaint," answered Wing quickly, being lawyer enough to know he was not required to plead to anything not charged him.

"Well," answered the court, "but you heard her yourself."

"Yes, I heard it," answered Wing dryly, "and I have the gravest reasons to believe it, but I think that is a matter more for the divorce court than for an examination such as this."

That was calling time on the court with a vengeance, and Wing followed up his advantage by summoning an old lady, Mrs. Petitt, who sat smiling at everybody and more especially at a huge canine that persisted in filling the role of lap dog. Mrs. Petitt was almost as deaf as a post, and Clerk Warren had to go around and shout the oath in her ear. The sum total of her testimony was that Wing and the children had lived with her for six months and that he was a most affectionate father, and cared for the boys most assiduously.

Clinton Wing, a nice lad of about 14, wasn't volunteering any statements. He looked much cast down. In answer to a question he said his father treated him first-rate.

"And how does he treat your mother?"

The shadow deepened on the little fellow's face. "He treats mother all right, but"—then the lad was silent for his lips were quivering and tears were welling from his eyes.

"Very well, you needn't answer that," said the court kindly, "but does your father whip you?"

"No, sir, only when I do bad."

Here Mrs. Wing interposed to say that Clinton knew more than anyone else, but the influence the father wielded over him was "something terrible, terrible," and that the boy had been going about among the neighbors talking against her character.

The case was a very odd one, and very evidently there were two sides to it. One thing appeared reasonably certain Mr. Wing wasn't insane. He was ordered discharged, and at once grabbed his youngest boy by the arm and in a dictatorial way kept the little fellow on the run out of the courtroom, while the elder boy followed. Then Mrs. Wing discovered that she was again bereft of her children, and was about to make some outcry when she was hustled out into the corridor by the bailiff.

OBJECTS TO STAIRWAY. HELLMAN BLOCK SUIT.

The Off & Vaughan Drug Company yesterday began a suit against Herman W. Hellman, to enjoin and restrain him from carrying to completion a certain stairway from the entrance corridor to the basement in the new Hellman building at Fourth and Spring streets.

The plaintiff sets out that in August of last year the defendant agreed to lease to it certain store space in the new building, having frontage on Spring street, and also a frontage on the entrance corridor, with a door opening onto this corridor. This lease is to be for ten years, and for the first term of five years the rental is to be $13,200 per year, and for the second term of five years the rental is to be $14,400 per year.

Now it is alleged that the defendant is constructing a stairway from the corridor to the basement that will obstruct plaintiff's frontage and detract very much from the value of the lease. Inasmuch as the plaintiff says that $20,000 has been expended in fittings for this new store, and that the benefits will largely be lost unless the defendant is enjoined from carrying his present plan to completion the court is asked to issue a temporary restraining order, and make the same perpetual at time of hearing.

COURTHOUSE NOTES. BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

JUST WANTED TOBACCO. John Chaplin started from Hynes for Long Beach to get some tobacco and went out of his head on the way. He is an Englishman and has semi-lucid intervals. It was pitiful yesterday to see how recognition appeared on his face when his wife sat by his side and tried through her tears to speak to him. He looked at her intently and as he recognized her, his face began to work and he too, nearly broke down. He was committed to Highland.

ACUTE MELANCHOLIA. Miss Carrie H. King came here from Cleveland, O., in August of last year, and recently has had a recurrence of the complaint she suffered from in the East. For a time she was in an insane asylum in Ohio. She is over 40 years of age, and most of the time is sunk in a lethargy from which she only arouses at intervals. She was committed to Highland.

SPAULDING ACQUITTED. Fred Spaulding was tried before Judge Smith and a jury yesterday, on the charge of having burglarized a room in a lodging-house on Main street. He was charged with having taken a suit of clothes and some miscellaneous articles, but the jury returned a verdict of "not guilty." The defendant is being held on a second charge.

DUO OF DIVORCES. Lizzie H. Stanshfield was granted a decree by Judge Conrey yesterday, divorcing her from Henry W. Stanshfield, on the ground of desertion and failure to provide. In the same department Essy L. Wilson was granted a decree divorcing her from P. H. Wilson, on the ground of cruelty. These parties were only married a few months, and then the wife had to fly for her life. They werecrooming downtown and one night the husband pulled a knife and said he was going to make an end of her and then finish up with himself. Mrs. Wilson wasn't certain as to her husband's intention as to himself, but she felt that he was going to keep his word to her, and gave a scream. A roomer near by rushed in and rescued the woman from her murderous husband.

WEBSTER'S DIVORCE. John M. Webster told Judge York yesterday that shortly after his marriage to Arvilla M. Webster there was a little arrival in the family that at the time caused a good deal of joy. Later on, however, this joy was minimized by a doubt that arose in the supposed father's mind, and that was not relieved when his wife was caught in an intrigue by himself and witnesses. After that she departed suddenly,—and yesterday the husband got his decree.

POLICE COURT. MANY DRUNKEN WOMEN.

Justice Chambers was yesterday cogitating upon the cause of the increase in drunkenness among women, and he thought out aloud.

Mrs. Lucile Casey and Mrs. Eva Temple were each sentenced to twenty days in the City Jail to do penance for having been found in a state of intoxication. On the previous day three women had been before the same court on like charges, and before the ink was dry on the two sentences administered yesterday, lastly Brown and May Sperle had been placed in the tank to sober up for trial today. Three of this bunch served sixty days for vagrancy, having been released June 21, and two of them have done a ten days' sentence since for drunkenness.

Sullivan and the Barber.

"Big Tim" Sullivan, who likes a clean, close shave every day tells of his experience with a barber in Pennsylvania avenue while he was attending Congress. Mr. Sullivan went into the shop one morning and reposed comfortably in the chair. For two or three mornings he had noticed the barber had been drinking, but he hesitated to speak to him about it. Finally the blade of the razor slipped under the surface of the Congressman's chubby chin.

"There, you idiot!" he shouted, jumping from the chair. "Now, you see what liquor does."

"Yes," replied the barber calmly, "it is apt to make the skin tender."—[New York Times.

EVERY dog has his day, and yesterday was one of the day's of a dog. Thereby hangs a tale concerning "Happy Harry" (Hooligan) Poole and Earl Roger's prize bull pup. Rogers thinks a heap of that dog and advertised a liberal reward for his recovery when the dog went astray some months ago. "Happy Harry," who was at that time a special delivery messenger for the postoffice, found the wandering canine and recognized him as Rogers's property, by the collar the dog had on. Without knowing that any reward had been offered, Harry called up the dog's master by telephone and asked:

"Mr. Rogers, do you want your dog?"

"You bet I do. Five dollars if you bring him up to my office," answered the attorney.

Five minutes later Rogers had his dog, and "Happy Harry" was running to the Hotel Livingstone, where his mother is employed, with a crisp five-dollar bill in his pocket to hand to Mrs. Poole, who is his banker.

"Where did you get so much money, Harry?" asked his mother.

"Lawyer Rogers gave it to me for finding his dog."

"Well, I should think $1.00 was pay enough for any dog," said the Widow Poole, but she didn't know what a valuable animal Rogers's bull terrier is.

"Happy Harry" considered that dog day the luckiest in his career, and he didn't expect to see the like of it again soon. But the dog days have come again.

Harry is now a contestant for a Times scholarship, and yesterday called upon the proud owner of the niftiest bulldog in town to solicit his assistance in his scholarship campaign. No sooner had he entered the lawyer's office, than Mr. Rogers said:

"You are the boy who brought me back my dog?"

"Yes, sir, and you paid me well for it, too."

"Well, I haven't paid you any too much. That dog is worth a whole lot to me, and I was mighty glad to get him back. What can I do for you today, my boy?"

"Why, sir, I am in The Times' scholarship contest, and I thought maybe you would help me to win a scholarship."

"You bet, I will." Then turning to his secretary: "Give this young man a check to pay for a year's subscription to that great educational journal, the Los Angeles Daily Times. And say, boy, give me a bunch of those subscription blanks. I think I know at least ten good fellows, who will give you a year each, and boost you right up to the top of the list."

With such a hustler as Earl Rogers to help him, "Happy Harry" expects to get out of seventeenth place, where he is now anchored, and land somewhere in uppertendom soon. Who would have thought that a bandy-legged bull pup could aid the cause of education so much! Verily, the dog is having his day.

S. HALSEY THOMPSON.

STRENUOUS PASADENA BOY.

It is beginning to look as though Lula Briant has a mortgage on first place in the score for keeps. She is climbing higher every day, keeping a safe distance between herself and the next nearest competitor, Halsey Thompson of Pasadena, who is making a strenuous endeavor to overtake her.

Young Thompson, whose picture is presented today, is a mighty husky boy for his age. He is not yet 14, but is already a six-footer, and is built in proportion. As manager of the Columbia School's athletic team, he has become somewhat identified with amateur athletics in Pasadena, and should succeed in winning a Polytechnic Institute scholarship, as Lester Hews has also gone up on appearance personally, and keeps so near the head of the where competition is so

Miss Jeanette Bower of Pasadena came near winning first prize last year, and young Thompson has a better start, even, that she did. Pasadena will come out ahead this year. Miss Hannah T. Thompson of Halsey, won a scholarship year in the Los Angeles School of and Design, and is rendering brother most valuable assistance campaign.

SOLID SIX AGAIN BROKEN.

There has been another shaking of the solid six, Hazel Burke having broken into that select not only relegating Laura Seward seventh place, but becoming one the high five, by crowding Harry wich down to sixth place. Well, Leftwich and Miss Seward will heard from before the week is Neither of them rendered a report terday, it being now nearly two since the Inglewood farmer had his hand, but rumors are town that he is preparing to mighty big jump the next time heard from.

Beva Johnson of Pomona has up to twelfth place, and Laura man of Hynes has moved up to tenth. Elizabeth Dehmlow and Miller have each gone one notch er. Stella Callender has gone up rungs of the ladder, and Hubert three. Laura Pier has gone up peg and Christy Walsh two. Mary Grace Houston, the little Moneta, has jumped all the way thirty-fifth to twenty-sixth place. in Tobias of Pico Heights has up from forty-fifth to forty-Lester Hews has also gone up one gree. The score tells the rest of story.

HIGHBALL'S LEG BROKEN. IS INSURED FOR $25,000.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, July 12.—Highball, the American Derby winner, and one of the best of the three-year-olds, broke his leg at the ankle during the running of the Seagate stakes at Brighton Beach today. As Highball is insured for $25,000, a message was sent to a representative of the insurance company in New York to come at once to look at the Derby winner, and end his agony, but Bud May, half-owner of the horse, would not consent to have him shot.

Five times faced the starter for the Seagate stakes, with Highball favorite and five times Highball showed in front to the turn, when he bore out and had to hit him over the head to keep him in. Knight Errant then assumed the lead and showed the way to the finish, winning easily by two lengths from St. Valentine.

As the field swung into the stretch, Highball was seen to falter, and Odom and a man held the broken leg while both men pushed him over the line, where his leg was strapped up so it could not touch the ground, he was then led to his stable.

Summary:

Five and one-half furlongs: Jack Atkinson won, High Born second, Benedict third; time 1:07 4-5.

Six furlongs: Merry England won, Sweetmeat second, Grand Opera third; time 1:13 4-5.

Mile and one-sixteenth: Flammula won, Old England second, Palm Reader third; time 1:47.

The Seagate Stakes, one mile and one-eighth: Knight Errant won, St. Valentine second; time 1:52 3-5.

Steeplechase, mile and a furlong: The Picket won, Gold Money second, Sweets third; time 1:54 1-5.

Five and one-half furlongs: Hugo Bunker won, Racine second, Bill Bailey II third; time 1:09.

Late in the evening, when it became evident that the saving of the horse was impossible, Highball was chloroformed and shot." His left foreleg was broken in two places.

F. E. Morrison of Boston, with a forty-four-horse power gasoline car, broke all records for that class of machine and nearly equaled in corrected time the work done earlier in the day by Stanley, with a steam vehicle. He made the ascent in the actual running time of 31 minutes 6 4-5 seconds, but was allowed two minutes on account of having to turn to pass a car ahead of him. This gave him a record of 29 minutes 6 4-5 seconds.

RUBERNECKS ARE THE RAGE.

TOURNAMENT IS ARRANGED BY ALF MACKENZIE.

Freaky Game has Made Such a Hit that Entries Were Forthcomihg at the Announcement—Cash Prizes and Match Play—How the Game is Played.

Col. Alpheus Epictetus Mackenzie announced yesterday afternoon that he would give a rubberneck tournament at the Monarch alleys and within half an hour half a dozen entries were on file, showing pretty thoroughly that the big ball brethren like a change of diet once in a while.

The rubberneck tournament will in all probability draw at least ten entries by the time play is scheduled to start. Mackenzie has made up a purse of $15 to the winner, $10 to the second and $5 to the third. Every man will bowl a series of five matches with every other man, five games to the match and best three to show the winner. Total matches won will count on percentage and form a basis for the awarding of the prizes. Schedule will be drafted later; it will be quite a job.

For those unfortunates numbered among the uninitiate, let it be known that rubberneck is a small-ball game, something like ducks, only more so. It derives its name from the odd shape of the pins, which are fourteen inches in height, mostly neck. They have a round, low body and hitting the head pin is by no means an indication of a strike. Rubberneck pins, like Kuroki's Japs, usually do the unexpected. Two five-inch balls are bowled. The count is like tenpins. So uncertain is the game that the best bowlers think they are doing well when they score 100, though some fortunate individual did scratch out the phenomenal total of 150 at the Monarch alleys not long since. This Mackenzie explains, was an accident.

As a means of decreasing the chest measure of certain bowlers who think tenpins has nothing further for them to learn, rubberneck serves an admirable purpose. It will take the conceit out of all such more effectively than any other treatment known to science. The rule is to aim at the head pin and pull the trigger hard. If the ball looks good for a strike, one usually chalks up about four pins. The rest will reel and rock like so many drunken sailors, but they do not fall.

Prizes in the deceased Class A doubles competition were presented last night at the Monarch alleys. A big crowd was on hand, and heavy josh ing of the actors was the order of the night.

TIMES CUP'S KEEN RIVALS.

South Coast Boats Again to Race for Trophy.

Saturday the Date, Course Same as Last Year.

Fellows May Sail Mischief. Regatta Sunday.

What promises to be the hottest yacht race of the season will occur on Saturday afternoon when the pick of the South Coast fleet crosses the starting line and stands off on the first beat of the second tussle for The Times Cup.

Last year Herbert Pease's fleet little flier, Venus, had the event all her own way; but the rejuvenation of the Marie, and the coming of that new boat which was built by Joe Fellows to work "mischief" with Pease's pet has introduced two more factors into the competition, and the winner Saturday will have to play all the points of the nautical game.

Already the Venus Marie an Mischief have hooked up twice, with, it must be admitted, hardly satisfactory results to the owners of either of the new boats. Skipper Wedgwood's big yacht has had considerable work done on her; is carrying a new set of sails, and, locally, has been the salt-water sensation of the season, proving herself a particularly good cruiser. A very fast and serviceable boat in all weathers, she shines with brilliance in rough water. Wedgwood understands her as a good jockey understands his mount, and he gets the best there is in Marie out of her. Herbert Pease has had considerable hard luck with Venus; last Sunday's carrying away of her mast was the culmination of a series of minor mishaps, and the troubles of the Mischief have already been too well advertised. Both have undergone extensive repairs. The trio will be in good shape by the sailing day, however, and with the prevailing double-reef breezes which have been making things interesting for amateur mariners outside, it is safe to predict there will be no trouble about finishing in time.

The old course will be followed, as it proved satisfactory enough last season. Among yachtsmen an idea exists that Marie is very likely to get her skipper's name chased on the cup Saturday, many of the boat's most ardent admirers being men who could not see her at all as a winning possibility last winter.

Walter Folsom, as owner of the Mischief, probably will not sail her Saturday; at least there is a possibility his place at the tiller will be taken by Joe Fellows, who built the boat. In some quarters of the club more or less opposition may exist to Fellows appearing in this capacity, inasmuch as Folsom, a part owner of the yacht, is as experienced a skipper himself as is Wedgwood, or Pease. Fellows is, however a member of the club, and under the rules ,probably he is eligible enough if he cares to sail. Being the builder of the Mischief he naturally wants to see personally that the best she has is brought out.

Whichever one wins, there will be a yacht race. The contest is most decidedly for blood—stripe, rich red gore. Not a one of the three skippers but believes he has a first mortgage on the victory if he can get his boat to behaving her prettiest. From a distance it looks as if luck might play a not inconsiderable part. The wind prospect is good enough to warrant a guess that the contestants will have plenty of opportunity to exercise all their sailing skill.

Sunday the second regatta of the South Coast Yacht Club will be sailed with the usual classifications obtaining. Certain arrangements are to be perfected today and tomorrow, but in the main, the event will be similar to the first.

With two days of keen yachting to interest them, South Coast men will turn out in force. Both races will be worth long trips to see. Special trains will be run on the Salt Lake to accommodate the crowds. The programme of the races, the entries, measurements and classifications will be announced later on in the week.

FEATHERS MAY FIGHT.

Negotiations were begun yesterday between Tom McCarey of the local boxing club and Jim Neil, father of the redoubtable Frankie, which may culminate in young Neil and Abe Attell battling for the featherweight championship in this city. Attell has already signified willingness, and as the Mayor of Chicago has stopped all boxing there during the summer months, thereby knocking out this pair by preventing a meeting they had already scheduled, McCarey thinks he has a chance.

Both these lads can make 122 pounds, the legitimate featherweight limit, with ease. The so-called "featherweights" fighting around the country at from 126 to 130 or worse are a class by themselves, and no more featherweights than they are middleweights.

McCarey will probably find, as have most other managers, that when it comes to the business point, Jim Neil wants the earth tagged and fenced with a first mortgage on the moon thrown in.

AN ASTONISHED LORD.

First Meeting Between Patrick A. Collins of Boston and the Marquis of Ripon.

[Pittsburgh Dispatch:] Patrick A. Collins of Boston, who headed the delegation from Massachusetts at the late Democratic convention, has had an eventful career. When the Marquis of Ripon visited the Massachusetts State Capitol in the spring of 1871 he sat down alongside of a beardless youngster in the corner of one of the leather sofas. The august Canadian Governor-General entered into conversation with the bright-faced youngster, who smiled quizzically as he replied to the condescending overtures. His Lordship somehow got the notion that he was talking to a page and made his impression known in some way.

"But I am a Senator," the young man said, with a smile.

"What!" said the Marquis, with a surprise that half a dozen exclamation points would not express.

"I am a Senator elected by a Boston district," Collins repeated.

"Were you born here in the city, too?" said the Marquis.

"No."

"Where, then?"

"In the island next to yours," with a sharp look and a laugh in his eye. The Marquis laughed heartily, too, and he remembered Patrick A. Collins's name and face, and when the two met in England a few summers later Collins had a warm welcome from the man who took him for a page in the State Senate. Three years before he met the Marquis Collins was foreman in a big upholstering shop. He was then 24 years of age, and had worked himself up through the usual grades from an apprentice. He landed in Boston when only 4 years old, and lived for awhile in Ohio, where he got some schooling, and worked at farming and coal mining. He was 16 when he returned to Boston, and apprenticed himself to his trade. Ever thrifty, he had $1100 in bank when 24 years old. That was the time his friends took to elect him to the Legislature, and he at the same time matriculated as a law student at Harvard. He served in the House two years, and then, in 1870, was promoted to the Senate, the youngest man who has hitherto attained that dignity. With the adjournment of the Senate in 1871 he swung his law shingle to the breeze, and kept on making friends and business from the start. Since then he has been a member of Congress, Consul-General in London and Mayor of Boston.

Problem in Engineering.

The engineers in charge of the construction of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, on Cathedral Heights, have solved an engineering problem which has troubled them for months and greatly delayed work on the great edifice. It involved the raising of eighty, ninety-ton pillars of Maine granite, and placing them on bases in a semi-circle, where they will hold up the roof of the choir, which forms the eastern part of the cathedral. The contractors had no derrick strong enough to raise and support the huge pillars, and until they were in place work on the outside walls could not go on.

A hurry order was sent to Oregon mills for several 150-foot sticks of Oregon pine. They were brought around Cape Horn in a sailing vessel, and finally reached the heights. A derrick of the necessary strength was soon constructed, and last week the tackle was placed around the first pillar, within twelve hours it was in place, the apparatus working without a hitch.

It was originally intended to have these columns turned out of a single piece of granite. Three of them broke of their own weight, however, when nearly completed, and the contractor was allowed to make them in two pieces. A second section, eighteen feet high, will be placed on top of the thirty-four-foot section already in place. Work on this portion of the cathedral will progress rapidly now. The stone for the walls and the Wisconsin stone with which the inside of the cathedral will be lined has been cut, and on the ground for some time, and will be put in place as rapidly as possible. The long delay caused many people to believe that work on the cathedral had been temporarily abandoned, but the Building Committee explains that it was entirely due to the difficulties just surmounted.—[New York Tribune.

How to Carry West Virginia.

"Give me $10 worth of fish hooks, and I will carry West Virginia for the eDmocratic party," said a well-known Texan, who has fished in that State. "The West Virginians love their country and their Stae," he continued, "but they love a fish hook better than their children. When I went into West Virginia, after a few shiners, every man I met leaned up against me and, after a moment's conversation on the weather, inquired, 'Neighbor, have you got a real, sure enough fish hook?'

"When I produced one, the State was mine, and the fullness thereof. If I can persuade the chairman of the Democratic National Committee to give me $10 worth of fish hooks, a lot of bait and pay my expenses, I can carry the State, whether the nominee be Parker, Gorman or Bryan."—[New York Tribune.

EVERY INCH A MAN!

DR. O. C. JOSLEN, The Leading Specialist.

SOMETIMES you see a man strong, virile, active, aggressive.

Every move he makes indicates decision. His brain is alert, his mind teems with ideas, nerve and muscle acts in harmony with his thought and under the control of his brain.

He is, in truth, A MAN.

Such a man has perfect health and you can figure truly that the ills so common to his sex do not trouble him. It is just such men that I build up from the shattered pallets that come to me for treatment.

I have learned to cure men by study and by experience. Seventeen years of successful practice have perfected my methods so that a cure is a certainty. I have devised new and scientific methods of treating every phase of man's diseases and can effect permanent cures where others fail. There is no possibility of failure and no delay. I follow Nature's own plan of restoration, aiding the natural forces by my own original methods.

PAINLESS, PROMPT AND THOROUGH.

My treatment for "Weakness" strikes directly at the seat of the disorder and is local in its application. Under thousands of tests, many severe, it has proven its efficiency and its scientific value. Where others fail or only partially restore I secure complete and permanent cures. The prostate gland is brought to its normal condition and the entire organic system built up. The congestion is removed and health comes back quickly and for all time.

I TREAT MEN ONLY

And I am always willing to wait for my fee until a cure is effected.

Write for my free pamphlet, "Live All Your Years A Man."

My Treatment CURES
AND YOU WILL NOTE IMPROVEMENT FROM THE FIRST

It has true merit and I accomplish more in one week than can ever be accomplished by guessing through the mail. I have cured numerous cases in one week by getting at the exact cause, conditions that were stubborn and would not yield to ordinary treatment—a treatment must be the kind indicated to be effective, and this can only be ascertained by thorough examination.

I obtain the best results for my methods are the best.

FUNCTIONAL WEAKNESS

In many cases is made chronic by the unreasonable treatment employed. An attempt to force nature by harsh methods is the direct cause of failure. Twenty years' experience enables me to treat and cure these conditions with marked success. My treatment is the most reasonable, rational and eff

BUSINESS.

Considerable animation appeared in the New York stock market yesterday. Misled speculators at Chicago offered wheat for sale, but crop reports and prospects for rain brought desire to sell. September closed at 86½@86¾.

AN UNNATURAL UNION.

Some weeks before the assembling of the Democratic National Convention the New York Sun, an independent Democratic newspaper which generally says what it believes and believes what it says, declared that "if the preponderant conservative element at St. Louis should nominate a man whose record in itself is an impressive, conservative platform, and the Hearst-Bryan following should go forth in anger from the convention and organize a party of their own, the bolt would be likely to bring gain rather than loss to the Democracy. It is not conceivable," added the Sun, "that any candidate they might put up would get as many popular votes as were cast for Weaver in 1892, when Grover Cleveland beat Harrison and Weaver combined by a majority of 110 electoral votes."

The same paper, in its issue of July 1, denounces "the dishonorable character of the policy pursued at St. Louis by some of Judge Parker's representatives" (referring particularly to David B. Hill,) and declares that "what Hill gained for Judge Parker by his transactions with Bryan was a nomination in the dark, which Hill did not believe possible in the daylight. Such is the case in a nutshell. Under the circumstances," adds the Sun characteristically, "the respectable and respected nominee has done all he can do, short of withdrawing from the campaign, unless indeed, he turns his face to the woods and obeys literally the scriptural precept, 'Curse David.'"

There will be plenty of cursing David on both sides of the Democratic fence, from now on to the end of the campaign. The straight-out Democrats, who represent and embody the greater part of the sanity and safeness in the party, will "curse David" because of his weakness in compromising with the cohorts of Bryan to such an extent that all reference to the currency question was left out of the platform. The aforesaid cohorts, who are quite generally addicted to cursing everything that does not meet with their approval, will take it out on David by cursing him abundantly because of the sharp trick which was played upon them, by means of which they were virtually dragooned into pledging support to an avowed gold-standard candidate after they imagined that the issue had been neatly and successfully dodged in the platform. David will get no end of curses from this source; and, what is more to the point, the candidate for whom he is supposed to stand sponsor will not get many votes from the blaspheming crowd. Already the connubiating has begun between "prominent Populists" and "dissatisfied Bryan Democrats"—which terms are practically synonymous—with a view to "deciding upon some plan of action."

It is not in the least difficult to imagine what the line of action will be. Water will find its level. Unerringly the magnetic needle will seek the pole. The buzzard will find out if there is "something rotten in Denmark." The Populist voter will vote for the Populist candidate. It may well be questioned whether the alleged strategy which kept the Bryanite contingent nominally within the Democratic ranks will be of any real benefit to the Democratic party at the polls. It will certainly be an injury to the Democratic party in a moral and practical sense, so long as the Populist parasite assumes and exercises a right to dictate the policies of the political body upon which it preys.

The alliance of Democracy with Populism has been an unnatural union from the beginning. It has brought little advantage to either side, while it has brought untold loss of prestige and loss of principle to the Democratic party. The Democratic party itself is in large part responsible for the misalliance, for it invited and encouraged it in the beginning, for the sake of the votes which it was expected to bring. It would undoubtedly have been better for the Democratic party if it had had an open rupture with the Populistic elements at St. Louis, instead of the miserable truce that was patched up so clumsily. The rupture must come, sooner or later, and the sooner it comes the better it will be for the cause of genuine Democracy. The leaders may cry "peace, peace!" but there can be no real peace in an organization divided against itself. The Democratic party will be divided against itself while Bryan and men of his ilk are accorded a dominating place in its councils.

SILVER DOLLARS.

In a recent dispatch Director Roberts of the United States Mint was quoted as saying that "there will be no more new silver dollars turned out by the government mint plates unless, by some chance, a sixteen-to-one Congress should be elected, for the supply of silver bullion purchased under the Sherman Act is exhausted." The Director of the Mint probably bases his opinion that there will be no further coinage of silver dollars upon the fact that practice has demonstrated that it is extremely difficult to keep the silver dollars in circulation. The Treasury Department has reported to all sorts of expedients to accomplish this object, even to transporting the coin long distances at the expense of the government in order to get it into the channels of trade. But most of these efforts have been notably unsuccessful, except upon the Pacific Coast, where the people seem to prefer the jingle of any kind of coin to the use of paper money.

On October 1, 1903, the amount of standard silver dollars in circulation amounted to about $76,000,000, while $458,500,000 were stored in the Treasury vaults, represented by silver certificates in circulation to an equal amount, the silver certificates being issued in lieu of the coined dollars, at the option of the holder. The people, generally speaking, find the paper representatives of silver dollars much more convenient to handle than the more bulky coin, and so hasten to exchange the latter for silver certificates at the earliest opportunity, leaving the coin in the government's possession, to be stored as best it may. The storage of so vast a quantity of metallic silver, in addition to other classes of money required to be stored, is a good deal of a tax upon the storage facilities of the Treasury. The people, in a sense, have boycotted the standard silver dollars; hence it would seem to be folly to continue to pile up these bulky coins in the Treasury.

The silver purchase act of 1890 required the Secretary of the Treasury to purchase 4,500,000 ounces of silver per month, at the market price of silver bullion (or less than 4,500,000 ounces if less were offered,) and to pay for the same in treasury notes. The Secretary was further directed to coin this bullion until July 1, 1891, 2,000,000 ounces each month into standard silver dollars; and after July 1, 1891, to coin the bullion purchased under this act to such an amount only as would be necessary to redeem the treasury notes issued in payment for it. The silver purchase law went into effect August 14, 1890, and the purchasing clause of the law was repealed November 1, 1893. During the time between those dates the government bought 168,700,000 ounces of silver bullion and issued treasury notes to the amount of $155,900,000 in payment therefor. The bullion having all been coined, the treasury notes have been redeemed and their place has been largely taken up by silver certificates, the amount of currency in circulation having been increased by the difference between the bullion value and the coin value of the silver.

There is some talk of converting a portion of this great mass of silver dollars into subsidiary coins. There will be objections to this plan, on the ground that it would reduce the volume of legal tender currency. But it would not reduce the amount of money actually in use among the people, and it would really cause no serious harm, as the volume of legal tender money is steadily increasing, by reason of the coinage of gold and the issuance of national bank notes. There is a marked shortage in the volume of subsidiary coins, and all sections of the country would welcome an increase in this kind of money, so indispensable in the ordinary transactions of the people.

SOCIETY ON THE SEA.

The New York Press prints an exhaustive and important article, of some interest, on the changes which have taken place in the conventional trans-Atlantic steamer costume, noting particularly the innovations recently introduced by Mrs. Clarence H. Mackay. Although the article does not say so, the discerning reader will at once see that the innovations referred to are practicable only under proper climatic conditions.

"Mrs. Mackay," says the Press, "was never without a string of black pearls, and she varied her jewels brooches every night." No reference is made to the smile, which is to be taken for granted. It will be seen that Mrs. Mackay departed somewhat from conventional raiment—even from the au fait and décolleté ballroom costume. The Press rather superfluously adds that "the young matron was a center of attraction." The further comment, that "of all the fashionable women she is least inclined to surround herself with barriers of formality," also seems practically redundant.

But Mrs. Mackay's neck-elongating innovations were not all displayed aboard ship. Some were reserved for the astonished gaze of the Londoners, and were duly exhibited at the grand reception given by her mother-in-law at Carlton House Terrace. The article tells us that "the Mackay family received at the top of the marble staircase," and while no mention is made of it, it is believed the young matron at least "slipped on the top step" before the guests arrived. The article only specifically names the various jewels which she also wore, as well as the white gauze effect, "shot generously with silver threads," which are not famously opaque.

The article should silence the clamor of those who maintain that New York society women are weak. The apparent—and if accounts are true "apparent" is the correct term—hardiness of this fair New Yorker shows what living close to nature will do for a person.

From the text of the article in the Press, it seems almost certain that Mrs. Mackay will give Judge Parker a close run for the notoriety conferred upon him by a Southern admirer who declared recently that the judge "stands before the world as God made him."

Every night the Evening Express publishes an absurd statement to some such effect as this:

"Since June 9 (or some other date) 1621 inches of city advertising (or some other amount) have appeared in The Times at a cost to taxpayers of $972.60 (or some other sum,) or $324.20 (or such a figure) more than the same advertising would have cost had the Council awarded the contract to the Express."

Why the Express? The Express was not the lowest bidder for the city printing. The bid of the Journal, a newspaper equally competent legally and in other respects, was 25 per cent. lower than that of the Express. The fact is the Express was after "graft" and is angry because it failed to get it. If the Express really had the interests of the city at heart, it should have favored either the bid of The Times, which was the lowest on the basis of circulation, or that of the Journal, which was the lowest flat rate. As for the Express itself, it was not considered in the competition by the Council. It was disqualified and tabooed.

That preposterous and weeping false issue, Earl's Afternoon Cry of Grief, asserted yesterday that since the 9th of June last, 1621 inches of city advertising have been printed in this, the official paper, at an alleged cost to the taxpayers of $324.20 in excess of what the same advertising would have cost had the Council awarded the contract to the complainant. Yes, the Council did cruelly turn down the Afternoon Cry of Grief, refusing to entertain the bids of evening journals of small circulation. Had it done that it might have secured a bid 25 per cent. lower than that put in by the sore-headed journal with a grievance. What right has Earl to complain, shout, threaten and grow red in the face over the deserved repudiation of his mercenary sheet?

Earl's Afternoon Cry of Grief republishes from back numbers of The Times much matter with the aim of attempting to prove the inconsistency of this journal upon the subject of the initiative, referendum and recall. But the extracts made do not show that The Times ever supported, defended, or excused the conversion of this imported governmental device into an engine of private malice, selfish interest, personal disappointment and individual oppression. That is different; but it is precisely what is being attempted in the Davenport recall case—a case not yet won by the proscriptionists, by a long shot.

The last bulletin from the census bureau gives the whole number of negroes in the United States in 1900, including Alaska, Hawaii and Porto Rico, as 9,204,531; and this is the largest negro population in any country outside of the African continent itself. It is believed, however, that the esteemed South stands alone in persisting to regard this as anything more than a literally dark outlook.

No man ever found himself in worse political company than does President Roosevelt in this year of grace. He is in the hands of the Republican Philistines, and they will bind him with their withes.—[Champ Clark's convention speech.

In the light of results at St. Louis it is barely possible that Champ Clark, rabid partisan though he is, may be willing to concede that Judge Parker isn't any too safe in his present company.

Cobb of Alabama, or his family, now have a chance to get even with Tom Watson of Georgia, whom the Populists have nominated for President. It will be remembered that it was Tom Watson who prodded Cobb into making the bewildered speech which will go thundering down through the ages because it closed with the pathetic and now famous inquiry, "Mr. Speaker, where am I at?"

Earl's Afternoon Cry of Grief is continually talking about the attorneys of The Times, in connection with the "recall" injunction suit. The attorneys are actually those of Councilman Davenport, and they appear to be good ones. When The Times goes into a legal battle it will have its own attorneys, and will stand back of them throughout the tug-of-war.

Gov. La Follette will tour Wisconsin in an automobile to tell the dear people how it happened. And there is every reason to believe that a new and exaggerated variety of the automobile odor, resembling that of brimstone and sulphur, will follow in the wake of his machine.

Perhaps Jim Lynch will be interested in the new multi-color press in The Times' pressroom, and in watching the crowd of advertisers in The Times' counting-room, and in measuring the daily advertising in The Times. We say, perhaps.

Judge Parker celebrated the Fourth at Esopus by setting off several giant firecrackers, but their combined noise wasn't a circumstance to the commotion made by his bomb exploded in St. Louis last Saturday night.

From Berlin comes an apparently authentic report that a cat has hatched a brood of chickens. Mistress Tabby doubtless considers a brood of tender young chicks a desirable thing to have about the house.

It is announced that Gen. Kouropatkin will not attempt to hold Ta Tche Kiao, above Kaichou, near Haicheng. Too many hay-fever conditions thereabouts if there's anything in names.

Los Angeles will be glad to welcome Jim Lynch and show him how an orderly, prosperous, everybody-at-work-with-good-pay non-union city is conducted.

Although Senatorial candidates are becoming fairly numerous in the South, it is noticeable that the candidacy of Senator Bard goes marching, marching on.

The President's cousin has been fined $25 for fast riding in an automobile. There's an "issue" for the Democrats, by jimminy!

That paper on "Christian Union" demonstrated that Christian union for the moment at least was a theory and not a condition.

Judge Parker will resign his position as Chief Justice of the Court of Appeals as soon as notified of his nomination. Had the judge consulted with certain well-known politicians, and accepted their views, he would doubtless have chosen to resign the nomination and stay on the bench.

It is not believed, however, that Jim Lynch will be specially delighted with the new Times building and equipment.

Doubtless Judge Parker is already prepared to say that politics answers Sherman's famous definition of war.

However, it is believed Senator McCarren will conclude that the Democrats do not need Lawson's money.

Isn't it delightful to see the Democrats once more living together in perfect peace and harmony?

The average circulation for every day of June, 1903, was	35,271

CAUSE AND EFFECT.

The Times printed in June, just past, 116 more columns of paid matter than for the corresponding month of 1903, or a total of 2789 columns. This was 200 per cent. more than one of the other morning papers, 133 per cent. more than the other, and 33 1-3 per cent. more than both of them combined.

There are doubtless many reasons for this phenomenal increase in the business of The Times. The fact that it has a larger legitimate circulation than any other three daily papers printed in Los Angeles, and therefore brings advertisers greater results in proportion to the cost of advertising in its columns than does any other paper, is no doubt the chief reason for its large increase of business. It is possible, however, that among the minor causes which have contributed toward this large increase in business is the fact that the Los Angeles Express devoted over forty columns of its more or less valueless space, as shown by actual measurement, to abusing The Times and telling lies about it, its owners and its business. It is perhaps one of the few instances where space in this evening sheet has proved beneficial to the interests to which it has been devoted. The Times believes in giving credit where credit is due, and if there has been one instance proved of benefit, The Times freely gives credit.

CASE OF JAPANESE POACHERS.

HONOLULU, July 6, via San Francisco, July 12.—Acting Gov. Atkinson has been making an investigation of the situation at Lisiansky Island, from which the revenue cutter Thetis rescued a lot of Japanese poachers. The island is legally a part of the Territory of Hawaii, and the Territory may offer it for lease under terms which will preserve the birds from extermination.

REAL ESTATE NUMBER.

The Times will issue, during the fore part of August, a special Real Estate Number. The subject matter and illustrations will be devoted entirely to city and suburban lands, country property, building industries and real estate enterprises, past progress and future prospects. A graphic history of the development of the Southwest during the last quarter century will be made one of the principal features of the publication, and no effort or expense will be spared to make the facts contained in this special edition authentic and informing. It will be essentially a publication for the prospective homeseeker and settler.

Advertisers desiring space in this number should consult the Business Department early, as only a limited amount of advertising will be received for it.

It is the intention of the publishers to mail a copy of this special number to a selected list of over 20,000 persons now living at a distance.

SEVENTH DISTRICT CONGRESSMAN.

CONVENTION CALL TO BE SENT OUT NEXT WEEK.

Los Angeles Will Be the Place and Middle of August the Date—Los Angeles Democrats Arranging for Ratification Meeting—What's Going On.

J. M. Clark of Pasadena, chairman of the Republican Congressional Committee of the Seventh District, stated that a meeting of the committee will be held at the Hollenbeck Hotel, Los Angeles, the first of next week, for the purpose of selecting a place for holding the Congressional convention and fixing the date thereof. Los Angeles will no doubt be selected as the place, and the date will be between the 15th and 20th of August. There being but two logical places for holding the convention—Los Angeles and Pasadena—and it having been held in Pasadena two years ago, Los Angeles will no doubt be selected.

The committee as at present constituted is practically the same as the one the past four years, J. M. Clark, chairman; Dr. Walter Lindley, Oscar Lawler, M. H. Flint, T. E. Newlin, John Vaughn, John Norton, A. T. Currier, Dr. George Campbell and W. A. Wright. The committee will meet, name the place for holding the convention, and fix upon the date, and adjourn.

NOISE OF UNWASHED.

DEMOCRATS TO RATIFY.

The local Democrats are preparing to get together and shout for Parker and Davis. A meeting of a committee appointed for such arrangements was held yesterday afternoon in the office of M. K. Young, chairman of the County Central Committee. Plans are as yet in embryo but the demonstration will probably be on the night of Saturday the 23d inst.

"We are hoping to have D. L. Delmas of San Francisco for a speaker on that occasion," said Chairman Young yesterday.

FLINT'S PETITION.

BURNHAM CIRCULATOR.

The petition asking Frank P. Flint to be a candidate for United States Senator was circulated by one R. W. Burnham, local representative of Dun's Agency. Burnham bore down on business men—and of course they wanted a good rating. If Mr. Flint wishes to make headway he would better report to other men and other measures.

POPULAR QUERIES AND EXPERT ANSWERS.

QUERIES CONTRIBUTED TO THE TIMES.

Answers to legitimate questions in mineralogy, chemistry or mining will be given here, but only when of interest to the public or commercial world. Personal questions, how-to-do-it, dealers and mineral companies, or coal, minerals, earths or metals of supposed value, and assays for metal, will not be answered, but should be referred to reliable and assayers. Address The Times.

Silver Plating.

WILLOW (Ariz.) July 1, 1904.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I have several so-called formulas for "silver plating." Will you give me list of chemicals and method, which you regard as reliable and greatly oblige,

A STUDENT.

ANSWER. That of Long's. "Dissolve 1 gm. of silver nitrate in about 20 c.c. of water. Make a solution of 2 gm. of commercial potassium cyanide in 20 c.c. of water and mix the two solutions, stirring well. Allow to settle and then pour off two portions of the clear liquid of about 35 c.c. each. To one add a few drops of dilute silver nitrate solution. If a precipitate forms here it shows that too much cyanide has been added. In this case add both portions to the main liquid and a little more silver solution as long as a precipitate appears to form. To the other hand, if the silver nitrate solution does not make a precipitate, add a little cyanide solution to the small portion of liquid poured. The precipitate should show here, indicating an excess of silver in the mixture. Add both small portions to the original, and after settling add gradually, and a very little at a time, some of the solution as long as a precipitate forms. Be careful not to add more than this. Allow the precipitate to settle thoroughly, pour off the liquid, and wash the residue by decantation several times. This gives us silver cyanide in nearly pure condition. Now dissolve 15 to 20 gm. of commercial potassium cyanide in 200 c.c. of water and add this to the moist silver cyanide in a beaker or bottle. The latter goes into solution, forming the desired double cyanide with an excess of potassium cyanide left. Finally, dilute the solution with water to make a liter."

The articles to be plated are hung by copper wires into this bath and attached to the zinc pole of a battery of Bunsen or chromate cells. The current is led into the solution from the zinc pole through a plate of metallic silver. By this arrangement silver dissolves from the plate as fast as it is deposited on the article, thus keeping the solution of nearly constant strength. To insure an even deposit the article should be moved frequently to bring all parts in turn, near the silver electrode.

The deposit thus formed has a rough "matt" surface and can be given the usual smooth finish by rubbing with whiting or other polishing powder. On removing the plated article from the bath it is washed thoroughly in clean water and dried in an atmosphere free from tarnishing gases. The reason of many failures in silver plating is the fact of using salts improperly dried.

Value of Mo.

BLAKE (Cal.) July 4, 1904.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Please give me information on the following points: Is the present of Mo. averaging 10 per cent. likely to become valuable? Is it likely that the sulphide process, or Delprat process, or the oil process could be used to make a success of extracting the metal?

Respectfully yours, L. B. DE W.

ANSWER. Replying to your first question: "Deposits of Molybdenite containing 10 per cent." are valuable. In 1900 the production of metallic molybdenum in the United States amounted to 22,000 pounds, and that year were valued at the place of production at $46,000 and $12,000, respectively. These products were obtained from ores which carried on the average 5 per cent. of the metal and were worth $240 per long ton." The Crown Mining Company of Seattle, Wash., produced "ten or twelve tons in 1901 and 1902, respectively," and with the exception of a few pounds mined for experimental purposes this is the entire out-[illegible] the production of metallic [illegible] in the United States [illegible] to 22,000 pounds, and that [illegible] Molybdenum to 11,000 pounds, [illegible] were valued at the place of [illegible] at $46,000 and $12,000, respectively. These products were obtained [illegible] which carried on the average [illegible] per cent. of the metal and were [illegible] per long ton." The Crown Mining Company of Seattle, [illegible] produced "ten or twelve tons [illegible] 1902, respectively," and [illegible] exception of a few [illegible] for experimental purposes [illegible] in the entire [illegible] put from deposits in the United States for the years mentioned. Prices have varied from $1500 to $100 per ton 50 to 55 per cent. ore, but now that the values of Molybdenum alloys have been demonstrated this grade of ore will likely be in demand at from $100 to $200 per ton.

Either of the processes mentioned may be used. In this, as in other commercial ores, distance from railroad, water, wood and other fuel, freight rates, etc., must be taken into consideration. It appears from experience that where moylbdenite flakes are of large size, in deposits, that such amount is but little when it comes to tonnage. If your deposit, averaging 10 per cent., could be "cobbled" to 25 or 40 per cent. you would find a market. One of the latest methods of shaping this ore for market is by crushing and dry concentration.

Beryllium.

REDDING, July 4, 1904.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Please describe "Beryllium." Give me a named specimen.

Yours truly, W. Y.

ANSWER. It is a metal found in many rare minerals. Beryl has a vitreous lustre, with a blue, white, yellow, red or green color. In hardness 7.5 (scratches glass.) Formula: Three of beryllium, two of aluminum and silicon tri-oxide, six. Its density is 2.7. Becomes clouded b.b., but some species are unchanged. In powder on platinum vire with b.b. flame and borax, a glass bead is formed which is clear (if specimen be beryl,) and green if emerald.) Not affected by single acids.

"The term emerald is applied to transparent beryls with a green tinge, while if they have a blue color they are called aquamarins." There are many so-called aquamarins on the market which are simply Utah topaz.

Tanret's Reagent.

WILLIAMS (Ariz.) July 2, 1904.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Please give formula for "Tanret's reagent" and oblige.

Yours truly, M. D.

ANSWER. There are two Tanret reagents. Possibly you desire the special reagent for albumin testing, known as "potassio-mercuric iodide." It follows: "Potassium iodide, 3.32 gm.; mercuric chloride, 1.35 gm.; distilled water, 64 c.c.; acetic acid, 20 c.c."

Test for Gold.

ALBUQUERQUE (N. M.) July 2, 1904.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Please give me qualitative test for gold without mercury.

Respectfully, J. F. H.

ANSWER. If free, pan the gravel. The following method, from the Mining Reporter of Denver, is most excellent: "Pulverize the mineral finely, add a dozen large flakes of iodine and about the same number of potassium iodide granules; then about four ounces water. Shake or stir and let stand for a few hours. Take a piece of thin white blotting paper and saturate with the solution of iodine. Let the paper dry. Burn it and examine the color of the ashes. If purple in color the mineral will contain some gold; if the paper is gilded the mineral will contain much gold." Iodine is one of the "lost ingredients" of the "Wynn process," which was never correctly reported.

20 to 30 per cent. saved on blankets bought now

Out of season? That's the very best time to buy blankets—for the mills, during their "slack" season, are glad to let their surplus stocks go at heavy cash discount.

And we, in turn, are willing to narrow our profits in order to force a heavy business during what would otherwise be an extremely dull month.

All in all, it means a clear saving of 20 to 30 per cent. from prices that must be gotten a little later.

Five-pound wool blankets in eleven-quarter size—white, with colored borders and silk-taped edges — good big value at the regular price, $3.50 a pair, now $2.85

LAND SOLD IN MOUNTAINS.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY NEAR SQUIRREL INN.

Hotel Proprietor Sued for Damages by Man Who Avers He was Injured by Being Forcibly Ejected from the Hostelry—Plaintiff Loses Water Suit Long Neglected.

SAN BERNARDINO, July 12.—Dr. J. N. Bayless, this afternoon closed a deal for the purchase of the Smithson ranch, comprising 160 acres, which abutts the Squirrel Inn property on the San Bernardino Mountains. It is the intention to subdivide the land into building lots and establish a summer colony.

This tract, with the exception of 120 acres belonging to the Squirrel Inn Association, is the only tract on the mountains within a short drive of town, thickly covered with timber.

A scheme to build an electric road is now on foot and surveyors are on the ground running lines for the route.

OUSTED—WANTS DAMAGES.

Col. Ed Dunham, proprietor of the Stewart Hotel, is made defendant in a suit filed this afternoon by James O'Brien, who prays for $5000 damages for a broken hip, sustained several months ago by being thrown from the hotel by an attaché.

O'Brien was supposed to have been intoxicated at the time, and making himself obnoxious about the hotel.

NEGLECTED THE INCH.

A suit over an inch of water in Yucaipe, which was commenced four years ago, was thrown out of court this morning by Judge Oster, the defendants proving that the plaintiffs had slept on their rights since the action was instituted. Four years ago Manuel Joseph commenced an action against George Brown, William Spoor and the Southern Pacific to quiet title to the water and the defendants obtained judgment. Later the plaintiff filed an amended complaint and a motion for a new trial, and permitted the matter to rest at that juncture until this morning, when he came into court to argue his motion. The original papers in the case have disappeared from the County Clerk's office, and as there was no proof that a motion for a new trial had ever been filed the court was not disposed to accept the oath of the prosecution, and granted a written motion from the defense dismissing the case.

CLOUD OF WITNESSES.

Juan Moya, the Chino Mexican, who was convicted last week of robbing a fellow countryman of $3.15, was this morning sentenced to the penitentiary for eight years. His attorney made a plea for mercy, in support of which he brought into court a horde of Mexican women, men and children, claiming relationship with the prisoner, who testified as to his previous good character.

LONG SUIT—SMALL STAKE.

The suit of the Hesperia Land and Water Company against Ament Gardner, which has been in the courts for five years, going back and forth between the township court of Hesperia and the Superior Court, was argued on appeal this morning, the Superior Court denying the motion of the defendant's attorney, and ordering the action heard in the Superior Court. The attorney has filed notice of appeal to the Supreme Court for a writ of prohibition to prevent the case coming to trial in the Superior Court. This case has become noteworthy from the fact that it has been in court so long, and is over the small sum of $32.50.

SAN BERDOO BRIEFS.

The residence of J. W. Hanford was entered yesterday by thieves who secured a quantity of money and jewelry. This is the second time within a few months that the residence has been entered. In neither case have arrests been made.

County Surveyor Cook has a force of men engaged laying road out in El Rincon section, one of the oldest frequented regions in the State. The present road was traveled by the early Spaniards. The Supervisors are securing right-of-way all along these old roads, intending to keep them in repair.

Susie and John Light have commenced action against Paul Schoebel to recover $2000 alleged to be due on a contract under the terms of which it is alleged the defendant agreed to buy a certain Redlands orange grove, and after paying $500 down, promised to keep the grove in condition until he had made the final payment.

REDLANDS.

PACKING-HOUSES TO CLOSE.

REDLANDS, July 11.—Apricot drying is still going forward with a rush and this week will see the work completed. The employés at the Gregory drying-house laid off Sunday for the first time since the season opened. The season is on at Highland in full swing, and the three different outfits there are running to their greatest capacity. The fruit is averaging well, and the season promises to be most satisfactory. The drying-houses will probably all close for the summer as soon as the apricots are disposed of, for there will be no work this year drying either peaches or plums, as the crops are said to be practically failures.

JUNIORS' OUTING.

The Y.M.C.A. Juniors, who are occupying the association camp in Mill Creek send back glowing accounts of the good times, that are being enjoyed. Baseball, quoits, fishing and hiking parties serve, with nature studies and evening campfires, to vary the hours, and then three times a day and between times they eat. A party of fifteen boys took a tramp through the tunnel to the abandoned gold mine, and an expedition up Greyback is due tomorrow or next day. Rev. George Robertson of Mentone, who is with the party is a geologist of note, and is giving the boys talks on such topics. Friday is visitors' day for parents.

REDLANDS NOTES.

Deputy County Clerk Post opened a branch registration bureau in this city last evening for the convenience of the Redlands citizens. The office will be open every evening until September 5.

A real estate transfer of local importance that has just been made public concerns a lot and two-story brick building on the south side of East State street, between Orange and Fifth streets. The property, which belonged to the Sun Drug Company of Los Angeles, passed into the hands of A. L. Hubbard.

Walter M. Campbell was called to his old home in Tennessee last week by a telegram announcing that his mother was very ill. Word was received from him this morning that he arrived Saturday, but that his mother was buried the Thursday before. Mrs. Campbell and children will leave Wednesday to join Mr. Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Bond Francisco of Hollywood and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Pemberton of Los Angeles came up Monday morning, and took the stage for Seven Oaks, where they will remain a month.

Building permits issued in Redlands this year up to date aggregate $224,109.

SANTA ANA.

REFUSED A FRANCHISE.

SANTA ANA, July 12.—The third application of the United States Long Distance Telephone and Telegraph Company for a franchise to operate upon the streets and highways of Orange county was turned down by the Board of Supervisors this morning. Manager Porterfield and attorneys were present to urge the claims of the company, but after their arguments a motion by Supervisor Smith that the franchise be granted failed to receive a second and the matter was dropped. The point at issue between the 'phone company and the board is the demand of the latter that the county be granted free telephones on the Home system in exchange for the franchise. This the Long Distance company refuses to do, claiming that they are a company separate and distinct from the Home, although they act as long-distance connection for it. The continued refusal of the Supervisors to grant a franchise will probably lead to the company's putting in their line without a franchise, and such a course on their part will cause the Supervisors to order injunction proceedings against them.

NEW LIBRARY BOARD.

The board in future will meet on the second Monday in the month instead of the first Monday.

MARRIED FIFTY YEARS.

Mr. and Mrs. George R. Smith were pleasantly surprised at their rooms in the Richmond last night by a company of friends, who called to celebrate the golden anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Smith's wedding, which occurred at Dowagiac, Mich., on July 11, 1854. Many tokens of esteem were presented by friends. Their daughter, Mrs. Ella Fyfe of Los Angeles, was present and a telegram was received from their son, Congressman William Alden Smith of Grand Rapids, Mich.

VENTURA.

HIGHBINDER CAPTURED.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

VENTURA, July 12.—Sheriff McMartin rounded up a murderous Chinaman yesterday, one Lum Lin, who tried to kill two of his countrymen in Saticoy on Saturday night, and the latest report is that one of his victims will die of his wound. The highbinder wanted to wipe off the earth one Lum Lung and other Chinese, name unknown. Late on Saturday evening he went to the store of E. Ging in Saticoy, the Chinese headquarters of the place, where some two dozen Chinese had gathered for a rubber at fan-tan. Through the front window he opened fire on Lum Lung. The bullet found lodgement in the victim's thigh, and he fell to the floor. Thinking he had killed his man the highbinder turned his pistol on his other victim, and though he fired right into the bunch of Chinese, his bullet did not take effect. Then he made away in the darkness.

The Sheriff was notified, and started out to hunt up the fellow. His search led him to the Chinese gardens above Santa Paula, where he found the man and took him in. On his way to this city he went by way of Saticoy, where the highbinder was fully identified by his countrymen. He was brought to the county seat and locked up. Later word came that the wounded Chinese would die, and today the District Attorney went to Saticoy to take his deposition.

That said pipes shall be of iron or steel, and shall be of sufficient strength to withstand a pressure of not less than fifteen hundred pounds to the square inch, and shall be laid with air-tight joints which shall be made so close as to withstand a pressure of fifteen hundred pounds to the square inch without leaking.

That said pipes shall be laid at all points not less than five feet below the established grade of the streets, alleys or places where they are laid; that said pipes shall not be laid nearer to any sewer or water pipe than eighteen inches at any point; that said pipes shall be laid in conformity with the instructions and to the satisfaction of the Street Superintendent of said city; that all excavations for laying, moving and repairing said pipes, or any of them, shall be done in such a manner as not to interfere with the free use of the streets by the public, except such temporary interference as may be necessarily incident to the proper prosecution of said work. That all excavations shall be made, and refilled in strict compliance with the ordinances which may be then and there in force at the time of the performance of said work, and that the grantee of this franchise and his or its successors and assigns, shall make or cause to be made to the City Treasurer as may be from time to time required from persons making excavations in the streets of said city, for the purpose of insuring the restoration of said streets to good and perfect condition along said excavations.

That said pipe shall never, at any time, be used for the conveyance or transmission of refrigerating material at a lower temperature than 25 degrees Fahrenheit, or be subjected to a pressure of more than two hundred and fifty pounds to the square inch, that the City Engineer, or any of his duly-authorized deputies, or the City Inspector, shall have the right, at all times, to inspect the pumping machinery that may be used for the purpose of pumping or transmitting refrigerating materials through said pipes, and to ascertain the pressure to which said pipes are being subjected at the time of such inspection, and also to apply such pressure tests to said pipes as they may deem necessary, and that if, at any time, any of said pipes shall be subjected to a pressure exceeding two hundred and fifty pounds to the square inch, except at times when pressure tests may be applied under the direction or supervision of the City Engineer, the franchise herein proposed to be granted and all rights thereunder, shall be forfeited.

That in the event that a change of grade, the laying of any sewer, or the making of any other improvement in any of the streets, lanes and alleys in which said pipes may be laid, shall, in the opinion of the Street Superintendent of said city, render necessary any change in the position of said pipes, the said grantee or his or its successors and assigns shall shift or move the same at his, its or their own cost and expense in conformity with the instructions of said Street Superintendent of the said Street Superintendent, and in case the said grantee, or his, or its successors or assigns shall fail to comply with the instructions given by said official for ten days after service thereof upon the said grantee or his, or its successors or assigns, or upon the manager or agent of said grantee, or of his, or its successors or assigns in Los Angeles, he, the said official, may do the work as ordered by the City Council of the City of Los Angeles. PASADENA MUST PAY THE BILLS.

10 STREETS FOUND TO BE RATHER EXPENSIVE.

Officials Undecided as to How Continue the Work—New Bank Going to Be Erected—Active Boom for Altadena Property. R. Charter Held Up.

PASADENA, Office of The Times, No. 67 East Raymond avenue, July 13.—At yesterday's session of the City Council Expert T. F. White read a report of the work done on Fair Oaks avenue, and expressed great surprise that it should have cost $384.45 per 100 feet of the avenue. The commissioner explained at length why the work had been so expensive, lack of time being the chief reason assigned. Superintendent of Streets Brown answers this with the statement that Mr. White was his own boss, and if the work was delayed it was not the fault of the city, which must pay the bill.

The Lincoln-avenue road there were used 215 barrels of oil at 80 cents per barrel, 10 yards of sand at $1 a yard, and $12.45; total, $384.45. "This is," says Mr. White, "owing to difficulties that have been pretty well overcome, is considerably more than it would be. But in the interest of my belief that the work can be done, under proper conditions, for very much less and done in a more satisfactory manner, I will recommend to do the balance of Lincoln avenue from the southern terminus of Fair Oaks avenue to prevare, oil mixed, at a total cost not to exceed $1 a mile (a little less than 16 cents per square foot or 8 cents per lineal foot) all to be done in a workmanlike manner. And should the Council adopt this, I will obligate myself that the amount in excess. Of the 'piece done,' continues Mr. White, 'shows nothing, unless under the oiling proposition, and I am sure that will be an injustice to the oiling process of this class of roads. If we can save money in cost, workmanship, we will quit trying to build oiled roads and cease to advocate their use." A letter of Mr. White was received and filed in silence. However, the Council ordered to advertise for bids for the purchase of one of the sprinkling machines for use on the streets.

CITY HALL MISCELLANY.

Petitions from property owners on Fair Oaks avenue, asking that that thoroughfare be oiled, was received.

A permit was issued to Edith Hall Bell to erect a fourteen-room dwelling and store building at the corner of Hill and Raymond avenue.

Petitions were asked the Council to compel the Southern California Edison Company, alleging a double service, were taken providing for the oiling of North Orange Grove avenue, the property owners on the east side of the avenue to move their houses back to conform to the new property line. The Pasadena Land and Water Company is not molested.

Ordinance No. 2 (New Series.) "Locust Tract," L. P. Fair's addition, was accepted, as was also Platt's Orchard tract. That eleven (11) culverts be constructed on the Pico street to be located as follows: One (1) of said culverts shall extend from the curb return at the northeast corner of Pico street and Hill street to the curb return at the southeast corner of said Pico street and Hill street. One (1) of said culverts shall extend from the curb return at the northwest corner of said Pico street to the curb return at the southwest corner of said Pico street and Wisconsin, and one (1) of said culverts shall extend from the curb return at the northeast corner of said Pico street and Magnolia avenue, and one (1) of said culverts shall extend from the curb return at the northwest corner of said Pico street and Grand avenue to the curb return at the southeast corner of said Pico street and Grand avenue. One (1) of said culverts shall extend from the curb return at the southwest corner of said Pico street and Grand avenue to the curb return at the southeast corner of said Pico street and Figueroa street. EVENTS IN SOCIETY.

LAST evening Mrs. Katharine Cook of No. 2645 Normandie avenue was the hostess at a delightful musicale given in honor of the talented and charming young contralto, Miss Delia Plumstead, who intends next month to leave for Europe, where she will continue her musical studies for four years. The house was a bower of sweet blossoms and in the reception hall flags of Europe were over the stair rail. Scarlet geraniums in low bowls added bright color and pepper foliage was over the doors and in the windows. The parlor, which itself is a delightfully artistic low-ceiled room, contained quantities of pink roses, and ferns. On the piano a great cut-glass bowl was filled with pink roses, and on tables and in baskets were arranged in graceful clusters many of the bright blooms. Pepper foliage was over the picture frames and windows, and in the library pink and white sweet peas over the mantel and bookcases made a gay finish. The dining-room was particularly attractive with bright baskets of sweet peas about the apartment, and in the center of the highly-polished table was a French basket filled with pink blooms and ferns and tied with pink tulle. Pink and white refreshments were served. An interesting programme was rendered with Miss Plumstead giving a number of selections. Miss Bonnie Eloise Erb, the charming young contralto from Denver, also furnished much cause for approval. Among others who contributed were Miss Hard, who recited, and Miss Knox, who sang. Mrs. Cook, who has studied in Europe, gave several piano selections. During the evening some of the young girls in evening gowns served punch from a bowl set in a bower of green ferns. Mrs. Cook was assisted in receiving at this pretty affair by Mrs. S. T. Weir of Hollywood, Mrs. George Erb of Denver, Mrs. Elder and Miss Plumstead.

There have been dinners, dances and numerous other social functions given for this charming young debutante, and she will not come home for some time as she is so busy being rushed here and there by many admirers. Miss Tutt has an excellent voice, which was often heard here, and already in St. Louis she is delighting that city by a display of her talent. Miss Tutt's mother, Mrs. Iva E. Tutt, recently returned from a visit to Kern county, and is at the Angelus at present.

Married at Ranch Home.

A marriage of much interest was solemnized last evening at the home of Mrs. John Bixby at Alamitos ranch, when Miss Susanna Bixby became the bride of Dr. Earnest A. Bryant. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Benjamin Bazata of Alhambra, and during the service Lowinsky's orchestra rendered music. After and before the nuptials the wedding marches were rendered. Miss Bixby was attended by her friend, Miss Bessie Palmer of San Francisco, who wore white mull with lace trimmings. The bride wore an exquisite creation of soft satin with trimmings of Duchesse lace, and carried white Bride roses. The groom was attended by Dr. F. K. Ainsworth of San Francisco. The wedding took place in the old ranch home, which is somewhat on the Spanish style, and the decorations here were artistic and in keeping with the house. The ceremony was witnessed by only a few very intimate friends and relatives. Among them were, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Graves of Alhambra, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Connell, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Dunn, Mrs. H. L. Bixby and F. J. Shepard of Los Angeles nad relatives in Long Beach. Dr. and Mrs. Bryant expect to leave soon for a wedding trip, intending to be away about a month. After that they will make their home in this city, at No. 904 West Twenty-eighth street. Both Dr. Bryant and his bride are well-known society folk. Mrs. Bryant has for some time made her home in San Francisco with her mother, Mrs. John Bixby, and has been popular in that city. She belongs to the Bixby family of Long Beach, which is numbered among the pioneers there, and in fact once upon a time owned nearly all of Long Beach. Miss Bixby, though not known very well in Los Angeles, has occasionally been the guest of her cousin, Mrs. H. L. Bixby of No. 24 St. James Park, and in that way has made a number of friends. Dr. Bryant is popular both professionally and socially.

Dalzell-Whitcomb.

A wedding elegant and artistic in its appointments and ideal in its setting, took place at Glendora yesterday afternoon, when Miss Leadora Whitcomb became the wife of Walter Dalzell, junior partner in the firm of Whitcomb Manufacturing Company of Chicago. The ceremony took place at the "White House," the beautiful home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George D. Whitcomb. A Gothic window of dark greenery had been formed in the drawing-room, and before this an altar effect was arranged, with tall pillars of green crowned with great baskets of white carnations and ferns. Festoons of asparagus plumosus suspending many tiny flower-filled baskets extended from the center of the room to the pillars. Six maidens in white held the ribbons which formed an aisle for the bridal party. Just preceding the ceremony Mrs. Roth Hamilton sang "Call Me Thine Own," and then a processional of eight young women in white slowly descending the stairs sang the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin." Then came the bride's mother, leaning on the arm of her son, Carroll S. Whitcomb. After the minister, Rev. Dr. George F. Bovard and the groom Walter Dalzell, and his best man, Charles Benton Dickerson of Chicago, had taken their places at the altar, the bridesmaids entered one by one. The first and third bridesmaids were dressed in white silk net over white silk. The others were in white dotted net over green silk. The gowns were fashioned in 1830 style and each maid carried a bouquet of maidenhair ferns. The bridesmaids were Miss Frances Whitlock, Los Angeles; Miss Alice Marston, Pasadena; Miss Blanche Whitcomb, Chicago, and Miss Virginia Whitcomb, a sister of the bride. Miss Elizabeth Whitcomb, a sister of the bride, entered as maid of honor, followed by little Mignon Hamilton and Dorothy Whitcomb, a niece of the bride, as ring bearers. Last came the bride on the arm of her father. The impressive double-ring ceremony of the full Episcopal service was performed. The party then passed out to the veranda while the peals of Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" rang out. Beneath a rose bower the bridal couple received the congratulations of guests as they emerged to the lawn beneath the shade of the wide-spread ing pepper trees a supper was served. After the ceremony the bride threw her shower bouquet of white sweet peas from the veranda to her maids on the terraced lawn below. The bouquet fell apart into five sections and each part was found to contain a favor, the favors being a ring, a gold thimble, a golden key, a pen and a coin, signifying in turn, first married, bachelor maid, key to success, fame and riches. The bride's gown was of imported lace over white chiffon, and she wore a tulle veil caught by a pearl and diamond sunburst, the gift of the groom. The bride's mother wore a handsome gown of gray asolian over gray silk.

Mrs. Dickerson of Chicago, sister of the groom, wore an elaborate gown of white silk net over white silk trimmed with blue chiffon roses.

The matrons of honor who acted as assistant hostesses were Mmes. Charles Benton Dickerson of Chicago, Carrol S. Whitcomb of Glendora, Roth Hamilton of Los Angeles, Don C. Porter of Pasadena, William Armstrong and Edward J. Price of Los Angeles, George Ed. Coleman of San Dimas and Marshall Stimson of Glendora.

The ushers were Messrs. Franl Harwood of Ontario, Earl W. Garrison of Redlands, George Sumner of Claremont, Charles Gordon of Glendora and Henry Gray Whitlock of Los Angeles. An orchestra rendered music during the afternoon. The young women singing the "Bridal Chorus" were Miss Helen Tappe, Miss Ruth Yerger, Miss Violet Tracy, Mrs. Roth Hamilton, Mrs. Herbert Requa and Mrs. Alexander Downer. The ribbon bearers were Misses Beulah Price and Marion Bovard of Los Angeles, Miss Diana Gordon, Miss Daisy Gordon, Bessie May Whitcomb and Orlena Whitcomb of Glendora. The latter two are nieces of the bride.

The guests numbered 300 and included the old families from all the countryside. A special car from Los Angeles brought many from a distance. The bride received over one hundred costly presents. A gift from the groom's mother was a chest of silver. The bride's father gave as a wedding present $5000 worth of stock in the G. D. Whitcomb Manufacturing Company of Chicago.

The bride is very prominent in social and musical circles, both in Glendora and in Los Angeles. The couple left last evening for a year's tour in Europe.

Wedding at St. John's.

Last evening a pretty wedding was solemnized at St. John's Church, the contracting parties being Miss Minnie Haims and Fred F. Breese. Rev. Dr. Ridgeley performed the ceremony. The quaint little church was filled with many fragrant flowers and on the altar were banked white sweet peas, while the pews were marked with greenery. The bride was becomingly attired in a soft fluffy frock of white mull made with much shirring, and long droopy sleeves, and elaborately trimmed with lace. In her arms she carried a sheaf bouquet of white carnations. The maid of honor, who was Miss Sigrid Johnson, wore a simple gown of white organdie and carried pink carnations. The best man was a brother of Mr. Breese, G. L. Breese. During the ceremony subdued music was rendered and after the service the couple left immediately for San Diego, where they will remain for about two weeks. After that they will make their home in this city. Both young people are well known here. Although the bride is an eastern girl and has only been here for the past two years, she has made many friends.

Picnic Surprise.

A host of women went to Ocean Park yesterday morning loaded with baskets filled with all sorts of good things and surprised Mrs. William J. Scholl with a picnic party. They were the members of the Treble Clef Club, and the affair was planned as a surprise for their beloved president, Mrs. Scholl. The guests spent the afternoon wandering on the beach and some of them enjoyed a dip in the surf. And luncheon! Well, that was a truly love feast for their impromptu toasts, and, as is usual, Mrs. Scholl lead the company with her ready wit and gracious tact. The table actually did groan, and flowers, all brought from Los Angeles, were in the center and about the rooms. Greatly surprised was the charming little president when she was greeted by the large party of merry women, and it was a delightful afternoon, spent with songs and on the beach.

The clerks now have two associations, the one already established being Branch 57, United National Association of Postoffice Clerks. Branch 57 attends to the material interests and advancement of the clerks in their quest for an eight-hour day and for a fairer compensation for their labor. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. M.
